GRAHAM, N. C., June 12, 1924.

McLEAN LEADS.

McLean received an avalanche of votes in Saturday's primary. Latest reports give him a lead over Bailey of 68,000 with other precincts to hear from.

J. Elmer Long, candidate for Lieut.-Gov., leads the field by about 9,000, but does not have majority over his two competitors.

Judge Pell for corporation commissioner; Stacy W. Wade for insurance commissioner, and Baxter Durham for auditor are all nominated.

For attorney general, commissioner of agriculture and commissioner of labor and printing, there will have to be another primary.

REPUBLICANS IN CONVENTION.

The National Republican convention met in Cleveland, Ohio, Tuesday to nominate candidates for president and vice-president. Of course Mr. Coolidge will be nominated without opposition. That was a foregone conclusion almost from the day he took the oath of office upon the death of President Harding. Why he was selected for the sacrifice we can only surmise, but there was a time he would have been a formidable candidate. He let the opportunity pass. The standpatters beguiled him. He let himself lean heavily toward the monied interests. He made promises and could not carry them out. His party leaders would not let him. Enough voters of his own party are against him to defeat him.

ALAMANCE'S VOTE.

For Governor: McLean 1349, Bailey 491.

For Lieut. Gov.: Long 1618, Bowie 112, Reynolds 94.

For Auditor: Durham 886, Cook 874.

For Attorney Gen.: Brummitt 716, Ross 571, Frank Nash 474.

For Com'r Agri.: Latham 1345, Graham 352, Parker 74.

For Com'r Labor and Printing: Peterson 654, Grid 522, Shipman 450, L. M. Nash 123.

For Ins. Com'r: Wade 1418, Flowers 323.

For Corp. Com'r: Carpenter 1229, Pell 503.

Ex-Gov. Locke Craig, after a long illness, died Monday afternoon at home in Asheville. He was in his 64th year. He was Governor from 1913 to 1917. History will write him as one of the outstanding executives of the State.

Senator Borah of Idaho is acceptable to Mr. Coolidge for Vice-President and is likely to be his running mate.

The Republicans have accomplished very few things that they can "point with pride" to in their platform.

Tom Tarheel says that he is saving that big patch of pines on the back of his place to be cropped as any other field on the place. The wood trees are to be chopped out for firewood and the mature trees to be harvested as needed for timber.

LaFOLLETTE DREADED BY REPUBLICANS.

He Knows the West and the West Believes in Him.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, D. C., June 9.—Fear of LaFollette will haunt the managers of the Republican National Convention all this week and for the remainder of the presidential campaign, and yet there is nothing they can do to give themselves comfort or courage. LaFollette absent is sure to be a stronger influence than ever was LaFollette present.

The Senator from Wisconsin personifies and interprets the western States which have revolted against President Coolidge and the kind of Republicanism which he represents. Without the electoral votes of those States Coolidge runs under an almost hopeless handicap. And yet his backers and spokesmen at Cleveland can do next to nothing to keep the agricultural West in line for the Republican nominee this year.

Any attempt to write a platform or to promise legislation that would satisfy this recalcitrant and rebellious Republicanism of the West would instantly alienate certain Eastern groups which are expected to finance the Republican party this year as in the past. Nothing that the eastern contingent would accept will suit Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Montana, and Idaho. By the same token, what they demand would be rejected by the element which wants Coolidge.

LaFollette and his progressive Republican followers in Congress and out of it have all along looked to the Republican administration to give them the kind of taxation, agricultural relief, and other legislation they demand. The "regular" Republicans of Congress, plus the progressives whom LaFollette controls would have constituted an effective majority in behalf of the program that the latter have advocated. The failure of this program is blamed on President Coolidge and the Republican leaders of the House and the Senate. It will be LaFollette's plan to charge this responsibility directly to the Administration, since it is in normally Republican States that he must find his votes, and these must be won from Coolidge.

There will be efforts at compromise when the Republican platform is framed. The midwestern Republicans and those from the Pacific Coast will seek to write delphic declarations that may be read in one sense in the East and in quite another sense in the West. Though discounted in advance, this device will be adopted in the hope of "preventing Hell from overflowing east and West from its present center," as one Republican has already put it.

Whatever may be undertaken, it is pretty definitely provisioned, the Republican convention is quite as certain to give a start to LaFollette's campaign as it is to initiate Coolidge's.

Out from the West there continue to come reports of the disaffection among thousands of Republican farmers. Senator Moses of New Hampshire, who recently was in that section, brought back to Washington a dismal story of the difficulties Mr. Coolidge must face as the candidate of his party in practically all the region west of the Mississippi River. The political conditions there, from the Republican viewpoint, were as grave as the agricultural conditions, to which, in fact, they relate, Senator Moses told Republican leaders in Washington.

Neither the political prospect nor the agricultural situation is likely to be improved by the enactments of the Republican Congress. None of the legislation the farmers of the West have urged the Administration to give them has been passed. The forthcoming harvest in the West is expected to have the paradoxical effect rather of aggravating than alleviating the present distress of the farmers. They fear that the price of wheat will be relatively, if not absolutely lower than it was last year, while meantime their resources have diminished and their debts have increased.

Senator Moses grew facetious at the expense of these suffering farmers in the course of an interview he gave to a reporter in Bridgeport, Connecticut—a far from the Wheat Belt—a few days ago. He said he hoped they would adopt President Coolidge's advice and "diversify their crops." "They ought to begin raising something besides h—t," said Senator Moses. But the campaign just opening will blast the hopes of Senator Moses and a good many other Republicans.

DEMOCRATS WELCOME THE ISSUE.

Says Senator Simmons, as Between the Mellon and Democratic Plans.

Democrats are entirely willing that the issue between the Mellon plan and the Democratic tax law just enacted shall be debated and decided in the forthcoming presidential campaign, declared Senator F. M. Simmons (Dem. N. C.) in a vigorous statement a few days ago. Senator Simmons is the author of the normal tax rates and surtax rates of the new Democratic measure.

Referring to objections urged against the Democratic bill in Mr. Coolidge's statement accompanying his approval of the measure, Senator Simmons declared that "if the President and the Republican party wish to make the Mellon plan as against the Democratic plan, as written in the new law, an issue in the approaching campaign, they may rest assured that issue will be heartily welcomed by the Democratic party."

The facts of record in the Treasury Department furnish ample evidence to refute every contention made by the President and Secretary Mellon with respect to the effect which the income tax provisions of the new law will have upon productive industries, Senator Simmons said. The Democratic indictment against the Mellon bill was based upon its gross discrimination against an overwhelming majority of taxpayers with relatively small incomes and its preferential treatment of a few thousand taxpayers of great wealth, Senator Simmons declared.

To dispose of the President's contention that unless the higher surtax rates was cut from a maximum of 50 to a maximum of 25 per cent, as Secretary Mellon demanded of Congress, money would be invested in tax-exempt securities, Senator Simmons said:

"They refuse to consider or discuss the indisputable fact that out of $2,879,000,000 of assets listed in 1922 for estate taxes there were found tax-free securities barely sufficient to cover funeral and administrative expenses.

"The President and Mr. Mellon refuse to discuss the well-established contention that for every dollar that escapes surtax through investment in tax-free securities, more than $10 escapes surtax through failure of corporations to distribute their surplus earnings; and they denounce as economic heresy any proposition to force a distribution of these earnings through the imposition of surtaxes such as would have to be paid on similar earnings by an individual or partnership.

"Divest the argument and contentions of the President and Mr. Mellon of this bogey of investment in tax-free securities and their whole case against a higher surtax rate falls to the ground."

THAT MORNING LAMENESS

If you are lame every morning, and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weak kidneys and avert more serious troubles, use Doan's Pills. You can rely on Graham testimony. Ask your neighbor!

H. C. Bacon, carpenter, 8 Maple St., Graham, says: "I suffered right smart with a dull ache in my back, and at times sharp pains cut through my back that were so painful I cried aloud. Mornings my back was so stiff and sore I could hardly get out of bed and it was impossible for me to bend to put on my shoes. The action of my kidneys had me worried, as the secretions passed so often and were scanty and annoyed me during passage. I began using Doan's Pills from the Graham Drug Co. and it didn't seem any time until my kidneys were again acting regularly and I didn't have the terrible backaches. Doan's sure cured me."
