News Review of Current Events the World Over

Secretary Mills Offers Treasury's Tax Bill-Congress Slashes More Supply Measures—Developments in the Presidential Campaign.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

SECRETARY OGDEN L. MILLS and | 24,000 shorts as of April 8, and the his associates in the Treasury department have laid before the senate mittee their revised program for raising $1,-033,000,000 for the purpose of balancing the national hudget. The bill they offer rejects those features of measure passed by the house which makes extreme raises in normal income tax rates, surtax rates corporation income taxes and estate taxes, restoring these taxes to the level of the rates as they were in 1924.

Mr. Mills proposed a compromise on taxing stock sales. The house bill provides a tax of one-fourth of 1 per cent, but not less than four cents a share. The secretary would make it a straight four cents a share tax. Most of the excise taxes in the house bill he rejects, but proposes a tax of three-fourths of one cent a gallon on domestic gasoline, which is not taxed in the house bill.

Mr. Mills' program does not differ much from the last recommendations he submitted to the house ways and means committee. It is now too late, he says, to apply income taxes retroactively to 1931 incomes, but the loss occasioned thereby will be offset by "tightening of the law through administrative changes."

The secretary now believes that it will be possible to reduce government expenditures $200,000,000 instead of $120,000,000.

Articles not taxed in the house bill on which Mr. Mills would impose taxes are tobacco, checks and drafts, and domestic gasoline.

HAT Representative La Guardia of New York called "an epidem ic of economy" continued its course in congress, to the disgust of some individual members and of certain government officials. Drastic reductions in budget estimates were made and further slashes were in prospect. The house created precedent by accepting without conference the entire 10 per cent made by the senate in the appropriation bill for the Interior depart ment and as the budget bureau al ready had made heavy reductions from the department requests and the house had previously knocked off some millions, Secretary Wilbur spoke of "the odds and ends that are left." He called the $4,000,000 reduction in funds for the Boulder canyon dam "hocus pocus," and then took the diminished bill to President Hoover for a confer-

The senate instructed its appropriations committee to reduce the treasury-post office supply bill by 10 per of $1,000,000 in the prohibition enforcement fund, the only important item which the house left at the budget estimate. Next came the slashing of the navy appropriation bill by the house.

The appropriation measure for congress itself was put aside for one week or more to give the special economy committee time to perfect an amendment carrying the entire reand abolition and consolidaton of federal activities. The decision of the economy committee to put all the projected savings into one bill to be a rider to the legislative supply measure, as President Hoover wished, was reached over the protest of Chairman McDuffie of Alabama. McDuffie said his proposal to cut federal wages 11 per cent after exampling the first $1,-000, would go into the bill, and that advocates of the Hoover five-day work week and furlough without pay plan would have to offer it as a substitute. Mr. Hoover thinks his plan would save between $225,000,000 and $250,000,000

O'NE more attempt to get Thomas J. Mooney out of the California penitentiary has failed. Following the counsel of his legal advisers, Governor Rolph denied a pardon to the man who is serving a life term for participation in the 1916 Preparedness day bombing in San Francisco which resulted in ten deaths.

CHAIRMAN NORBECK of the sen-ate committee investigating short selling of stocks and President Whitney of the New York Stock exchange did not get along well together last week. Mr. Whitney gave a list of "qualitative" disarmament—that is, the prohibition of certain classes and types of weapons. This was sup-ported by Germany and Italy but opposed by France. THE interstate commerce commis-names, made public after a few days, were found to include several prominent Americans and some foreigners.

Among the former was Arthur Cut-ten. Norbeck said the inquiry would

WHEN the Republican national convention meets in Chicago it will have for its temporary chairman and keynoter Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, whom the ar rangements commit tee selected for the post with the approv al of President Hoo

ver. "Hell-Raising

Dick," as he is known in his home state, has been one of the strongest defenders of the Hoover administration and can be forth vigorously the issues on which the counted on to

Republican party will base its appeal for the favor of the electorate. He was in the lower house for six terms, a prominent member of the farm bloc; then was elected to the senate

Other appointments made for the onvention were: Sergeant-at-arms, Everett Sanders of Indiana, former secertary to President Calvin Coolidge; secretary, Lafayette B. Gleason of New York; parliamentarian, James Francis Burke of Pennsylvania; assistant, Lehr Fess, Ohlo, son of Senator Fess; chief doorkeeper; Col. Glenn Haynes of Iowa; assistant, J. N.

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT is deter-

I mined not to have a quarrel with Al Smith if he can help it, and in his campaign for delegates the New York governor is becoming most conciliatory and cautious. Up in St. Paul, Minn., he replied in a way to Smith's attack in which that leader of Democracy more than intimated that Roosevel was a demagogue trying to set class against class. This Franklin dis-claimed, declaring pleasantly that he favored a national policy that "seeks to help all simultaneously"-an aim with which no one could quarrel but a pronouncement that is scarcely reason for Smith to abandon his announced intention to take off his coat and fight to the bitter end the nomination of the governor. On the whole, the present situation is such that Democratic leaders fear a repetition of the convention deadlock of 1924.

VV party platforms this year would cause the prohibitionists to get together and elect a dry President was issued from the woman's national com-made the statement before the wom-en's convention, at the same time claiming definitely that President Hoover is a supporter of prohibition. She predicted his defeat, however, if Senate committees considered various proposals relating to prohibition and heard the views of many persons.

Matthew Woll of the American Federation of Labor warned the lawmakers of a potential revolution by labor unless the beer industry is revived. Bishop Cannon appeared before the judiciary subcommittee to advocate making the man who buys liquor as guilty as the one who sells it. The manufacturers' committee, by a vote of 4 to 7, turned down the Bingham

S ECRETARY OF STATE STIMSON is now at Geneva and apparently already is up to the neck in matters relating to disarmament, reparations, beer bill for 4 per cent beer.

security and the oriental situation. He is quarted in a fine villa and is doing a lot of entertaining, but also he is attending to business. As one real achievement, the disarmament conference approved the principle of reduction of lowest point consist-ty and the enforce-tional obligations."

armaments "to the ent with national safe- Sec'y Stimson ment by common action of interna-

Approval of the principle was opposed only by Maxim Litvinov, head of the Russian delegation, who said the party adopts a wet plank.

Mrs. Leigh Colvin of New York pittee for law enforces

ARNING that wet planks in both ohnston, Kansas.

to succeed Dan Steck, Democrat.

be greatly extended.

Sen. Dickinson

culmination of a nation-wide survey of the highway-rail transportation situation, recommended legislation regu-lating interstate bus and truck car-"Unrestrained competition is an im-the action was not related to any ef-

Following up the American and Italian proposals, Sir John Simon, British foreign minister, proposed a resolution indorsing the principle of possible solution of the present transportation problem and is incompatible with the aim of co-ordination under regulation," declared the commission.

Railroads, whether steam or electric, and water carriers, the commission asserted, should be specifically authorized to engage in the transportation of both persons and property by motor vehicles in interstate commerce over the public highways. A much milder form of regulation for the interstate truck carriers, comnion or contract, was recommended.

HE senate adopted and sent to the The senate adopted and the popular to investithe secretary of agriculture to investigate the cost of maintaining the system of futures trading ures sponsored by Senators Capper, Republican, Kansas, and Sheppard, Democrat, Texas.

Sen. Capper

Profits and losses by various classes of traders in wheat and cotton futures since July, 1929, together with short sales volume and commission paid by traders, would be gone into.

M RS. LOWELL F. HOBART, re-Daughters of the American Revolution, addressing the continental congress of the organization in Washingion, asserted that alien internationalists, pacifists and criminals are undermining the security of American institutions. Backing up her plea for a united front against these influences, Mrs. Hobart sketched a sordid picture of conditions which she said existed in this depression period.

The congress was peaceful this year, the only ticket in the field being headed by Mrs. Russell William Magna of Holyoke, Mass.

GREAT BRITAIN'S budget, almost balanced, was introduced to the house of commons by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain, and the British found there would be no relief for the income tax payers or the beer drinkers for another year. A deficit about $7,000,000, Mr. Chamberlain estimated, would be easily made up by a new customs tax to be an nounced and a tax of eight cents on foreign tea with a preference Neville of four cents on em-Chamberlain pire grown tea. The income tax remains at about 25 per

Of especial interest to America was the fact that the budget makes no provision for $171,500,000 which will be due the United States in the next twelve months on the war debt account. Neither does it list in the items of expected revenue the equivalent amount which will be due Britain from German reparations and from the European allies on their war debts to Britain.

Chamberlain said he felt it would be wiser to leave all these war debt and reparations accounts out of consideration until after the Lausanne reparations conference. After a de cision is reached at Lausanne and after it is known whether the Hoover moratorium will be extended, there will be a supplementary British budget to meet the conditions then existing.

JAPANESE foreign office spokes A man has warned Russia of the danger of war if there is any recurrence of alleged Soviet-Inspired outrages against Japan in Manchuria. He referred specifically to the wrecking of a troop train near Harbin recently, in which 14 Japanese soldiers were killed, responsibility for which Japan flatly charged to Russia.

The spokesman pointed out that it must be remembered that while Japau is not sending new troops to the Siberlan border, the Russians are continuing to concentrate their forces.

 SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

So MANY housewives like to serve the home can make no reasonable excuse for not wishing to carve it.

Ham Loaf .- Take two pounds smoked ham, one and three-fourths pounds of lean fres., pork, one green pepper and one-half an onion, all chopped fine. Mix with one cupful of bread crumbs, two beaten eggs, one cupful of milk and seasoning of salt and pepper. Make a loaf. Place in a pan, cover with cracker crumbs which have been moistened with milk. Bake in a moderate over one and one-half hours. Serve with a tomato or mush room sauce.

Chicken Croquettes.-Make one cupful of white sauce using chicken stock and mix, add two cupfuls of chopped chicken, one-half teaspoonful of salt, the same of celery salt and onlon salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika. Let it cool and form into shaped croquettes. Roll in slightly beaten egg to which two tablespoonfuls of water has been added. Then roll in bread crumbs. Set away to chill. Fry in hot fat and serve with mushroom sauce.

Perfect Pancakes .- Beat two eggs, yolks and whites separately, add one tablespoonful of sugar, one and one half cupfuls of rich sour milk, two and one-fourth cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonof baking powder and three fourths teaspoonful of soda. Beat the egg yolks, add the sugar, beat until dissolved, add sour milk to which the soda has been added. Sift flour with salt and baking powder and add to the sour milk, fold in the stiffly beaten whites and bake on a hot greased griddle. If the milk is not rich add two tablespoonfuls of shortening.

Nowadays there are so many good commercial salad dressings that are about as reasonable in price as the materials would cost, it is economy for the busy housewife to keep a bottle or two on hand. Add a of chopped pickle, capers, onion and a little vinegar or lemon juice and one has a very good fish sauce made very quickly.

HILDREN'S

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

BUSTER BEAR had had no luck at all in either his fishing or his wishing. He rather felt that this was a contrary day, which means a day in which everything goes just the wrong way. It didn't occur to him that the contrarines, was in him, which it was. If he hadn't persisted in keeping on fishing when it was perfectly clear that there were no fish in the little pools of the Laughing Brook, he might have found something else to eat and had a pleasant, comfortable morning instead of one disappointment after another which had neither filled his stomach nor improved his temper. So he had stopped to rest and grumble to his heart's content.

Right into the midst of his grumbling had broken angry screams, and he had looked up to see King Eagle trying to make Plunger the Fish Hawk give up a big, fat fish. Of course, they were up in the air, and they were almost over Buster's head. He forgot his own troubles and disappointments in the excitement of watching Plunger

Blap! That Big, Fat Fish, Droppi From High Up in the Air, Had Hit Buster Full in the Face.

try to get away from King Eagle. At first he had hoped that Plunger would get away from King Eagle. Then as he saw how nearly over him they were he wished that Plunger would drop that fish. If he should drop that perhaps, he, Buster, might dine on fish after all. And such a fish as it was! The very sight of it was enough to make Buster's mouth water. And just then Buzter's wish came true. You know wishes do come true once in a while. Buster's did then, He saw King Eagle rush at Plunger and heard him scream something in a very angry sounding voice. And right

Hopes to Find "Pig-Headed" Indians jungles of northernmost Brazil's pristine "Half World," in search of new light on the savage tribes infesting the dark recesses of that most inaccessible of territories, has been be-gun by Desmond Holdridge, twentyfour-year-old leader of the Brooklyn Museum's Brazil expedition, according to a cablegram received by Lee Trenholm, the expedition's New York manager.

"Leaving for Catrimany" was the brief text of the message, dispatched from Manaos, an inland metropolis at the confluence of the Negro and the Amazon 1,000 miles from the Atlantic. It laconically imparted the information that Holdridge, accompanied by a native mechanic and Emerson Smith, expedition motion picture cameraman, had set out from Manacs in their 32foot cabin cruiser Rio-Mar on a 600mile water journey up the Negro and Branca rivers to the head of naviga-tion of the Rio Catrimany.

At this point, Holdridge has long planned to plunge westward alone in-to the enveloping silence of the unexplored and deadly "Meio Mundo" or Half World. Somewhere within the fastness he hopes to locate "pig-headed" Indians and to establish definitely that their porcine ceremonial masks rather than actually misshapen craniums have been responsible for reports of their existence,

It will be about four months before Holdridge is to emerge 300 to 400 miles to the west on the Venezuelan side of the Parima mountains and descends the Orinoco watershed to keep a rendezvous with Smith and the able to catch that fish that until it was too late he didn't once think of what might happen to him if King had just taken it for granted that King Eagle would catch it. When he saw that King Eagle wasn't going to he suddenly realized that while he wanted that fish very much indeed he didn't want it in just the way he was likely to get it. He started to jump to one side, but he was not quick enough. Slap! That big, fat fish, dropped from high up in the air, had hit Buster full in the face. In fact, it almost knocked him over. For just one minute he couldn't see anything

He heard the swish and rustle of King

Eagle's great wings as he spread them and brought himself up short to keep from striking Buster Bear, for King

Eagle knew better than to run the risk of a blow from one of Buster's great

When Buster got his wits together and could see straight he saw that the fish had fallen a little to one side aft er hitting him, and he also saw that King Eagle was hovering over it and just reaching down to seize it in his Eagle didn't catch that fish, He reached the ground.

tributary of the Amazon, meets the Cassigulare canal, an anomaly of nature connecting the headwaters of South America's two mightiest streams. In June, Smith is to start from Manaos for the meeting place, going via the Negro and Siapa rivers.

Sharing with Col. P. H. Fawcett, lost British explorer, the belief that the fastest progress through the jungle can be made with a small party and light equipment, Holdridge is stripping his outfit and personnel to an irreducible minimum for his arduous journey through the Melo Mundo. Anti-venom, medicines, sidearms, notebooks, a hand movie camera and trinkets to propitiate the natives are the bulk of his impedimenta. For sustenance, he will depend on the rivers, the forest and friendly In-dians. Enlisting two native aides, he intends making his way by dug-out along the waterways whenever feasible or over rough trails hewn from wilderness by machete when river travel becomes unsafe or imprac ticable. Among the hidden Indian villages which dot the region days are to be spent taking photographs, assembling data and seeking news of unreported tribes.

On the cruise from Manaos to as far as the Rio-Mar's 3-foot draught permits them to ascend the Catrimany, Holdridge and Smith were to make a detailed motion picture record of the extraordinary native and animal life to be found on every hand, seeking especially a scientifically complete camera study of a rare bird popularly known as the "Cock of the Rocks."

then Plunger let go of that fish. It | great claws. Now Buster mily be surprised Buster so to have his wish | clumsy looking, but I know of no one come true that he just stared openwho can move more quickly than he mouthed at that shining silver thing can. He moved quickly now. dropping out of the sky straight to- "That's my fish!" he roare "That's my fish!" he roared, rushward him. He saw King Eagle suding at King Eagle so suddenly that denly turn in the air and shoot down King Eagle didn't have time to get after the fish. He saw Mrs. Plunger the fish, and was thankful to get out sweep across in front of King Eagle and bother him for just an instant. It "It isn't your fish at all: it's mine!" was just enough to prevent King screamed King Eagle, hovering over Eagle catching that fish before it Buster Bear just out of reach, and all the time threatening to claw Bus-Open-eyed and open-mouthed Buster ter's eyes out. stared up at the strange thing happen "No such thing!" 'roared Buster, ing right above him. He was so interslowly turning so as always to face King Eagle. "I wished for that fish ested that his wits almost forgot to work. That fish was dropping right and my wish has come true. I wished straight at him, yet he made no move to get out of the way. You see, he was so interested in watching King Eagle and wondering if he would be

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

MORE OR LESS

MORE truth is written than is ever read.

More thanks are thought of than are ever said, More fame is lucky than is ever won,

More things are started than are over

More trails are taken than are traveled far. More gold is gathered than real riches

More fortunes builded than a wealth More would be powerful than would

More make acquaintances than make

More hearts are broken than we ever

More scandal whispered than is ever true.

More kindness needed than we ever do,

More tell their troubles than their pleasures share, More urge the others than would ever dare, More preach than practice, criticize than plan-

These are the failings, more or less,

(1932. Douglas Malloch.)—WNU Service

* KITTY McKAY By Nina Wilcox Putnam

The girl-friend says that difference between a saint and a si ner is that one has a past and the other has a future. (©, 1932; Bell Syndicate.)—WNU Service

Its Glory Departed

Mosul has a little-known link with western vocabularies, says an article in a Boston paper. When the luxury markets of Europe began to draw on the resources of the East, Mosul quickly earned fame through a special cambric of finest lamb's wool, which the French christened Moussoul laine. It is the modern muslin, and for centuries the town rivated Bagdad as a great eastern trade depot; but today it is in the doldrums.

Libraries

Libraries are the wardrobes of literature, whence men, properly informed, might bring forth something for orna-that Plunger would drop it, and he

"He did because I made him!" screamed King Engle.

And this was the beginning of a dreadful quarrel over something that didn't belong to either of them. Wasn't it foolish?

(©. 1911, by T. W. Burgess.)-WNU Service.

Let's Tell Them This Down Below

UNITED AIR LINES stewardess gives pilots information on passengers to phone down to ground stations which are spaced 150 miles apart. Through the headsets pictured here, the pilots can not only keep in conti ous contact with the ground stations but can converse with pliots of other planes in flight, getting the latest information on wind velocities, visibility and weather conditions. The pilots' compartment in which the crew of three are shown has 90 controls and instruments to aid in aerial navigation.