Pope Urges Germany Be Treated With More Leniency for World's Sake.

FRANCE BECOMING ISOLATED

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

C ERTAIN officials of the government have declared that if foreign ships persist in the practice of bringing peverage liquors into American ports under seal, the vessels will be seized and the captains arrested. What do you think would be the effect of this on our diplomatic relations with other nations?

DOPE PIUS XI has added himself to the number of those who seek to persuade France to let up on Germany, taking the stand that justice, world peace and the interest of the creditors can best be served by a policy that will not exhaust the resources in the world court, in which he sugand impair the productiveness of the debtor nation.

Premier Poincare has been asserting that his policy was supported by the Vatican, but the pontiff, through the medium of a letter to Cardinal Gasparri, now refutes this claim and takes the same stand as that of the British government and Premier Mussolini of Italy-though the latter has been less insistent than Downing street.

In his letter the pope suggests that the amount of German reparations be determined by impartial judges furnished with adequate data and with means to control the reparations sums. He continues:

"Likewise, if it is just that creditors as will assure collections from which

The Fact Is That When You Get to Know a Man and His Surroundings-

By IRVIN COBB, in Motor.

IT AM constrained to believe from my own knowledge gained at the front and behind the lines of the soldiers of warring Europe, that had it been possible prior to 1914 for all the peoples of the Continent to possess the same abundance of cheap-priced cars which the run of human beings in this country can have, and had there been no artificial barriers at the national boundaries to keep neighbor from seeing neighbor, not even Prussian militarism could have driven all the eastern part of the world into a dreadful struggle.

The fact is that when you get to know a man and his surroundings -and you do know them better when you are riding in a car along a highroad than you ever can from a railroad train-you find out that the general run of human beings in one land is very much like the general run of human beings in almost any other.

Along with the prayer for everlasting peace which is going up from nearly every fireside where real Americans sit, is the prayer for a return to normal conditions in this country, for a curing of the evils which the last war loosed upon us industrially, socially, economically and financially. That is a good prayer and we should pray also for a thing that is spiritual, perhaps, but which has its material side as well, because out of it will grow material good. We should pray-every one of us-for a greater charity toward our fellow man, for a kindlier impulse for his shortcomings, and for a broader, wider understanding of him and his likes and dislikes.

Investment in Airplanes Abundantly Justified as Business Proposition

By BERTRAND RUSSELL, in the Freeman.

I think that the British and the Americans are apt to underestimate the influence of armies and navies. Take for instance the position at present of France, Germany and England in relation to one another.

France, by military force alone, has seized the Ruhr coal field; the Germans cannot resist because they are disarmed. Great Britain dislikes this policy, and also dislikes the repudiation by the French of their debt to the British. If the British possessed the necessary armaments, they would collect their debt from France by the same methods which the French are using against the Germans, or by a threat of these methods (if that proved sufficient). The British do not do so because they are afraid of French airplanes.

Thus the French, by means of armament alone, have been enabled (a) to avoid paying their share of the cost of the great war; (b) to seize the bulk of Germany's industrial resources. It would seem, therefore, that the investing of money in airplanes was abundantly justified as a business proposition.

"The Worst, but Only One of Many Discriminations Against Middle West"

By H. C. KESSINGER, Illinois State Senator.

Abolish Pittsburgh plus. Stop federal aid funds. Build St. Lawrence waterway. Elect midwestern man speaker of house, midwestern representation on federal reserve board (credits), and on interstate commerce commission (rates). Save the interurban lines. Regulate the railroads without destroying them.

"Pittsburgh plus" means Chicago minus. You can buy steel made in South Chicago, haul it in your own truck to your factory or farm, and on this steel made in Illinois you have to pay the freight from Pittsburgh.

It is the worst but only one of the many discriminations against the Middle West. We need a Middle West consciousness and solidarity, an aroused and organized public opinion to advance a Mid-West program for justice to our people in the matter of the making of tariffs, the levying of taxes, the spending of public funds, and the regulating of freight rates.

All federal aid funds are expensive for the Middle West. We get back only a small part of the money we contribute. Pittsburgh plus cost our part of the country more than $30,000,000 last year for fictitious freight rates on steel manufactured in the Chicago district.
