LOCAL NEWS.

Graham Chapter U. D. C. will meet with Mrs. R. N. Cook at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, March 5th.

Rev. E. M. Carter, of Elon College will preach at Graham Christian church Sunday morning, March 8th, at 11 o'clock.

Sunday, the 22nd, was the 193rd anniversary of the birth of Washington. This anniversary is a legal holiday, and falling on Sunday the following day is observed as a holiday.

Alamance Superior Court convened Monday for the trial of the criminal docket. It started with 138 cases. Judge Calvert is presiding and Solicitor L. P. McLendon is prosecuting for the State.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, it has pleased our heavenly Father to call the beloved president of Graham Missionary Society, Mrs. Charles H. Phillips, to her reward; therefore, be it resolved:

1st. That we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well.

2nd. That our society has lost a most faithful president, and our church a devoted member, one who walked close to her Lord and did her best in all her tasks.

3rd. That we shall always treasure the memory of our co-worker, whom God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to take her to her heavenly home.

4th. That we extend our love and deepest sympathy to her loved ones, and pray that God may comfort and bless them in their great grief and loss.

5th. That a page in our minutes be inscribed to the memory of this faithful woman.

6th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, a copy to the advocate, Burlington Daily Times, Alamance Gleaner and Missionary News.

Mrs. J. N. Taylor, Mrs. W. T. Ezelle, Mrs. F. C. Meen, Mrs. J. M. Buckner.

Club Girls Enroll For Season's Work.

May 1 has been set as the date for closing enrollment in the home demonstration clubs organized and conducted by the home agents of the State College extension division.

"In looking over our records for the past year, we find that 13,050 girls were enrolled in 563 clubs," says Miss Maude Wallace, assistant state agent in home demonstration work.

"This is a fine record but even a larger enrollment should be secured for 1925. This is the time for club members to begin to secure new members and to begin to boost club work.

In doing this, we must remember that the clubs must be organized properly. This does not mean that the meetings are necessarily stiff and formal but it does mean that the simple parliamentary practices should be observed that club girls may all learn how a public meeting is conducted.

"That the members may keep up their interest in club work, it is necessary to make each meeting worth while. This may be done by planning out the programs in advance and having the subjects announced at least six months before the meeting, if possible. Real leaders should be selected as officers at the first meeting. It is always necessary to have a good president and secretary. It is the purpose of girls' clubs to meet the needs of the girls in a community from an educational and social standpoint."

Miss Wallace states that food work was most popular last year with 10,849 girls enrolled. Coming next to this was clothing work with 5,562 girls completing work. Both of these interesting projects will receive more attention from the home agents during 1925.

Seventy-five farmers from ten townships in Alamance county recently attended a forestry demonstration held by County Agent W. Kerr Scott. Six cords of cull wood per acre was secured and three hundred trees per acre left standing on the land when the thinnings were completed.

Union County farmers not only plant all the home-grown lespedeza seed that they can secure but they also buy a carload or two each year because of the value of the crop as a soil improver. County Agent T. J. W. Broom reports that he recently distributed 2,000 bushels of purchased seed.

Back Given Out?

Then Follow the Advice of This Graham Resident.

Are you dragging along day after day with a dull, nagging backache? Do you feel tired, lame and achy; suffer sharp, torturing pains at every sudden move? Then look to your kidneys! Colds, strains and overwork weaken the kidneys and bring on throbbing backache and knife-like twinges. Don't risk serious kidney disease! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Read what this Graham resident says: Mrs. S. L. Hancock, S. Map's St., says: "I suffered right smart with a dull backache and I had to force myself to do my work. At night my back was so stiff and sore I could hardly lie on it. My kidneys caused much annoyance by acting too freely. After using Doan's Pills from the Graham Drug Co., I soon felt like a different woman. The backache eased up and my kidneys acted normally." 60c. at all dealers. There is no embargo on poultry from North Carolina going into New York State, advises Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham. Mr. Graham recently took up this matter with the New York authorities and found that they contemplated issuing no such embargo. When hens cannot forage for bugs and worms they should be fed animal protein in the mash. Such feeds as butter-milk, meat meal or fish meal are the best sources, advises A. G. Oliver, poultry extension specialist.

OXYGEN CARRIERS

Millions of red-blood cells, oxygen carriers, are born in a healthy body every day. The ability of these cells to enrich the blood depends upon how well you are nourished.

Scott's Emulsion

brings to the body rich vitamin-nourishment that is easily absorbed by the blood-making organs to build strength. Scott's Emulsion nourishes and strengthens wonderfully well.

Tomatoes Ranked First in Crops

Nineteen Different Products Had $313,000,000 Gross Value in 1924.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Nineteen truck crops produced in the United States the past year for table use, canning, and manufacture had a gross value to the growers of $313,000,000, according to estimates by the United States Department of Agriculture. This is $12,000,000 less than in 1923, but $22,000,000 more than in 1922, and $78,000,000 more than in 1921.

There has been a rapid expansion in truck crop production, transportation, and marketing in recent years, as indicated in acreage figures, the department points out. The acreage devoted to the 19 crops this year was 2,802,000 acres, which is a 60 per cent increase over the acreage in 1921.

Canning Acreage Doubled. Production of 18 crops grown wholly or partly for table use direct was on 1,300,000 acres and had a value of $282,000,000. The quantity produced wholly or partly for canning or manufacture was grown on 968,000 acres and had a value of $51,000,000. The canning acreage has been more than doubled since 1921, and the table acreage has been increased one-third.

Tomatoes were first in gross value, showing a total of $55,000,000; early Irish potatoes are valued at $44,000,000; strawberries $35,000,000, and cantaloupes $20,000,000. Green peas, onions, lettuce, celery, cabbage, and asparagus each come in the $15,000,000 to $17,000,000 range; cucumbers, snap beans and watermelons ranged from $8,500,000 to $12,000,000 each, and sweet corn for canning, spinach, peppers, cauliflower, and carrots, from $3,000,000 to $7,100,000 each. The value of eggplants was $1,030,000.

Tomatoes had the largest acreage at 470,000 acres; early Irish potatoes, 308,000 acres; sweet corn for canning, 290,000 acres; green peas, 242,000 acres; watermelons, 168,900 acres; strawberries, 147,000 acres; cucumbers, 130,000 acres. These figures do not include market gardens. Ninety-one per cent of the acreage of green peas was for canning; canning and manufacture of cucumbers took 72 per cent of the acreage; tomatoes, 67 per cent; asparagus, 47 per cent; spinach, 29 per cent; string beans, 27 per cent, and cabbage for kraut, 14 per cent.

Truck crops are the product of intensive agriculture and require much human labor, and a highly fertile and well-tilled soil. Gross return per acre is far from being all profit, and sometimes falls to equal the cost of production, the department says.

Sources of Protein and Vitamines for Laying Hen

Skim milk and buttermilk are exceedingly valuable sources of protein and vitamines for laying hens. This has been demonstrated not only by experiment stations, but also by thousands of poultry raisers. While poultrymen generally understand the value of these products, they do not always use enough of them to get the best results obtainable. Too many think that if they feed some milk or some buttermilk in addition to the regular mash and grain ration, they are doing all that is necessary. This, of course, may not be true. Feeding "some" of these dairy products may not be enough to properly balance the ration.

It has been shown that an ordinary mash made of ground corn, ground oats, bran, and shorts, when supplemented with whole corn and oats, make a good laying ration when the hens are given all the buttermilk or skim milk they can consume. That is, when they are given no water. If they have access to water in addition to skim milk or buttermilk, they will not consume enough of the latter to balance the ration mentioned, and therein lies the mistake that so many poultrymen make. They do not feed enough of the skim milk or buttermilk to furnish the amount of protein needed for high production.

Increase of Roup

Although roup is an all-year-round disease, the worst epidemics come with the shifting weather conditions of fall and spring. The disease causes considerable loss and appears to be increasing from year to year. The true roup includes colds, bronchitis, catarrh, canker, diphtheria, roup proper, and perhaps chicken pox. It usually comes with colds which start when the birds have been exposed to dampness, drafts and chill.

The Strawberry Patch

Very few gardeners who have space to spare will do without a strawberry patch. The everbearing variety has come into favor, and in most instances is satisfactory. However, the crop, being continuous throughout most of the growing season, is seldom as large at any time as the regular kind. Better results will be had by pinching off the blossoms until June.

Rice Is Not Relished

Rice is not liked by poultry, and it ranks lower than wheat in both digestibility and palatability. It is not much used for poultry feeding, even in the South where rice is grown. Some commercial chick scratch grain mixtures contain a little rice, but it does not add to the value of the feed.

Community Building

Twelve Good Reasons for Owning One's Home

Here are a round dozen reasons why the "Own Your Home" movement is worth while for every man to join eventually. "Why not now?"—to use a well-known advertising slogan. The reasons follow:

A home is the best investment you can make, and it will yield the biggest returns on your money.

It creates a feeling of assurance and independence.

It is a big step toward future happiness and success.

You need not wait until you have the full amount in order to begin purchasing your home.

By making monthly payments you pay for your home with the same amount of money, sometimes less than you are now paying for rent.

Each month your equity in the property becomes greater.

When you are living in your home you are not living in an atmosphere of uncertainty.

You will be secure in the thought, "I will not be forced to move from the neighborhood in which I have lived for many years."

You can continue to worship in the same church, your children can continue at the same school and you can continue the association and friendship of your neighbors.

You do not have to importune the landlord, who is deaf to your urgent plea to fix the roof, the furnace or the porch.

When you own your home you add prestige to your standing in the community and among your business associates.

To own a home is a duty you owe your wife and children—almost as important as life insurance.

"Consider this dozen daily," paraphrased another "ad" man.

Would Take Billboards From Public Highways

The National Association of Real Estate Boards has issued a statement expressing approval of a law just becoming effective in Iowa, which prohibits billboards on public highways.

The new Iowa law was enacted primarily as a measure of public safety. A confusion of advertising signs along the way obscures the official signs placed to warn of turns, sharp curves, railroad crossings and the like. But it is no less valuable as a measure for conserving scenic spots for the enjoyment of the general public, the association points out in its statement.

The view from the highway does not belong to the individual who owns the property along the right of way. It is a community possession. Real-estate interests in the whole present movement to eliminate billboards from highways where they are a blot on scenery, a priceless public possession.

Modern Principles

A grocer in a western town has an arrangement with the pastors of the various churches whereby he "swaps" with them the names of new families moving into town.

The merchant and the ministers jot the names down in little notebooks and compare every two weeks.

This is one of the plans used to get the names of newcomers.

They also watch the papers and keep in touch with real estate men. As soon as they learn of a new family in town they call personally.

Finding the right place to attend church or trade is always a job for a woman who has just moved. So she is usually glad to give an order to the one who takes the trouble to call on her. And by starting on a friendly basis they generally succeed in getting her trade and holding it.—The Progressive Grocer.

City's Need of Trees

Beautification of Illinois cities through city control of all trees along the streets, for which there are laws on the statute books, is being brought to the attention of various cities by P. L. Phelps of Rochelle, Ill., scientific forester, supported by the Illinois Municipal League.

"Providing shade," Mr. Phelps says, "should be as much a municipal function as providing lights or sidewalks. To obtain satisfactory results it is necessary that the city own and control all street trees."

"Nothing adds more to the beauty of a city than its well-ordered trees. This fact long has been recognized, and for many years householders have been planting trees adjoining their property in an effort to beautify that part of the city in which they live."

Change in City Managers

City managers are not invariably regarded by the cities themselves as precious possessions, a correspondent of the London Times in America writes to that journal. Forty per cent of 219 managers have been allowed to serve for less than two years. One city in Oregon has had ten managers in nine years, and Columbus, Ga., had three in one year. Nevertheless, for all its drawbacks, in theory and practice, the city manager plan seems to be making steady headway.
