GRAHAM, N. C., JULY 23, 1931.

LOCAL NEWS

June brides is a myth. Little cares Cupid whether it's July or January.

Time to sow turnip seed for early fall crop—not necessary to put it off till the first Thursday in August.

Mrs. W. B. Quakenbush has been sick for a few days and her sister, Mrs. W. L. Smith of Gibsonville, is with her.

Mrs. Louis C. Allen is giving a bridge luncheon today, honoring Miss Elise Thompson who is to be married on August 1st.

W. Sherman Vestal a day or so ago threshed a crop of oats from four and a half acres that averaged 73 bushels per acre.

It rained here Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday evening. They were just refreshing showers, not badly needed but helpful.

Rev. J. Clyde Auman, pastor of Graham M. P. church, is spending this week at Clarksburg, W. Va., teaching in a training school.

Rains have fallen in patches lately, it seems. As near as Gibsonville rain is much needed, it is learned, while this section has at no time for several weeks suffered for rain.

Col Don E. Scott, Drs. H. B. Moore and W. C. Goley, and Kirk Hardee, Billy Scott and Chas. C. Thompson, Jr., who were with Co. A, 120th Infantry, N. C. N. G., at Camp Glenn, returned home the last of last week.

It would be a fitting and gracious act on the part of the President to appoint Mrs. J. R. Guthrie postmistress for Graham to fill out the unexpired term of her husband and to the vacancy caused by his death, and that without the formality of an examination.

N. C. Shiver, recently elected County Agent, went to Charlotte yesterday to bring his family to Graham. After August first they will occupy the home of Mrs. Jas. M. Turner, who, with her little niece, Betty John Foust, will move to Barium Springs next week to make her home with her sister, Miss Fannie Foust.

Mr. John R. Owens of Buffalo, N. Y., arrived here Monday with his three-months old son and Miss Ida Clapp, who has spent the past four months at his home. Mrs. Owens, who was Miss Alma Clapp, died on April 20th when her babe was but four days old. The baby will live in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. R. Clapp.

A year's subscription to The Gleaner is sold for $1.00 — it is worth $1.50. Wheat is actually selling here for 60 cts. per bushel (less than half what it is worth). At other places it is selling for less (out West as low as 25 cts. per bushel). If you want to pay for a year's subscription to The Gleaner with a bushel of wheat, The Gleaner will give you a year's credit for each bushel you bring.

Referee Hayden Burke of Taylorsville is here hearing a proceeding against the directors of the defunct Central Loan & Trust Co. brought by the trustees to determine the liability of the directors on account of dividends and bonuses paid when the company was insolvent. The defendants in the action are: M. B. Smith, R. T. Kernodle, Dr. J. A. Pickett, C. D. Johnston, George W. Patterson estate, Mrs. A. V. Ray Boone, C. M. Huffman, W. W. Brown and H. Frank Mitchell. Defending them are: J. Dolph Long, Tom Carter and H. J. Rhodes, while the trustees are represented by: L. B. McLendon, W. S. Coulter, Cooper Hall, E. S. W. Dameron, J. S. Cook, D. J. Walker and John R. Hoffman.

Among the Sick.

Mrs. J. L. Scott, Jr., who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis in a Greensboro hospital on Monday morning, June 29, had sufficiently recovered to leave the hospital last Saturday, friends here will be pleased to learn.

Mr. Sam T. Johnston is quite sick at his home on E. Harden St.

Spanish-American war veterans closed their eighth annual convention in Raleigh Tuesday. John L. Booth of Charlotte was chosen commander of the North Carolina Department. The next meeting will be held in Charlotte.

Albright. The Albright home was on South Maple St., opposite the L. Banks Holt residence. Mr. Albright was a merchant and prominent citizen of the town for many years. He died more than 30 years ago.

Jasper Rowland Guthrie, Postmaster, Dies at Home Here.

After about six months sickness, Jasper Rowland Guthrie, aged 42 years, died at his home here at 9:25 Tuesday morning. He was the son of Mrs. Emma Guthrie and the late A. T. Guthrie, and is survived by his mother; his widow, who was Miss Norva Wood; three brothers, Henry, Clyde and Hobart Guthrie, and three sisters, Mrs. C. F. Robinson, Mrs. Ethel Linnins and Miss Ella Guthrie, all of Graham.

The funeral was conducted from the M. E. church at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by his pastor, Rev. J. L. Rowland, assisted by Rev. D. V. Pike, in the presence of a large congregation of sorrowing relatives and friends, and the interment followed in Linwood cemetery.

Mr. Guthrie was born in the southeastern part of the county and came here with his parents when quite young. He grew to manhood here and was highly esteemed by his associates and all with whom he came in contact.

For nearly ten years he had been postmaster for Graham and was serving on his third appointment when he passed away. He was efficient in the discharge of his duties, and ever courteous and pleasant to the patrons of the office.

Mr. Guthrie had an attack of influenza in the early part of the year that was followed by pneumonia, from the effects of which never recovered. He spent about two months at Duke Hospital, having the best of medical attention, but all proved unavailing.

At the funeral service, the large auditorium of the M. E. church was filled to overflowing with friends and relatives from over the county and elsewhere, and the service was very impressive. A beautiful solo was sung by Mrs. Dewey Farrell of Greensboro. Rev. and Mrs. John M. Permar of Asheboro, former residents of Graham, sang a duet in their splendid way. Then the male quartette, consisting of J. B. Farrell, J. DeWitt Foust, C. F. Clapp and John Frederick, sang a selection. Mr. Guthrie was a member of the quartette and had often sang with them.

Many beautiful floral designs were placed upon the casket by friends as tributes of esteem, and during the funeral hour business was suspended in Graham as a mark of respect to the deceased.

Active pall bearers were: G. N. Guthrie, J. G. Guthrie, Carey Guthrie, Walker Guthrie, Bud Perry, and Bill Perry.

Honorary pall bearers were: C. A. Thompson, B. R. Trollinger, W. R. Freshwater, John Jones, Harvey Ellington, A. G. Ausley, Will Dixon, Floyd Phillips, George Fowler, Hal Farrell, R. H. Farrell and Dr. E. I. Nott.

Flower bearers were: Mesdames B. R. Trollinger, George Fowler, Maude Compton, C. M. Eullis, Floyd Phillips, Hal Farrell, Agnes Burke, Carrie M. Therrell, A. G. Ausley, W. M. Williams, Walter Woods, L. L. Guy, F. A. Slate, W. E. Farris, R. L. Walker, Lee Andrews, Misses Elise Thompson, Velna Straughn, Margaret Straughn, Josephine Phillips, Irma Dell Phillips, Margaret Moore, Louise Moore, Elsie Rae Guthrie, Nannie Burke, Muri Robertson, Maud Guthrie, Mamie Fogleman, Selwyn Wharton and Ella Mae Guthrie.

DEATHS.

Thelma Iola, 11-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gates, died at Glen Raven last Friday. Funeral services were held at the home and the burial was in Brown's Chapel churchyard.

Mrs. Lizzie May Burke, 38, died last Saturday afternoon at Burlington Mills, near Graham station. She is survived by her husband, H. E. Burke, and a son and a daughter. The burial was in Pine Hill cemetery.

Mrs. F. D. Stanley, 36, West Burlington, died last Sunday afternoon after a week's illness. The body was carried to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McKinney, at Ruffin, Monday and interment was in the family cemetery. Besides her husband and parents, she is survived by three children, Julian Hugh and Lilla; and a brother and four sisters.

George W. Davenport, 71, died Tuesday morning at Whitsett where he had made his home for the past 25 years. He was a native of Gaston county. At one time he lived in Alamance county. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Donnie I. Greeson of Burlington, and a son, Rev. R. K. Davenport of Willow Springs, N. C. Funeral services were conducted at the home yesterday and interment in Pine Hill cemetery.

Edgar Long and Party Return After Touching 19 States.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long, their daughter, Mrs. W. Ernest Thompson, and Mr. Thompson and their young daughter, Miss Sara Bell Thompson, and Mrs. Long's niece, Miss Lila Bell, arrived at their home in Graham about 11 o'clock last Thursday night in spick-and-span condition from their extensive tour.

They left here in a 7-passenger Cadillac on the morning of June 9th and got back home on the evening of July 14th, after an itinerary of 38 days, in which they touched 19 states and traveled approximately 8,500 miles.

They traveled directly from here to Denver, Colorado, where they visited at the home of Mrs. Long's niece, Mrs. D. K. Wolfe, daughter of Dr. Daniel Albright Long.

From this point they really began their tour. Mrs. Wolfe accompanied them to the Grand Canyons and Portland, Oregon, and thence down the Pacific coast to Los Angeles. They did not, as formerly stated, go to Seattle, Washington. Neither did they go to Southern California nor dip into Mexico, being advised that it was too hot.

From their farthest south in California they turned east and passed through the partially barren and thinly populated states of Arizona and New Mexico into the Lone Star State.

Once, with their faces turned homeward, they did not take up much time sight-seeing.

Mr. Long took notes along the way, and may have something to say later, but we have not had access to his diary.

To have made so long a journey without any mishaps worth noting is an unusual experience.

The party was glad to be at home again and their friends were just as glad to see them.

Peter Thompson, Aged Farmer, Shot to Death.

The news reached here early this morning that Peter Thompson, aged 78 years, was murdered last night at his home in Thompson township in the Phillips Chapel section.

Marvin Dodson, a young man living with Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, went away about sundown and upon returning at 10 o'clock heard Mrs. Thompson, an invalid and sick in an adjoining room, screaming and telling of the tragedy. Dodson went for neighbors to come.

They found Mr. Thompson dead in his bed where he slept with his head near an open window and a bullet hole in the back of his head.

A coroner's inquest this morning shed no light on the deed, and so far as known there is no clue as to the assassin.

Mr. Thompson was a quiet hard-working man and lived at peace with his neighbors and within calling distance of the spot where he was born and spent his long life. No motive has been suggested for the taking of his life. The burial will take place at Phillips Chapel, the church he attended, Friday morning.

State Farmers' and Farm Women's Convention Next Week.

Raleigh, July 21.—Officials of the State Farmers' and Farm Women's convention, which will be held at State College the last week in July, have dedicated Tuesday afternoon and night, July 28, to "Cooperative Marketing."

At two o'clock, U. Benton Blalock, vice-president and general manager of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative Association, will speak at an open meeting in the college Y. M. C. A., on "The North Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative Association — Its Progress and Its Future."

Mr. Blalock will be followed by a Representative of the Federal Farm Board who will explain "The Work of the Federal Farm Board and Its Relation to the North Carolina Farmer."

Ending a series of contests in which several thousand students from 123 State high schools participated, the State final essay contest of the association will be held in Pullen Hall at 8 o'clock.

The four district winners who will compete for first prize of $50 and a free trip to Washington are: Elizabeth Barrington, of Raleigh, Central District; Howard Williams, Bunn, Eastern; Beatrice Lockerman, Salemburg, Southern; and Vera Arwood, Polkville, Western. Approximately 2,000 farm men and women are expected to attend the convention and discuss farming and farm problems with each other and with State College officials and outside experts.

Miss Thompson and Dr. Vest Will Wed August 1st.

The following announcement is of interest to a host of friends in Alamance and elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aubrey Thompson request the pleasure of your company at the wedding reception of their daughter Sarah Elise and

Dr. Samuel Alexander Vest on the afternoon of Saturday, the first day of August from half after four until six o'clock

North Main Street Graham, North Carolina

Ceremony at Four o'Clock

The bride-elect has lived in Graham all her life and is one of Graham's most popular and highly esteemed young women. She was educated in the city schools and the Greensboro College for Women. After her college course she took piano in Boston two years under a nationally known musician.

Dr. Vest is the son of Capt. and Mrs. S. A. Vest of Haw River. He is a graduate of Duke University. After his academic work he took the four-year medical course at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and is now an interne in Johns Hopkins and specializing in surgery.

The marriage of these two popular, well known and highly esteemed young people is looked forward to with eager interest by their large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Lee-Longest.

Town Clerk and Treasurer Carl Longest disappeared from his office the middle of last week and, a day or two later tidings of his doings and whereabouts came, couched in terms as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis Lee announce the marriage of their daughter,

Mabel Margaret to Mr. Walter Carl Longest on Thursday the sixteenth of July

Scranton, South Carolina. Will be at Home After the twenty-sixth of July

South Main Street, Graham, North Carolina. Carl has lots of friends who will wish him a delightful cruise on the matrimonial sea and that his ship will ever be laden with sunshine and happiness.

Burlington Times Newspaper Office Had Fire Friday Night.

About 10 o'clock last Friday night fire was discovered in the newspaper office of the Burlington Daily Times and Semi-Weekly News.

The Times office is in Burlington's foremost and most compact business block and the discovery of the fire in its incipency was very fortunate. Had the fire gained much headway the fifty or more business firms in the block would have been jeopardized.

Fortunately, however, the fire was confined to the Times building, second floor, and the plant did not suffer greatly from the fire, but it was deluged with water, causing considerable damage to presses, linotypes, other machinery, paper stock and furnishings. None but an expert could express the damage in figures. How the fire started is not known.

The newspaper's force, immediately after there was no further danger from fire, set themselves to the task of preparing to get out Saturday afternoon's paper, and with commendable energy they issued a paper, only with fewer pages, and without outside help.

The Graham Fire department responded promptly to a call for help and in just a few minutes was on the scene and helping the Burlington Firemen.

The Gleaner congratulates the Times and News in being left in a condition to go forward and help themselves.

FIVE FARM WOMEN SELECTED FOR HONOR

Wayne, Currituck, Vance, Jones and Rowan counties have had honor brought to the m with the announcement last week that farm women residing in these counties have been selected for the title of Master Farm Homemaker by the North Carolina State college cooperating with the Farmers' Wife, a national farm women's publication of St. Paul, Minnesota.

The women selected for this title are Mrs. E. L. Peele of Pikesville, Wayne county; Mrs. J. J. Forbes, Sr., Shawboro, Currituck county; Mrs. L. E. Barnes of Henderson, Vance county; Mrs. Annie C. Hay of Maysville, Jones county, and Mrs. J. F. McKnight of China Grove, Rowan county. The public ceremonies during which the recognition will be bestowed will take place Wednesday evening, July 29, at the 29th annual meeting of the North Carolina Farmers' and Farm Women's convention.

The exercises begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock with Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon presiding. An address will be made by Miss Lucille Reynolds, of the editorial staff of The Farmers' Wife, and each of the five women will be called upon for a brief response telling something of her work and accomplishments in the past several years.

The five women selected for this honor were nominated by their neighbors and were chosen from a list of hundreds of such nominees. A committee appointed by the magazine and the home demonstration department of State college then studied the nominees carefully and especially the answers to about 500 questions. The final selection was made after carefully considering the work done by the women in managing their homes, education and development of their children, community work and the health records of their families. Each one has made some notable contribution to her community and state, says Mrs. McKimmon.
