

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., JUNE 30, 1927.

LOCAL NEWS.

Next Monday is Independence Day—the 4th of July, and a legal holiday.

Travora will play Rameur at Travora Ball Park on July 4th. The game will be called at 4 p. m.

Mrs. Frank Moore will give a bridge party at her home on N. Main St., at 11 a. m., Friday.

Little Miss Marjorie Ann Bason will be given a birthday party at 4 p. m., Friday, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. J. D. Albright, E. Harden St.

August 1st is the date set by the Town Commissioners for the payment of all taxes and street assessments. After that date the town will levy, advertise and sell.

The editor and the "boys" greatly enjoyed the nice apples brought in by Mrs. Jos. S. Holt. We wish they could have lasted through the livelong summer. Many thanks.

Dr. J. U. Newman of Elon College will fill Dr. W. C. Wicker's pulpit at Graham Christian Church next Sunday morning. The old friends of Dr. Newman will be glad to hear him again.

Mrs. Jas. C. McAdams had the misfortune to fall down the back steps of her home last Monday evening. There are about half a dozen steps. She received a number of bruises but fortunately no bones were broken.

Mr. John G. Griffin, prominent and esteemed citizen of Snow Camp community, was carried to a hospital in High Point last week, suffering from a paralytic affection. Fears are entertained that he may not recover from the trouble.

A fan, one that sends a breeze through the width and length of the house, has just been installed in the Alco Theatre. That stuffy, drowsy sensation incident to crowded rooms is swept away, and it's like sitting on the beach and being fanned by a sea breeze. You can enjoy a picture and keep cool under such conditions.

"Magic Garden," a very fascinating picture, was run on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and nights at Alco Theatre and good houses witnessed each performance. At the entrance a miniature garden was improvised with flowers, vines, moss, grass and shrubbery. In the midst of it ducklets were swimming in a pool, all of which was a fit introduction to the picture on the screen. It pays to make a good impression.

John M. Ingold of Graham Killed Saturday in Automobile Accident.

Last Saturday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock Mr. John M. Ingold of Graham was killed in an automobile accident on the Hillsboro-Chapel Hill road. He was a carpenter and working on a job at Chapel Hill. He had started home in a car with a Mr. Price of Danville. A negro named Dawkins of Durham drove up behind the car occupied by Ingold and attempted to pass it. It was struck and turned over. Mr. Ingold's head was caught under it and he was killed instantly.

Mr. Ingold's body was brought here and prepared for burial. The funeral was held Monday, conducted by Revs. R. P. Ellington and D. R. Williams.

Mr. Ingold was 32 years old and highly esteemed. He had recently built a new home here. He is survived by his widow and three small children, his mother, two brothers and a sister.

He formerly lived in the Friendship community and the burial was in the Friendship cemetery.

Court Lasted Two Days.

The Superior Court, a criminal term, last week finished its work in two days. Judge G. E. Midyette presided, Solicitor W. B. Umstead prosecuted, H. Ed McPherson was Foreman of the Grand Jury and Jas. A. Winingham filled the place of officer to the Grand Jury.

A large number of cases went off the docket. The following attracted much attention:

J. B. Burke stood indicted for the murder of W. B. Rudd. Burke shot Rudd on Nov. 24, 1926, in the northern part of the county. Burke through counsel tendered a plea of murder in the second degree, which was accepted by the State. The Court sentenced him to a term of 30 years in the penitentiary.

Kenneth Corbett, negro, was indicted for criminal assault. The jury's verdict was simple assault. The judgment was 4 months on the roads, to be suspended on payment of the costs.

Will Morton, negro, was indicted for killing another negro. A gun battle got under way at a negro party. The defendant claimed he was fired on three times before returning the fire. He plead guilty of manslaughter and was given 8 months on the roads.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Matilda Love, relict of Gaston Love, former County Commissioner and prominent citizen, died at her home (formerly the Jesse Henley home) a mile or so south of the old Sutphin mill last Thursday evening, 23rd inst., aged 74 years. The burial was at Mt. Olive Saturday at 11 a. m. Services were conducted by Rev. B. L. Lupton. She is survived by two sons and one daughter, Thomas and Walter Love and Mrs. Lula Mann; two brothers, Henry Thomas of Carolina and Alfred Thomas of Missouri; one sister, Mrs. Bettie Love of Raleigh, and a half-brother, Murphy G. Thomas of Graham.

Mrs. Cameron F. Tew died at Haw River Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. She was Miss Porterfield before marriage. Surviving her are her husband and seven children, one of them an infant. She is also survived by several brothers and sisters. The interment is at Long's Chapel at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Murray, wife of Mr. Robt. F. Murray, died at Carolina at 11 o'clock Wednesday, aged 51 years. The burial will be this afternoon at Bethlehem, near Altamahaw.

Alamance Music Entertainers Make "Hit."

On Tuesday night of last week Dr. Will S. Long's musical entertainers played in Greensboro whence the performance was broadcasted. They play only 16 selections, but the demand was so insistent that they played 36 times. Since they have had 21 requests to play from various parts of the State and to play every night. They certainly made a "hit" and put Graham on the map.

Dinner for Confederate Veterans.

On July 4th the Burlington chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy will serve dinner for the Confederate veterans at the First Christian Church.

Three hundred farm women will gather at State College during the week of July 4 to 9 for the third annual short course.

Plans are being made to entertain between 500 and 700 club members at the annual short course to be held at State College, July 11 to 16.

Mr. Jas. M. Turner, Aged Citizen, Dead.

On Tuesday evening Mr. James M. Turner passed away at his home here, aged about 75 years. He had not been very well for several weeks. His last illness had confined him to his home only since last Saturday and his death was a shock to the community.

Mr. Turner was one of Graham's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens. He had lived in Graham most of his life and always took an interest in the betterment of the community. He was a consecrated churchman and a member of the Knights of Pythias. Before his retirement at 70, he had been a rural mail carrier for nearly twenty years.

He was the last surviving member of his immediate family, one of the oldest in this section of the State. His widow, who was Miss Lizzie Foust, and several nephews and nieces survive him. Mr. John Gray Turner of this place is a nephew.

The funeral was conducted from the home at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Dr. W. R. Potter of Burlington assisted by Dr. P. H. Fleming.

"Uncle" Charles Ruffin, Aged Negro and Former Slave, Dead.

Charles Ruffin, colored, died here Monday evening about 7 o'clock. He was past 80 years of age and was one of the landmarks of the community. He was an anti-bellum negro and as a slave belonged to the elder Thomas Ruffin, who was a former Superior Court Judge and Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court. Judge Ruffin lived about three miles south of Graham on the north bank of Big Alamance creek. The home was where Mrs. J. U. Enoch now lives. Judge Ruffin owned a large tract of more than a thousand acres in the fork of Big Alamance and Haw river, which in those days was known as "Ruffin's Quarter."

It was on these premises that Uncle Charles was born and grew to manhood. He had made his home in Graham for the past 50 years or more. He was highly respected by both white and black. Those who knew him and have gone away will regret to hear of his death. The burial took place yesterday afternoon in the colored section of the town cemetery.

University Press Get Out New Book

An interesting feature of the Kiwanis meeting Friday night was Miss Enita Nicks' readings from Congaree Sketches by E. C. Adams of South Carolina. The audience was delighted with these new sketches of negro life from a book not yet two weeks old. The University Press of Chapel Hill has, in Congaree Sketches, a book that is destined to make its mark in American literature. Here we have the negro not as a problem, but as a picturesque part of our national life.

Some of the characters, as "Old Sister," are only black skin-deep. "Old Sister" is so terribly righteous she keeps the community seething with scandal in her attempt to point out the better life. "Old Sister's" experiences do not end in this world, but her life in Heaven and Hell are equally as colorful.

The critics who do the pronouncements on new books have not had time to comment on this book yet, but the folks at the University are expecting a warm reception for a work that has the best slant on the negro of any book that has yet come out of America.

This age of high standards welcomes the Camel quality

MODERN smokers are the most exacting ever known, and they place Camel first among cigarettes.

For Camel was created to succeed in the hardest-to-please age ever known. It was made to satisfy those who demand the utmost, and modern smokers have given it such popularity as no other cigarette ever had.

If you're downright hard to please, just try Camels. Tobacco taste and fragrance will be revealed as never before, for Camels are rolled of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos, supremely blended. This modern cigarette exceeds all other standards but its own. To light one is to find taste fulfillment. "Have a Camel!"
