Chapel Hill Then and Now

After being closed for several years the University opened in Sept. 1875. At that time the old "Hillsboro Recorder" was published. Col. John D. Cameron, editor. In that paper of the date of Sept. 8, 1875, appeared the following item, headed Chapel Hill:

"We learn that about forty students have entered and more are coming in daily. It is probable that during its first session the number will reach one hundred." The University's fall term is opening this week. Latest reports indicate that about 750 new students will enter this fall, and this in addition to the 1000 or more old students who will return. Also that the university will perhaps have the largest attendance in its history. It's a far cry between 100 and near 2000.

Unafraid of his power, Bishop Jas. M. Cannon, Jr., was condemned in severe terms at the quarterly conference at Locust Hill M. E. church, Caswell county, Tuesday for bucket shop transactions. The resolution passed, says the Bishop has lowered the dignity of the office he holds and "brings reproach on the cause of Christ which he is supposed to represent." "Supposed" carries an implication of doubt, and that is what the Locust Hill conference said in its resolution. This little church, so far as we are advised, is the first to pronounce against the reverend Bishop. But will this check his political and bucket shop maneuvers?

On account of the strike at Marion five men are on trial upon the charge of promoting a riot. An attempt is being made to get a jury. Then over at Gastonia the situation has not much improved. A woman has been killed by random shooting and another strike organizer has been kidnapped, carried over the South Carolina line and flogged. It will take a long time to clear up the discord at both places, granting that all else is over with. But it does not seem that it is, for word comes from Gastonia that there is no room for the Communist there.

The revised tariff bill will be the big bone of contention in Congress this fall and winter. The Democrats and some Republicans are lining up in opposition to a number of its provisions, which are vehemently condemned.

No Change in School Books for The Coming Year.

Raleigh, Sept. 10.—There will be no change of text books in the public schools at the opening in 1930 or at any time during the 1930-31 season, the state textbook commission has announced.

The commission, which met in Raleigh Monday, notified the state board of education today of its action and said it was the unanimous desire of the commission not to make any report this year.

The board of education, meeting today, approved the action of the commission, which means there will be no text books adopted in December of this year.

Members of the commission are A. E. Akers, of Roanoke Rapids, chairman; Miss Ruth Gunter, of Sanford, secretary; Miss Ethel McNairy, Statesville; Miss Anne Holdford, Raleigh; Benjamin L. Smith, Spindale; R. G. Fitzgerald, Greenville, and Chester C. Haworth, Burlington.

Avery county farmers have produced the largest hay crop in the history of the county and are now looking for sheep and cattle to consume it.

J. M. Mull has completed the second monolithic concrete silo in Burke county. W. H. Avery built the first one and Mr. Mull used the same forms.

NEWS OF WHITSETT

Whitsett, Sept. 17.—Arthur Phillips Ingle spent last Sunday in Davidson county attending the Stewart-Bodenhamer reunion. Mrs. Z. F. Perrett and H. C. Perrett have just returned from several days' visit to Spencer and other points in that vicinity.

W. T. Whitsett, Jr., attended a conference of the M. C. A. Council held at Chapel Hill last Sunday afternoon, and on Monday returned to Chapel Hill to enter the university for this year's work.

The Whitsett school opened for work on Monday with all teachers in their places, and a full attendance of students.

D. H. Torreyson went to Greensboro, today to meet several of his friends who are with the 101 Ranch show which was there today. Some years ago he was connected for some time with this ranch while out west.

Dr. W. T. Whitsett has returned from Davidson county where on last Sunday he delivered the address before the Stewart-Bodenhamer reunion which was held N. of Abbott's creek at the original Hiram Bodenhamer home place. A crowd estimated at twelve hundred people attended the exercises; music was furnished by the twenty-piece Friedland concert band; and the dinner table was one hundred and fifty feet long. It was an unusual gathering of these two families, and their friends. The Stewarts are a Scotch family, while the Bodenhamers came from the Rhine river section, first to Delaware, and thence into North Carolina. The latter trace to the original immigrant Christian Bodenhamer.

A session of the Methodist quarterly conference was held here on Sunday last in the M. E. church, making plans for the next year's work.

The county school carpenter is here this week engaged in some repair work on the school building. Numbers of the small boys, especially, went from here to Greensboro to the Miller Brothers show today.

An interesting session of the home demonstration club was held here today with a good attendance of the members present.

One of our citizens drove over to Chapel Hill yesterday on the new route number 54 making it from Whitsett to Chapel Hill in fifty minutes. The distance from here is just thirty four miles by the new route.

The members of the Gibsonville Rotary club are to entertain their wives and the teachers of the school at their meeting to be held tonight.

Rev. C. E. Hiatt and Prof. J. H. Joyner spoke before the students of the Whitsett school yesterday morning.

Miss Addie Houston of Greensboro, was here today for the usual club meeting of the Whitsett club.

General County Court.

Since the first of the year Judge E. S. W. Dameron, elected to hold the General County Court on account of Judge D. J. Walker's illness, has presided up to last Monday, and has given general satisfaction and rendered good service.

On last Monday Judge Walker was at the helm again and disposed of the following:

Judge Smith, driving auto while intoxicated, $50 and costs.

J. C. Stutts, same as above, $50 and costs.

Armon Davis, same as above, $50 and costs.

Sam Davis, whiskey in possession, six months on roads.

Wes Thompson, making home brew, six months on roads or $25 and costs.

Geo. Gant, escape, 30 additional to term now serving.

Nuell Williams, concealed weapon, $50 and costs or four months on roads.

L. P. Partess, hauling liquor, $25 and costs.

Fred Stevens, whisky in possession, $25 and costs.

Duster Allen, possession of liquor, 4 mos. on roads or $50 and costs.

Rube Keck, whisky in possession, 4 mos. on roads or $50 and costs.

C. Palmer, whisky in possession, 6 mos. on roads or $50 and costs.

Alex Farrington, assault, $25 and costs.

Kal Hudson, driving drunk, $10 and cost.

AIRPLANE STUNTS EVERY AFTERNOON AT THE MEBANE SIX COUNTIES FAIR.

Children's Day Tuesday—All Children Under 12 Years of Age Admitted Free Besides Two Ponies Will Be Given The Children.

The greater Mebane Six Counties Fair will open its gates Monday morning for six big days and six big nights—far the biggest and best fair ever attempted in the state of North Carolina.

On Tuesday of the fair the children will be admitted free; that is, children 12 years of age and under and on this day some child is going to receive a beautiful pony. In fact two ponies will be given away, one to the white children and one to the colored children.

On Wednesday a big double program will be given and on Thursday evening Tilleys, of Durham, will put on a big fashion show; the biggest ever attempted. Daily airplane stunts will be given over the fair grounds. The attractions consist of a show of twenty-five cars carrying nine thrilling rides, 20 paid attractions and 60 concessions. It is the biggest show the fair has ever signed. There will be plenty of parking space on the inside of the fair grounds.

In every department great improvements have been made to take care of about twice the number of exhibits as heretofore and in the Merchants and Manufacturers Building exhibits that are really interesting will be seen. The state live game exhibit will be here as well as mounted exhibits.

In the poultry building thousands of chickens will be seen and in the cattle and swine building there will be entries to take the entire capacity, in fact there is no department but that will be filled and overflowing. A big automobile show will be in progress every day and everything is being done to entertain every minute the big crowds which will be in attendance. The fair is six days and six nights, beginning next Monday morning.

Home Canning Made Easy

By GRACE VIALI GRAY Household Science Institute.

PEACHES AND PEARS

Before starting to can peaches or any other fruit, collect and examine equipment and put it in good order. Have a liberal supply of new rubbers. Test and fit jars and lids. A sure method of testing is to put water in to the jar, put on rubber, fasten the lid tight and invert. If the jar leaks, try another lid. Discard all defective lids and Grace Viali Gray. jars to avoid further trouble. Regulate balls for glass top jars by removing from jars and tightening or loosening them by bending to fit.

With everything in readiness, you are now ready to can the peaches. Select peaches which are ripe but not soft. Before preparing fruit, make thin syrup, or richer if desired, allowing one cup for each quart jar. Add one cracked peach pit for each quart of syrup, boil five minutes and strain.

Immerse peaches about one minute in boiling water or until skins will slip easily, plunge at once into cold water, peel and stone. Pack in jars at once, placing the halves in overlapping layers, concave sides down with blossom end facing glass. Fill containers with syrup. Process quart jars for 10 minutes at 5 lbs. pressure, pint jars for 6 minutes. Process No. 2 and No. 3 tin cans for 10 minutes at 5 lbs. pressure. Never use more than 5 lbs. pressure for peaches and all other fruits and berries.

Pears may be canned whole or cut in halves. Peel and remove core if cut in halves. When packed whole, leave stems on. Cook from 5 to 10 minutes, according to size, in a medium syrup until barely flexible. This precooking is necessary in order to make a full pack. When packed whole, if pears are small, place in layers, stems up; let the second row fill the spaces between the two stems. Add the hot syrup as the layers are built up. Process 8 minutes at 5 lbs. pressure.

Many people think the pear is rather bland in flavor so they add additional flavor, as lemon or ginger, to the syrup. Then add a slice of lemon or a small piece of ginger root when packing the jar.

The Kieffer, the Pineapple and the Le-Conte pears are desirable for canning.

When canning a larger quantity of pears, they are apt to turn brown very rapidly when exposed to air. This can be avoided by placing the fruit in a dilute salt brine (2 tablespoons salt to 1 gallon water). A good, medium syrup for pears is made by boiling together one quart of sugar with two quarts of water.

If pears are canned in tin plunge immediately into cold water and cool as quickly as possible, otherwise, fruit may turn pink in color.

OFFER $5,825 IN PRIZES IN NATIONAL CANNING CONTEST

To ward off a threatened surplus of farm products in many sections and to impress more housewives with the economy and healthfulness of home canned foods, a National Canning Contest is now under way to find the best jar of canned fruit, vegetables and meat in the country. Two hundred and twenty-two cash prizes totaling $5,825 have been hung up by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, including a grand sweepstakes prize of $1,250 for the best jar of canned food entered in the contest. Any woman or girl is eligible to enter the contest, but entries must be in not later than October 1, 1929. Further information on the contest and free jar and entry blanks for sending in entries may be had by writing to Anne Williams, director, National Canning Contest, 925 S. Honan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.
