THE CONVENTION.

The days of the great Democratic national convention up to noon vesterday were taken up with building a platform, a job

Yesterday afternoon ten candidates were placed in nomination, among them Attorney General Palmer, Gov. Cox, Homer S. Cummins, Senator Hitchcock and Wm. G. McAdoo. There are yet others whose names will be presented. The

of his name.

It looks like McAdoo, but there is no telling what the convention will do.

That Judge B. F. Long is fit from every point of view to sit as a Justice of the Supreme Court is not questioned by any one. Legal learning, aptitude and application, with capacity and willingness to work, are prime requisites. Judge Long has all of them. His being a son of Alamance is another potent reason why he should have the vote of his fellow citizens in this county.

In the primary Saturday you vote for your choice for Democratic candidate for Governor. If Morrison leads in the State. he will be the nominee; and if Gardner leads he will be the nominee. So the primary nominates the candidate and every voter takes a part in the nominating.

CONVENTION SENDS MESSAGE TO PRESIDENT.

The Democratic National Con vention on Monday sent the following message of appreciation to President Wilson:

APPLYING VANCE'S ADVICE-OTHER REASONS.

Durham, N. C., June 16, 1920. Editor News and Observer:

I see that my old friend, Mr. James P. Cook of Concord is a candidate for State Auditor. If there is any virtue in Zeb. Vance's saying that "the horse that pulled the plow should have some of the fodder," then it should be applied in this instance. If long, faithful and unselfish service to the party, when he was in editorial harness when he was in editorial harness with a paper that led Democrats to victory in the past, without reward, or the hope of reward, can be counted as a recommendation, then James P. Cook has some claim on those he has helped into office. He has always been working for others. His greatest achievement was the idea, the planning and the establishment of planning and the establishment of the Jackson Training School for wayward boys. The State knows that work.

He is fully competent to fill the position to which he aspires—that of State Auditor. He is clean morally and mentally. He is thorough, painstaking and conscientious. He has the required ability to a marked degree, being thoroughly familiar with financial matters. He is the soul of honor and a friend to the friendless. In all matters affecting the less. In all matters affecting the best interests of the State, socially, morally and materially, he has been deeply interested, lending tends to the President of the United States its admiring and respectful greeting.

"For seven of the most fateful years in the history of our country Woodrow Wilson has occupied and, by his character, learning and power, has adorned the highest office in the gift of his country.
