

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., JUNE 12, 1930.

ISSUED EVERY THURSDAY.

J. D. KERNODLE, Editor.

$1.00 A YEAR, IN ADVANCE.

Entered at the Postoffice at Graham, N. C., as second-class matter.

SATURDAY'S PRIMARY.

For the first time North Carolina had a state-wide primary last Saturday with the Australian ballot, and it worked out fairly satisfactory. Under it the voter could vote without his vote being scrutinized.

The outstanding issue was the nomination of a candidate for United States Senator.

From the time the first returns were given out, the nomination of Bailey was indicated.

More than 80 of the 100 counties cast their vote for Bailey and against Simmons, piling up a majority of some 70,000 in the state. At seven of the 20 precincts in Alamance Simmons was given a majority, but the total was 2637 for Bailey against 1262 for Simmons.

For Corporation Commissioner R. P. Pell was renominated. Alamance gave him 2072 against 1174 for J. H. Holloway.

For Congress Frank Hancock won over A. F. Sams in the district by some 10,000. Alamance gave Hancock 2662 to 1220 for Sams.

For House of Representatives the vote was 2394 for J. Dolph Long, 550 for W. L. Spoon, and 851 for Roba B. Newlin.

For Register of Deeds there were four candidates. The vote was 1739 for J. G. Tingen, 1147 for W. V. Winingham, 568 for W. S. Harris, 368 for T. O. Pender.

For Sheriff the contest was a little more vigorous than for any of the county offices—H. J. Stockard lead with 1739; W. V. Copeland, 948; John A. Leath, 932; H. T. Hannah, 317.

For County Commissioners there were 13 candidates, five to be nominated. The result was 2626 for F. L. Williamson, 1851 for L. C. Guthrie, 1632 for E. C. Turner, 1624 for C. W. Gordon, 1386 for E. R. Hanford, 1383 for A. G. Porterfield, 1334 for E. L. Boswell, 1285 for A. K. Hardee, 1275 for W. H. Bryan, 1190 for Walter Stainback, 1182 for C. R. Love, 869 for G. A. Nicholson, 535 for W. C. Carter.

For Coroner: 2111 for Dr. R. M. Troxler; 1615 for W. Ernest Thompson.

E. H. Murray for Clerk Superior Court and Lewis H. Holt for surveyor had no opposition. The former received 3394 votes and the latter 3404.

For County Board of Education, C. P. Albright, E. J. Braxton, J. J. Lambeth, J. E. Sellers and W. M. Brown were renominated without opposition, except Mr. Brown, who entered to take the place of Walter R. Sellers who declined to enter the race again.

Though there was talking around, there will be no second primary for any of the offices.

The candidates have shown real sportsmanship in giving away to those receiving the highest vote. A second primary, more than likely, would not have changed the status but would have created some enmities.

The ticket nominated is composed of worthy, capable men—and should command the support of the party as a unit and be acceptable to the opposition.

On the Democratic ticket in the primary, not mentioned above was Thos. L. Estep. He polled 32 votes in the county. Running for U. S. Senate.

On the Republican Senatorial ticket were four candidates. Two of them, George E. Butler and George M. Pritchard, lead in the vote. The former received 101 votes, the latter 73; but Pritchard was nominated by a comfortable majority in the State.

A CONTRAST.

Col. John D. Langston of Goldsboro, supporter of Mr. Simmons, spoke in the court house here last Friday night to an audience that at no time exceeded sixty and ten to fifteen less most of the time. He assailed Mr. Bailey with all his power from every possible angle for a full hour, but failed to "damn him with faint praise." It was no vote-getting speech. He almost forgot to recount any of the good things in the record of Mr. Simmons, so bent was he in slaughtering his opponent.

A part of the while Col. Langston was inveighing so vehemently against Mr. Bailey, the latter was in Raleigh making his first and last speech of the campaign which was being broadcasted over the State. After the Col. had finished you could hear Mr. Bailey over the radio in an impassioned speech, pleading for a united Democracy and continued ascendancy of the party in the state. He did not name the name of his rival and made no charges against him. Victory for the party was the keynote.

What a contrast!

The government budgeters at Washington must have slipped more than one cog in their estimate of expenses for government activities during the fiscal term. Or, perhaps, this second deficiency bill which calls for a direct outlay of $66,217,884 and indefinite allotments of more than $51,000,000, aggregating around $118,000,000, is for the purpose of preventing a hoard of money that the country direly needs now to prevent the further slumping of the country's business activities. In the report of the application of the funds the bill proposes to appropriate, it is noted that: three cities in North Carolina will share for building purposes—High Point, $400,000; Lumberton, $105,000; New Bern (Senator Simmons' home), increase from $211,000 to $325,000.

Prof. Frank P. Graham, about 45, born in Fayetteville, graduate of and teacher at the University, was elected president of the institution Monday to succeed Dr. Chase, resigned. That he preferred the class room to the promotion is not a bad omen. To sum up his fitness for the place in a sentence, it would read somewhat thus: He enjoys the confidence and esteem of the faculty, the love and admiration of the student body, and is endowed with requisite qualities of mind and heart. This after reading some of the much that has been said of him.

Over in the 12th Judicial district, composed of Guilford, Forsyth and Stokes counties, John D. Humphreys of Stokes, A. Wayland Cooke and Thos. C. Hoyle were candidates for the nomination for Superior Court Judge. Humphreys led but without a majority over all; Cooke was next. The latter, though he and his friends felt sure he could win in a second primary, generously waived his ambition for the sake of party harmony. That was good politics and will bear fruit at some future time.

The reported "Simmons machine" has been dismantled and Mr. Simmons has been consigned to private life after a political career of near half a century—longer and more powerful than that given to any other citizen at any time. He transgressed his party's traditions and circumvented his own downfall. His undoing is pathetic. It is wondered whether the thing would have happened had Aus. Watts, the master wheel in the Simmons machine, lived. It is not believed that it would.

Some of us got what we wanted in the primary, and some didn't, but all should get together in supporting those named.

State Farm Convention Announced for July

The annual meeting of the State Farmers' convention and the State Federation of Home Demonstration clubs will be held at State college, Raleigh, July 29 to August 1, and will be followed during the next week, August 4 to 9, by the annual short course for 4-H club members.

"We expect to have the program of the Farm convention completed by the second week in June and printed by the first week in July," says Dean I. O. Schaub, secretary of the convention this year. "Our opening meeting will be held in Pullen hall, Tuesday morning, July 29, at 10 o'clock. From then until the convention closes on Friday, there will be an interesting round of lectures, demonstrations and amusements. We hope to report on progress of the live-at-home campaign and to measure the adoption of the long time program of agricultural work which was prepared at the last convention."

Dean Schaub says there is a strong likelihood that A. M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture for the United States, will attend. Mr. Hyde was invited some months ago and though he has not yet given his consent, Dean Schaub expects his attendance. Last year about 1,000 men and equally as many women registered for the convention. It is expected that a larger number will attend this year. The college is preparing for the meeting much in advance this time so that a better program and better facilities may be assured.

B. B. Everett, of Palmyra, president of the convention this year, has held several conferences with Dean Schaub, Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, Mrs. Estelle T. Smith and C. A. Sheffield relative to the program. Mr. Everett is taking an active interest in the convention and says he wants it to be one of the best in the long history of the organization.
