COUNTY AFFAIRS

For several weeks past much has been written about Alamance county affairs. The purpose of it has been chiefly an arraignment of the Democratic administration in comparison with the present, Republican, administration.

In an attempt to audit the sheriff's office nearly two years ago, when the Republicans came upon the stage, Mr. J. D. Hightower was contacted with to do the job.

This audit was launched the day following the induction of the present board of commissioners into office. It was a proper move in order that the new administration might get its bearings. The wholly unnecessary part of this audit was its scope which covered four or five years, going back to 1923, for which years an audit had been made.

Whether those audits were complete and sufficient, or not, no blame therefor could attach to the new administration. But it was a proper step to "take stock" of what was being handed over.

Mr. Hightower stated to the board that he was unable to complete the audit on account of not being able to find certain old tax receipt stubs which had been audited and discarded.

It is not believed that this audit was started with a hope that any considerable treasure could be uncovered and recovered, but that it was purely a partisan move. That it was partisan appears to be confirmed by the fact that Mr. Hightower's statement was published with a flourish when he gave up the undertaking and printed again as political propaganda.

In connection with this audit, the people should remember a statement made prior to the last election by the candidates now in office about handling the county affairs economically.

This first gesture was anything but economical, as will appear from the bills rendered for the proposed service.

Mr. Hightower's bill for himself and assistants, including traveling and meals, dated June 25, 1929, amounts to $2,750.45.

But Mr. Hightower did not finish the task, which A. M. Pullen & Co. were called upon to complete. Their bill dated Dec. 31, 1929, as of Dec. 6, 1929, called for $4,185.24. Here is a total of $6,935.69 of Alamance county tax money spent for economy's sake!

The present county administration has not been heard to proclaim from the housetops anything about the cost of this audit. But when the county election board ordered a new registration of the voters of Burlington township, a great furor was raised about such gross waste and extravagance, which, had the number of voting precincts been increased to twelve as requested would have cost the county not exceeding $400, instead of more than $4,000.00, as the Republican economists tried to show.

What is the difference between nearly $7,000,000, and less than $400.00?

Maj Charles M. Stedman's condition has not improved. He is critically ill at a hospital in Washington. His age is against every hope that he may recover. Last reports said he was critically ill.

It is expected the big tobacco manufacturers and the buyers will at once advance prices. With the old Tri-State association out of the way, buyers bought at their own price and have reaped a golden harvest at the expense of the growers. The consumption has steadily grown. The low prices cannot be charged to overproduction. There has been no appreciable reduction in prices paid by consumers.

Some 2,000 tobacco growers met in Raleigh Wednesday for the purpose of doing something to help get better prices for the weed. They voted solidly for the formation of a tobacco co-operative on marketing association. The prices have been ruinously low thus far this season. It is confidently predicted that better prices will be paid, even before the organization is fully established.

Hon. Josiah W. Bailey, Democratic candidate for the United States senate, spoke to a very large audience in Burlington Saturday night. The unbiased pronounce it a great speech.

1930 Crop Expected To Be Largest Ever

Raleigh, Sept. 14.—Discussing the condition by belts of the 1930 tobacco crop, predicted at 511,550,000 pounds, the largest in the history of the state, the crop reporting service of the state-federal departments of agriculture Saturday forecast the production of the respective belts as follows:

Type 13, grown on the South Carolina border, 44,300,000 pounds as compared with 38,753,000 last year.

Type 12, grown in the eastern or new bright leaf belt, 280,000,000 as compared with a 1929 total of 248,000,000.

Type 11, grown in the Piedmont or old tobacco belt, 183,000,000 pounds as compared with 206,000,000 last year, the only belt to show a reduction, due to weather conditions.

Type 31, grown in the extreme western part of the state, 4,250,000 as compared with 4,100,000 pounds last year.

While the North Carolina crop is expected to show a 2.8 per cent increase over last years crop the total United States crop is only 93.5 per cent of last year's crop.

Corn prospects in North Carolina declined about three per cent, a crop of 46,776,000 bushels being predicted for this year on September 1 condition as compared with a crop of 48,568,000 bushels last year.

Hay production, which is usually heavy in the mountain counties, is seriously affected the indicated production for the year being 627,000 tons.

TOBACCO MEETING

A mass meeting of farmers, warehousemen and business men of Alamance was held in the courthouse at Graham, Tuesday, September 16, 1930, at 11 o'clock. The meeting was called by County Agent Kerr Scott, at the request of I. O. Schaub, director of the state department at Raleigh. The object of the meeting was to elect a delegate to represent Alamance county at Governor Gardner's tobacco relief commission to be held in Raleigh September 17, 1930, at 11 o'clock a.m.

A. G. Porterfield was duly elected chairman. E. C. Rumbley was made secretary.

After a very interesting discussion of conditions, participated in by all interests represented, Mayor Earl B. Horner, of Burlington, was unanimously elected representative.

W. KERR SCOTT, County Agent.

Altamahaw 4-H Calf Club Holds Community Show

On September 9 the Altamahaw 4-H club held its annual club show. The prospects for a show at Altamahaw this year did not look so bright, but a determined bunch of young Jersey breeders could not stand to see their club show go under. Late in the afternoon of the ninth these young Jersey breeders brought out to the Altamahaw school house fourteen nice pure bred Jerseys. The animals were judged by Mr. A. C. Kimrey of the dairy extension department. As the animals were placed in the different classes, the club member owning the animal was paid a cash prize. The prize money for this show was furnished by the Burlington Kiwanis club. The Burlington Kiwanis club is encouraging the young Jersey breeders in their fight to keep Alamance county progressing.

Young Mr. James Gilliam is president of the Altamahaw 4-H club and Miss Mildred Kernodle is secretary.

News of Whitsett.

Whitsett, Sept. 12.—Mrs. A. C. Brewer of Winston-Salem reached here yesterday and will spend a few days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hammond of Pennsylvania are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nuckols. Mrs. Hammond was before her marriage, Miss Katherine Klinger, a sister of Mrs. Nuckols.

Misses Mary and Pauline Sink of Winston-Salem who have been on a visit to Elon College and Burlington are here for a visit with friends.

The young men's Bible class of Friedens church met yesterday evening for a Brunswick stew at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ray, near the church.

Dr. Lewis A. Law of Lexington, Va., who spent some years here in school was married on September 3 to Miss Evelyn Thompson. For some years he has been a successful dentist.

Rev. U. S. Heavener of Hyattsville, Md., has recently published a booklet entitled New River Settlements that is of much interest to many in this part of the state. He discusses the settlement of New River in Virginia by the pioneers and shows that some came from the Haw River section of North Carolina where they had first located in 1745, going there from Pennsylvania, "crossing Maryland and Virginia in wagons." Among these were John and William H. Trollinger and sisters, and Jacob Smith. The Trollingers and John Philip Hevner settled at a point called Newbourn. These Trollingers were of the family of Adam Trollinger whose tombstone still stands at the Trollinger Memorial M. P. church on the west bank of Haw River in the town of Haw River, N. C. On this stone we can read today: "Born on the Rhine 1681; came to America 1737; and died 1776." He landed at Philadelphia 1738, and together with a company came down into North Carolina in 1745. We quote: "They were instrumental in building a union Lutheran and Reformed church, and located on a pike leading from Salisbury to Hillsboro, at Haw River." Henry Trollinger was a son of Jacob, he was a Revolutionary soldier, on the pension list of 1831, and died 1844.

The sisters who went to Virginia were Mary, Barbara and Elizabeth Trollinger.

Among the Virginia families who trace back to these early Trollingers today are the Heavener, McCoy, Elliott, Durham, Hoge and Darst families.

In the recently translated Helmsstaedt university papers, and the reports of Rev. Adolph Nussmann, a Lutheran minister who came to

NORTH CAROLINA—Alamance County

This the 9th day of September, 1930.
E. H. MURRAY, C. S. C.

North Carolina in 1773, we read: "The first charge in Guilford county consists of four churches—located some distance along Haw River. (See North Carolina Historical Review, January 1930). This links up with the information about the year 1745. Investigations now under way hope to reveal the work of Rev. Peter Brugell, and perhaps that of Rev. Samuel Brugell, early ministers who are supposed to have been in this first field of settlement, later going to Virginia, where we have a definite record of their work. All these ministers serve to throw much light on that period from 1750 to 1770, about which so little has formerly been known.
