

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., SEPT. 27, 1928

LOCAL NEWS.

The Burlington tobacco market will open next Tuesday.

The days are shorter by 16 minutes than a week ago.

Next Monday is the regular monthly meeting for the County Commissioners.

Mebane Fair came out alright, we are pleased to learn, though for the first two days there was a down-pour that would have spelled disaster. It continued.

The protracted services at the Baptist church close to-night. The attendance has been good, and those who have heard Rev. W. E. Goode have enjoyed his fine sermons.

For the past two or three mornings it was near frost. Not earlier than the 10th of October is the traditional time for the first killing frost in this latitude, but occasionally it is earlier.

Worth Thompson, who suffered a fractured ankle on the athletic field at Elon two weeks ago while doing football practice, started back to school Monday. He gets about on crutches and will have to use them for several weeks.

We seem to have had our equinoctial storm. It came a day or two ahead of time, but it was sufficient. Monday the days and nights were equal, says the almanac; and one writer, at least, said that autumn began at 6:06 on that morning.

It is learned that Mr. Jas. K. Mebane suffered a slight stroke of paralysis a few days ago at his home in Washington, D. C., and his many friends here will be glad to learn that he is very much improved. This was his home for many years before he located in Washington about ten years ago.

The new theatre building is nearing completion. When the work is all done and everything cleared away, it will present a handsome appearance. There are two beautiful small store rooms—one on each side of the entrance. Upstairs, at the front, is a handsome and commodious apartment, and the auditorium will seat 500. While an opening date has not yet been announced, it now looks like it should be ready for occupancy with every detail complete, inside of 20 days.

Important Junior Order Meeting—Speaking At Elon College.

A very important meeting of Graham Council No. 36, Jr., O. U. A. M., of Graham, N. C., Thursday, Sept. 27, 1928. All members comes at 8 P. M.

The State Counselor, Hon. D. W. Sorrell of Durham, N. C., will speak in the school building at Elon College, Saturday, September 29, at 7:30 P. M.

Mr. Harden Travels By Air Route.

Detained in Chicago on business last week until it was too late to make a speaking appointment on Saturday by rail, Mr. Junius H. Harden used an airplane to get from Chicago to Winston-Salem. Friday night was spent in Huntington, Ind. It was here he found out who was his pilot. By coincidence it was Walter Wipprecht of Texas, the brother-in-law of J. D. Kernodle, Jr., of Gibsonville, the latter a nephew of Mr. Harden. Mr. Wipprecht and Mr. Kernodle spent Saturday evening here.

Studebaker Automobile Sales Agency Coming.

Representatives of the Studebaker Automobile Company, Messrs. J. V. and H. D. Moore of Empoia, Va., were here Tuesday, prospecting for the purpose of opening a sales house. It is learned that they made temporary arrangements with the Hughes Motor Co. for quarters until other arrangements can be made.

The Gleaner is glad to welcome them to Graham. It is a good point from which to carry on their sales operations for both town and country.

Some arrangement should be made to furnish these people with a nice and commodious sales and show room, to keep them in Graham permanently. The automobile business is here to stay. More and more automobiles are being sold every day. The demand will continue, because they wear out just the same as other things that are used. The worn-out ones are discarded and junked every day and new ones take their place.

Won't someone build a suitable show and sales room?

PERSONAL

Mr. Robt. L. Holmes of Reidsville was here on business Wednesday morning.

Miss Minnie Williamson of Lynchburg, Va., is here visiting her aunt, Mrs. Jas. N. Williamson.

Mrs. Will E. White and Mrs. J. W. Menefee spent from Monday till Wednesday visiting friends in Fayetteville.

Mrs. McBride Holt, in company with James Burch of Durham, left Monday for Asheville to spend the week with Miss Martha Holt.

Mrs. J. Dolph Long and A. K. Hardee, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Holt and Miss Mamie Parker spent Tuesday in Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Noyes who had spent several days here at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Chas. E. Thompson, went to Charlotte Monday.

Rev. W. E. Harrop left Wednesday for Abingdon, Va., to visit Mrs. Harrop, and they will visit his mother in Tennessee and return the last of the week.

Mrs. Jas. N. Williamson, Jr., and daughter, Miss Mary Archer, of Asheville and DeLand, Fla., came the first of the week on a visit to Mrs. Jas. N. Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. V. Pomeroy of Charlotte came Tuesday on a visit here, the former to his sister, Mrs. J. Harvey White, and the other to Mrs. A. K. Hardee. They will leave for their home to-morrow.

Dr. and Mrs. Will S. Long, Jr., and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, and Miss Edna and Ernest Jeffries, spent Sunday at the home of Dr. Long's sister, Mrs. S. A. Holleman, in High Point.

Mr. Watt M. Cooper left the latter part of last week for Yale University Divinity School, New Haven Conn., to resume his studies. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Mary Cooper, who will visit her brother at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and other points.

Mrs. Wm. E. White and her guest, Mrs. J. W. Menefee of Washington, D. C., Mrs. J. J. Henderson, Mrs. J. L. Scott, Jr., and Mrs. A. M. Barrow are attending a meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Greensboro to-day.

Neighbor Farmers Visiting In Alamance.

In this issue appear two articles taken from the Roxboro Courier of last week. Both concern a proposed visit of Person county farmers to Alamance dairymen to-day. While The Gleaner does not get out in time to give the proposed visit any publicity before the date (to-day) set for the visit, it is pleasant to note what is said about Alamance county dairymen. It, too, is a recognition of the untiring efforts of County Agent W. Kerr Scott to build up the dairy business and help the farmers of Alamance.

Early Squirrel Hunters In The Toils.

"The early bird gets the worm," runs an old saying, and it seems the early hunter before the season opens as provided by law, gets trouble on his hands. Only a day or two ago three hunters, Tom Dixon, Robt. Moon and Will Bailiff, were hauled before Squire J. D. Lee for taking squirrels before the open season for this species of game, which began Saturday, 15th inst. Their forwardness cost each of them the sum of $15.85. It is understood that four others will face the court next Saturday for a like transgression.

It would be much cheaper to ascertain the time of the open season for taking game of any kind, rather than taking a chance of being caught up with for a violation.

Red Cross Relief Fund.

The local Red Cross continues the call for help for the Porto Rico and Florida sufferers. Leave contributions with the National Bank of Alamance or Mrs. J. J. Henderson.

Mrs. G. W. Kernodle Dies At Home In Washington, D. C.—Brought Back to Alamance for Burial.

On Monday evening about 10 o'clock Mrs. G. W. Kernodle died at her home in Washington, D. C. She had been ill for about two months and had undergone a major operation. She had sufficiently recovered to be brought home, after which complications arose and hastened the end.

After a short service at the home Tuesday, the body was brought to the home of her husband's brother, Dr. J. L. Kernodle, in Burlington, arriving at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. The funeral service was conducted at 2 o'clock at Shallowford Christian Church, a mile-and-a-half north of Elon College by Rev. J. W. Patton, reared in the same community and the same church with the deceased, Dr. J. U. Newman, of Elon College, a former teacher and near friend, and Dr. S. B. Turrentine, president of Greensboro College for Women, a relative and friend.

A large congregation of relatives and friends was present to pay a last tribute of respect. During the service Mrs. W. L. Ward of Graham sang a favorite song of deceased and a special quartette sang other favorite hymns.

Mrs. Kernodle was the wife of Dr. George W. Kernodle. They were married in 1891. She is survived by her husband and the following children, Mrs. Ronald Macdonald, Mrs. Sam del Vecchio, Howard and Roy Kernodle of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Roger McDuffie of Greensboro; by one sister, Mrs. Walter H. McLean of Whitsett, and two brothers, Prof. John T. Cobb of Durham and Gaston D. Cobb of Tulsa, Okla., and seven grandchildren. Dr. and Mrs. Kernodle after their marriage for several years resided at "The Hub," near Altamahaw, where the Doctor enjoyed a large country practice. Later they resided at Elon College, then in Greensboro, and seventeen years ago they moved Washington.

Before her marriage Mrs. Kernodle was Miss Kate Cobb. She was born and reared within a few hundred yards of the spot where rests her mortal remains in the family plot with her parents and members of her family who have passed. Her parents were Dr. Gaston D. Cobb, born and reared in Caswell County, a veteran of the Mexican War and the Civil War, being a Captain in the latter and leading the first Company from Alamance in 1861. He was an honorable and high-toned citizen and brave soldier. Her mother was Miss Catherine Elizabeth Turrentine, a member of that large and influential family in Alamance and Orange counties.

Mrs. Kernodle was a woman of striking personality and generously endowed with those fine qualities of head and heart which won esteem, love and friendship for her and made her a leader in the worthwhile things of life.

The active pall-bearers were E. V. Patterson and Howard Fogleman of Burlington and four nephews, John A. and Jas. W. Robertson, of Burlington, Ernest McLean of Greensboro and J. Boyd McLean of Lakeland, Florida. The honorary pall-bearers were professional friends of Dr. Kernodle and other friends of his and of the deceased: Drs. J. V. Dick of Gibsonville, W. R. Goley, O. J. Paris and W. S. Long, Jr., of Graham, and C. A. Anderson and H. M. Montgomery of Burlington; J. P. Montgomery, J. A. Barnwell; W. H. Carroll, W. R. Sellers, J. W. Patterson of Burlington; McBride Holt and J. D. Kernodle of Graham; J. B. Geringer, W. H. Truitt and W. D. Walker of Shallowford community.

A wealth of rich and rare floral offerings, tokens of love and esteem, were placed upon the new-made mound, and the family sincerely appreciate these and all other evidences of sympathy and friendship.

News of Whitsett

Cor. of The Gleaner.

The condition of Rev. Edgar H. Nease, who is seriously ill at the hospital in Greensboro, remains a matter of much concern to his friends of his two congregations, the Gibsonville and Whitsett Methodist churches. There is much anxiety as he has been extremely sick for some days.

Rev. and Mrs. R. K. Davenport and daughter, Doris, of Willow Springs, N. C., are here for the week. He is preaching each evening at Springwood Church. Large crowds are present to hear him.

Alfred T. Whitsett spent Monday night here, and on Tuesday went to his home at Chapel Hill.

Mrs. Ed. B. Wheeler has gone to Fayetteville to be present at the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rankin, both of whom were formerly of Guilford county.

Supt. R. G. Fitzgerald, of the Pitt County schools, was here on business the first of this week.

Those attending the drama, "Oh, Doctor," given last week at the Gibsonville Graded School, were much pleased.

On Saturday evening last the Whitsett Parent-Teacher Association met for its first session this year. The new officers were installed by Mrs. J. W. Burke and Miss Georgia Clapp of Gibsonville in a very interesting ceremony. Mrs. W. T. Whitsett is president; Miss Margery Nuckoles is vice president; Miss Lucille Whitsett, secretary and Miss Kate McLean, treasurer.

An interesting session of the Whitsett Christian Endeavor society was held at Springwood church last Sunday evening with Mrs. A. A. Hinshaw in charge of the meeting.

Report by Treasurer—Offering and song by choir.

11:30—Special, by Graham Quartet.

11:40—Annual address by Clarence Ross, Mayor of Graham.

Dinner will be served on the grounds by the good ladies of the Bethel community, and a good day is expected—thanks to the ladies in advance.

AFTERWOON

Special selections by Graham Quartet.

Business meeting of the Association.

Election of Officers.

Appointment of Committees.

Motions and Resolutions—Short talks, etc.

Ushers: W. H. Foust, Chief; Misses Ella M. Workman, Eula McPherson, Jos. Holmes and Tyrus Lindley.

Officers: Lonie McPherson, pres; W. H. Foust, vice pres; Miss Bessie Holmes, sec'y; A. I. Foust, treas.

This association was organized under favorable auspices. There were liberal donations, and since then the cemetery has been greatly improved.

This first annual meeting since the organization is looked forward to with keen interest and it is gratifying to see these old rural cemeteries improved and beautified in keeping with good schools and good roads, all being outstanding marks of progress and civilization.

M. S. Rudisill continues to win renown as a good wheat grower. His final report is 1,207 bushels of grain on 40 acres of land. On one field where he had plowed under a clover sod, he produced an average of 40 bushels on 16 acres.

An income of $1,800 from a car of hogs will bring more money to J. B. Cullipher of Bertie County, than the eight acres of tobacco which he planted this season.

Tom Tarheel says he will attend the National Dairy Show at Memphis during the week of October 13.
