

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., MAY 28, 1931.

LOCAL NEWS

A number from here attended the commencement exercises at Elon College.

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle is presiding at Superior Court which opened Monday.

Memorial services will be held at Phillips Chapel, east of Swepsonville, Sunday.

Next Monday is the regular monthly meeting day of the County Commissioners.

Dr. W. C. Wicker will fill his pulpit at Graham Christian church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Saturday, May 30th, is National Memorial Day, when Federal employees, postmasters, rural carriers, etc., will have a holiday.

Hon. W. B. Umstead of Durham, State Solicitor and veteran of the World War, will deliver a memorial address at Burlington Sunday afternoon.

The Firemen's Jubilee at the courthouse last Thursday night was well attended, and the music and other features were very much enjoyed by the audience.

Dr. Henry Louis Smith made a very excellent address to the student body and congregation in the auditorium of Graham Public school last Sunday night.

Work is progressing on laying the gas mains from Burlington to Graham, and it will not be many weeks before gas will be available here for domestic purposes.

Graham School exercises will close tomorrow night with an address by E. S. Parker, Jr., and the delivery of diplomas and certificates. Tonight the graduating exercises will be given in the form of a play.

"Live - at - Home" exposition, June 1 to 6, opens in Burlington next Monday. It is sponsored by the American Legion. It will be a gala week. Burlington is "spreading" herself to make it worthwhile and of interest to all who attend.

On last Friday evening, at its regular weekly meeting, Graham Kiwanis Club had the pleasure of listening to an address by Rev. N. N. Fleming, pastor of Hawthfields Presbyterian church. He chose the dynamic and problematic subject, "the value of a boy," as the basis of his remarks.

The final exercises of the 41st Commencement at Elon College took place Tuesday. Fifty seniors were awarded diplomas and degrees. The resignation of Dr. W. A. Harper as president was accepted by the board of trustees, but a successor was not chosen. The trustees will take time to consider those mentioned and to cast about.

Besides other civil matters heard by the Superior Court this week, so far five divorces have been granted as follows: Male Bolin vs. Clonie Bolin—adultery; Jack Paul vs. Bertha Neal Paul—adultery; Adell Warren Evans vs. Remus Evans—abandonment; Sophronia Grant vs. Boyce Grant—adultery; Wm. C. Cox vs. Ora Foster Cox—abandonment.

Jack, Mr. Edgar Long's old horse, died yesterday. Jack was nearly 24 years old. Mr. Long raised him. Jack and his master spent many happy hours together. They were real pals—in the chilly days of winter and in the sultry days of summer. Jack's carcass was not given to the vultures for a prey nor his bones left to bleach on some deserted hillside. He had a decent burial—that much is due a faithful steed that responded to his master's every command.

Friends of Stephen G. McLean, who lives near Swepsonville, will regret to learn that he is sick and that his condition is near critical. He was for about ten years Register of Deeds for Alamance county, succeeding his father, Thomas G. McLean. The latter died the latter part of July, 1881. He was at his post and wrote up the minutes of the County Commissioners for their meeting on the first Monday of July. The Commissioners at their meeting on Monday, Aug. 8, 1881, elected Stephen G. McLean to the vacancy caused by the death of his father. The next three, J. H. Watson, P. A. Mitchell and Chas. C. Thompson, who held the office are now dead. There are two ex-Registers of Deeds, Chas. D. Johnston of Elori College and Ben M. Rogers of Graham, living.

LINES BY DR. DANIEL ALBRIGHT LONG

I'm so glad! I'm so glad! for all that is bright,
The sun by day, and the "Songs in the night,"
The companions of youth, the friends of old age,
As I read God's dealings, on every living page.

Yes, let us thank God today and tomorrow,
In mercy He sends the blessing and sorrow;
It is never unkindness, and never in vain,
His mercy permitted a sorrow or pain.

O Father, we can trust Thee, for days yet to be,
We know they will bring us still closer to Thee;
When all tears have vanished, through Thy boundless love,
We will spend our eternity in the mansions above.

—Lines by Daniel Albright Long, who will be 87, May 22, 1931. Myrtle Cottage, 108 North Guerry Street, Florence, S. C.

The Gleaner published these lines a year or so ago in commemoration of our venerable and distinguished friend. Dr Long is a native of Alamance. His birthplace is about two miles east of Graham. May he celebrate many more anniversaries.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

"Made in North Carolina Week," June 1-6

WHEREAS, North Carolina is endowed with great natural resources that should be utilized more effectively for the benefit of all the people of the State in manufacturing processes, and

WHEREAS, the State has made material strides in the development of industries for the exploitation of these natural advantages, but since the development of these resources has hardly begun despite this record progress;

THEREFORE, as Governor of North Carolina, I proclaim the period of June 1-6, as

"MADE IN NORTH CAROLINA WEEK"

and call upon every citizen of the State and every organization interested in her continued progress to join in the celebration of the occasion with suitable programs and other features calling attention to her products and the need of more industries to utilize raw materials in manufacturing processes. Such a development must be brought about if the people of North Carolina are to realize their rightful proportion of wealth and advantages accruing from wise exploitation of their natural resources.

I urge particularly the manufacturers and merchants of the State to use every facility at their command to familiarize the public with the industrial products of North Carolina to the end that a better appreciation may be had of their place in the lives of the people and that further development may be encouraged. With the whole-hearted co-operation of the manufacturers and merchants, North Carolina can stage what may correctly be termed an original and unique State-wide Industrial Exposition with local features in every community.

During the week of June 1-6, I trust that every merchant's display window will be an exhibit booth for North Carolina-made products and that insofar as is practicable his shelves will be sales counters for these same goods. The further suggestion is made that all articles originating in the State be so designated by appropriate tags, labels or banners.

I also urge upon the public the desirability of visiting the stores of merchants co-operating in the movement and inspecting the wares marked as having been made in this State. As a contribution to a return of better times and a general stimulation of business, I commend to the buying public the desirability of purchasing as much as possible of its needs during "Made in North Carolina Week." If this movement receives the impetus and public co-operation which has been indicated, I believe that it will have a salutary effect on business which will be reflected to the benefit of every rural and city dweller of the State.

Done at our Capital City of Raleigh this thirteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and in the one hundred and fifty-five year of our American Independence.

O. MAX GARDNER,
Governor of North Carolina.

By the Governor:
Tyne Taylor, Private Secretary.

ington Sunday morning. The funeral and burial were conducted at Bethel M. P. church in the Southern part of the county Monday afternoon.

E. S. Marlowe, 65, died at Rainey Hospital about noon last Thursday. He and his wife were natives of England, coming to America many years ago. Their former home was Commerce, Ga., where the body was carried for burial.

Daniel Rankin Shepherd, 83, died last Friday in the Brick Church community where he had spent almost his entire life. The funeral and burial were at Brick Church at 1:30 Sunday afternoon. His widow, two daughters, one son and a brother survive him.

Samuel Soots, 68, well known citizen of Kimesville section and connected with the Kimesville cotton mills for a number of years, died Tuesday morning. His widow, a daughter and two sons survive him. The funeral and burial were conducted at Mt. Pleasant church Wednesday.
