MARCH GARDEN NOTES GIVES PROPER USE OF MANURE

Manure should be applied to broadcast at the rate of 10 to 20 tons per acre as a garden fertilizer, depending on the state of the fertility of the soil. Ten tons an acre equals about fifty pounds per 100 square feet. Manure applied in spring should be well rotted. A combination of manure and superphosphate in the proportion of ten tons of manure to 500 pounds of superphosphate is good for most soils.

"Leafy vegetables such as cabbage, lettuce and spinach require nitrogen for their growth and this should be taken into consideration in using manure with a mixture of commercial fertilizer," says E. B. Morrow, Extension Horticulturist at State College. "Tomatoes respond best to manure combined with fertilizer containing a high percentage of phosphoric acid and moderate amounts of nitrogen and potash. Ten tons of manure per acre plus a complete fertilizer analyzing about 12 to 16 per cent phosphoric acid, 4 per cent nitrogen and 4 to 6 per cent potash should be used."

Mr. Morrow says that cantaloupes and watermelons do especially well when fertilized with manure. When applied in the hill, 5 or 10 pounds of manure per hill is not too much. A handful of superphosphate to each hill also is helpful on most soils. After the plants are established give one or two side dressings with a nitrogen fertilizer, especially on sandy soil.

Avoid the use of manure on Irish and sweet potatoes. It enriches the soil too much for sweet potatoes and may cause scab on Irish potatoes. If used to enrich soil for Irish potatoes it should be applied to a previous crop. Sweet potatoes do best on land of moderate fertility heavily fertilized. Both Irish and sweet potatoes respond best to fertilizers containing rather high percentages of potash.

POLITICAL PUNISHMENT

One frequently sees it stated that Mr. Simmons should not be punished for the course he essayed to take in the 1928 election.

What is political or party punishment? When a party man fails to come up to expectations, whether seeking re-election or aspiring to office, and is rejected, is that not party punishment?

At a crucial time, if a party man sulks or lags, has he a moral right to expect complete absolution for his laches?

It hardly is human to expect it, regardless of his past good offices. Some will condone the offense, but a big majority will not.

This state has two candidates for the vacancy on the Supreme Court Bench, caused by the sudden death of Justice Sanford, U. S. Circuit Judge Parker, a Republican and Judge Stacy, a Democrat, both are believed to measure up to the judicial size of a Supreme Court Justice and the State would be pleased to have either named. But it is not believed that Mr. Hoover is looking in this direction for an appointee. There may be a council that will tell him where to get his man.

Edward L. Dehony is on trial in Washington charged with bribing Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, in connection with the leasing of Government oil reserves, among them Teapot Dome. Dehony let Fall have $100,000 and took a one-day-after-date note without security. If it was not a bribe, what was it? If Fall had not been clothed with the power to lease oil reserves how much money could he have borrowed from Dehony on his unsecured note? Dehony may not be convicted, but if he escapes it will be by the "skin of his teeth."

The Jackson Day dinner in Raleigh last Saturday night was witnessed by about 1,500, all who could get in the large hall. There were 600 diners. Reports say it was a Bailey meeting, that is an overwhelming sentiment for Bailey prevailed though no mention of the candidacy of Bailey was made. One speaker mentioned Senator Simmons and it brought forth hisses. In large measure the speakers gave themselves to boosting Democracy and the accomplishments of the Democratic Party in the State and Nation and exposing the shortcomings of the Republican party.

Randolph county farmers have secured 40,000 pounds of grass and clover seed and are calling for more. All lespezeza seed in nearby counties is gone and county agent E. S. Millsaps, Jr., is trying to locate more lespezeza seed in states further south.

A dozen or more Richmond county cotton and tobacco farmers will plant a small acreage of tomatoes this year. Two of them, tobacco growers, have destroyed their tobacco beds and will plant tomatoes instead.

Three Rutherford county farmers last season produced more than 100 bushels of corn per acre. They were A. G. Hamrick, T. E. Dobbins and L. G. Nash.

Did You Ever Stop To Think
 (Copyright 1928)
 By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla.

That this is another day—another story about another city. One of the most fascinating cities on the Pacific coast is San Diego, California. Its corporate limits extend from National City on the south to Del Mar, 26 miles north and covers quite a territory.

I shall never forget the sight of San Diego as we sped over the top of a mountain in our motor car and saw the city in the distance. It was just as the shades of night closed down, and as man came with his tireless servant, electricity, and as the soft hues of the thousands of lights spread over the city, I reflected, "Truly, Nature and the handiwork of man have created a wonderful city, but in its illumination man has 'painted a lily.'"

While in the city I had the pleasure of being introduced to Mr. W. F. Raber, vice president and general manager of the San Diego Consolidated Gas & Electric Co. I found that Mr. Raber is like most San Diegians—let them know you are a stranger and they immediately become an enthusiastic guide.

I found that today San Diego is building a still greater harbor. Its largest payroll is that of Uncle Sam. Navy, army and marine establishments are extensive in physical investment and numerous in personnel. A fully equipped naval training station is established there, also a large permanent base for the marines, and a large airport.

San Diego does a great business commercially. Another great industry is that of living. It is said that San Diego has the best climate in the world.

San Diego has wonderful parks and schools, and the rows of stately trees lends much attraction to its residential sections.

In parting Mr. Raber told me that San Diego is advertising her charms throughout the world and that the city has everything necessary to make residents and visitors comfortable and happy.

SOW RED CLOVER; SEED ARE NOT EXPENSIVE

The present low price of red clover seed should be an incentive to the farmers of the piedmont section of North Carolina to sow more of this wonderful legume than ever before, declares E. C. Blair, extension agronomist of the agricultural extension service at State College.

At the present, says Mr. Blair, red clover seed is cheaper than it has been at any time since the World War, and the very best grade of American grown seed can now be bought for less than the best European seed cost a few years ago.

Mr. Blair does not urge the use of red clover to the discontinuance of the other legumes, for other varieties are excellent for various purposes, but none of them can take the place of red clover on the red clay soils which are found in many sections of Piedmont North Carolina.

On these red clay soils of the piedmont section of this state, red clover makes a very big yield of hay and on top of that a big growth to turn under in the fall to improve the soil for next year's crop of corn or cotton.

The best method of seeding red clover is to drill five to seven pounds per acre lightly over small grain, along with 100 to 200 pounds of acid phosphate or other fertilizer. The clover seed may be mixed with the fertilizer before drilling, or put in the small clover box with which many of the drills are equipped. The best time to sow the seed is usually the last few days of March.

There is no need to worry about inoculation for red clover, but it requires a fairly sweet soil. The rule is to apply one ton of ground limestone per acre for this crop.

CALDWELL 4-H BOYS PLANT BLACK WALNUTS

Two thousand black walnut trees were planted in Caldwell county last week by eighty 4-H club boys as their first effort toward replacing the fast diminishing supply of walnut timber. The trees were secured from the Alabama State Nursery as the supply of black walnut grown by the North Carolina State Nursery had been exhausted by heavy demand.

Caldwell county did not participate in the early distribution of black walnut trees, but recently a Caldwell citizen agreed to pay for 2,000 trees if the boys would plant them and keep records of their growth for five years.

While on a recent visit to Caldwell county, R. W. Graeber, extension forester at State College, assisted P. M. Hendricks, county agent, in presenting this program to the organized 4-H clubs of the county. He asked the boys to con-
