Records on Bamboo
The folklore of the Malay people in Sumatra, according to Prof. H. H. Bartlett, of the Smithsonian Institution, is preserved on joints of bamboo. While studying rubber-producing plants in that country, Professor Bartlett became interested in the custom which the natives practice of writing their faiths, legends and accounts of magical and medicinal uses of plants on the joints of bamboo when the plants are still green. Afterward the bamboo is dried and preserved indefinitely.—Exchange.

Frozen Eggs From China
A. J. Morris, vice president of the American Merchant Lines, in charge of traffic at New York, reports a new unloading record established when 32,000 cases of frozen eggs from China were removed from the liner American Farmer in 20 hours. The eggs, which were in tins, were brought over in refrigeration. The American Farmer arrived at New York port June 22.

Perfumes to Cost More
Grasse, France, the perfume center of Europe, with 29 distilleries, will run short of 600,000 pounds of petals this year as a result of the late frosts and inclement weather which destroyed a fifth of the Riviera flower crop. Manufacturers say this shortage will cause at least a 25 per cent increase in the cost of French perfumes.

Furs From Alaska
Furs shipped from Alaska to the United States since its purchase in 1867 have been appraised at $98,800,000. The value of last year's output was $3,000,000. Ninety per cent of the world's fur seals are in a herd owned by the United States government in the Pribilof Islands, off the coast of Alaska. The herd numbers approximately 700,000.

Police Ban Dyeing Dogs
The practice of society women at Paris of dyeing their dogs to match their gowns was stopped by the police on the complaint of the International Humane society, says the Pathfinder Magazine. It was found that weak solutions of dyes for cloth were used and that they were injurious to the animals.

Women in England
Because British schoolmasters voted that no male teacher should take orders from a woman principal, the woman teachers of England are up in arms. Their national union termed the action of the men as "sex warfare" and declared they would battle out the issue to the finish.

WOMAN CONQUERS FEARS

Husband Delighted and Home Happier

St. Paul, Minn.—"Here is a little advice I would like to have you put in the papers," Mrs. Jack Lorberter of 704 Dellwood Place wrote to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company. "If young women want to keep their health and strength for the next thirty years of their lives, it is best to start in right now and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"I have tried the Compound myself and received fine results from its use." In describing her condition before taking the Compound, she writes, "I was afraid in my own house in broad daylight, I used to lock the doors and pull down the shade, so that nobody could see me." One day a booklet advertising the Vegetable Compound was left on her porch and she read it through. In so doing, she found a letter from a woman whose condition was similar to her own. "I bought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Lorberter continued, "and have had fine results. My condition made me a burden to my husband. Now I ask him, 'How is housekeeping?' and he says, 'It is just like being in Heaven!' Are you on the Sunlit Road to Better Health?"

Men, Too, Seek Beauty
Dr. D. Fourmental, who has been in the United States on a commission of the French government to study the methods used by American women in making themselves "beautiful," has discovered that 40 per cent of the patrons of some beauty shops are men seeking to have the wrinkles removed from about their eyes.

New England Woman of Advanced Ideas
In his book, "Some American Ladies," Meade Minnegerode pays this tribute to an early American wife: "Abigail Adams, wife of President John Adams, was one of America's first feminists, for she told her husband she thought women should have a share in the government and, because of her wise advice on political questions, he himself acclaimed her as a 'stateswoman.'" This simple but brilliantly acquitted herself at foreign courts, winning half his battles for her ambassador husband before Adams became President.

His Choice
"Poets prate of the sweetness of the songs of the nightingale and the skylark," remarked Uncle Foggy, "and occasionally of the chiming of the wedding bells, the notes of the throats stealing through the darkness across the lake, and all such. But to me the most delightful music in the world is the deep, resonant 'Choog! Ploog! Ker-ploog!' of the circus rumber wagons pompousing through the gray of the morning on their way to the show grounds."—Kansas City Times.
