Late reports indicate a decided improvement in the flu situation in this State. Many towns where the disease was epidemic report conditions much improved.

Immunity to Hog Cholera Lasting.

A series of recent experiments on duration of immunity to hog cholera following simultaneous inoculation of young pigs supports the conclusion that the protection is lasting.

Altogether 171 pigs, inoculated within a week to six weeks old and exposed to hog cholera at times varying from 5 months to 9 months and 26 days later, were found without exception to be immune to that disease.

There was no apparent ill effect from the simultaneous inoculation in any of the pigs.

Pigs that were approximately one week old received 10 cubic centimeters of anti-hog cholera serum and 1/4 c. c. of virus. Pigs that were three weeks old or more received from 15 to 20 c. c. of serum and from 1/2 to 3/4 c. c. of virus.

Immunity was tested by injecting 5 c. c. of virus into the animals when they had attained weights exceeding in many cases 300 pounds. None of the hogs contracted cholera.

Claring Ingratitude.

Under the heading "Ghouls" a good name for it—the Greensboro News says the following: While the world might say that their resting places in France these months is the most appropriate place for the bodies of our American lads who gave themselves a living sacrifice for the Great Ideal, and while this view is attractively to us, nevertheless one can readily understand the feelings of those whose loved ones left in all the pride of magnificent manhood—and never came back; who yearn to know and feel that their dead are in home fold, near them, where they may go to weep and pray.

Young James Devera, of Chicago, found it easy enough to go to France. His country was clamorous with his calls for men. He went and gave his all. His mother desired that his body be brought home, and she went to France, some time since, to get it. Frenchmen, for whose national existence Devera died, proffered shamelessly whenever this mother desired anything done looking to the removal of the body. French officials, in the absence of legal provisions regarding the removal of bodies, were bribed to release the bones of the youth who had died for them.

Mr. W. E. White of Mebane received a boost for Republican candidate for Governor a few days ago, and in a card in the Sunday Daily News he declines to be a candidate. Mr. White is one of the foremost business men of Mebane, one of the leading Republicans in this section of the State, and one of Alamance's best citizens.

Sneezed and Got a Shake.

Wilson, Feb. 23.—Saturday afternoon a farmer entered a Wilson barber shop and on taking in the situation found all of the chairs full and a long line waiting for the tonsorial artist to call "next." Seeing no chance for a quick "scrape" and having a long way to go he resorted to strategy. Placing his hands on his hips he slammed up and down the shop muttering: "This flu will kill me yet; I should have taken my wife's advice and remained in bed longer." Then rapidly he sneezed, three times—ker chew! Kercheo! Ker-cho-ah-h!!! The crowd rushed out and four chairs were emptied of men "half raked over." Turning to the few who remained he remarked: "Gentlemen, I am thankful to say that neither myself or family have had the dread malady."

HOW TO REACH RHEUMATISM THROUGH THE BLOOD

Powerful Iron in liquid form makes rich, red blood and drives uric acid out of the system forever.

It is now generally known that Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is formed in the blood and deposited through thousands of little capillaries and nerves in different parts of the body. If you have healthy, rich, red, strong blood, you will never have Rheumatism. Healthy blood eliminates uric acid, and does not allow it to stay in the body to cripple and pain. The successful and reliable method of getting this great essential into the blood is through the use of a natural form of soluble iron known as Acid Iron Mineral. The nerves are immediately strengthened, bodily vigor is restored and the general improvement of all ailing conditions prove that the blood is getting the iron it must have to maintain perfect health. With the blood thus made healthy, uric acid is eliminated and driven out of the system, even in cases where the trouble is of long standing, and has failed to respond to other methods of treatment.
