Protection and High Wages and Jobs Have Separated.

"Mr. Hoover's defense of the Hawley-Smoot tariff in his Cleveland speech is contrasted with his utterances in 1928 by the New York Times, which points out that his present attitude is an "absolute misfit".

The Times says: "Mr. Hoover's unwinking defense of the protective tariff invites a strong factual attack in return. If it is the indispensable, the heaven-born wonder-worker that its devotees worship, why has it not done, why is it not doing now, its magic? What did Mr. Hoover say in 1928? Extracts from his speeches in that year continually return to plague him. Here is a sample:

"We have increased production 30 percent while our population has increased about 10 percent. This is proof of real progress. It is the road to abolition of poverty. We have led the world in substituting machines for hand labor. This enables us to produce goods in excess of our needs. To insure continuous employment we must find a profitable market for these surpluses. We must sell more products abroad if we would have steady and assured employment for labor in our industries."

"Now under the Republican policies of the last three years, what has become of that absolutely indispensable foreign trade? It has been cut in half. This is the main reason why the old patter about protection giving high wages to the American workingman and assuring him of a job arouses this year only cynical laughter or bitter resentment. The new and painful facts, visible on every hand, are absolutely deadly to the old theory. While the Commissioner of Customs at Washington is dilating on the horrors of importing cheap pocketknives from Germany or Japan, the farmers and manufacturers of the country are asked to forget the danger of losing their outlet for surplus production in those and other foreign countries. This part of the Cleveland speech seems an absolute misfit."

According to the Literary Digest's report in this week's issue, there is no change in the states showing a majority of the straw vote poll. The same states, seven of them, show up for Mr. Hoover as they did last week, which would give him 57 of the necessary 366 for an election. While Gov. Roosevelt is running ahead in New York, the vote is not so decisive as in the other Roosevelt states. If perchance he should lose New York's 47, Mr. Hoover would have to gather up 263 from other states to place him in the lead. That would be little short of a miracle, and Mr. Hoover is no miracle man.

A few Democrats, according to the Literary Digest's poll, will vote for Mr. Hoover, but the number is negligible as compared with the number of Republicans who have signified they will vote for Roosevelt.

The national campaign is now at its peak. The Big Berthas have unlimbered and are firing from vaultageous points.

Republicans Propose to Reduce Costs of County Government.

A folder is being circulated by the Republicans of Alamance county, giving the names and pictures of their candidates for county offices, and how they propose to cheapen or reduce the cost of county government.

A schedule of reduction in salaries and the elimination of certain offices is given by which it is proposed to save $10,850.00 per year. That is an attractive proposition to the taxpayer, but they did not do that during the two years they were in for two years preceding the present Democratic administration. On the contrary, they spent more money than their predecessors and successors, both of whom were Democrats. Have they (the Republicans) not been weighed in the balances and found wanting?

Just here your attention is called to a statement by the county Democratic Chairman, H. J. Rhodes, published elsewhere. The figures therein have been carefully compiled from the records and speak for themselves as to comparing the cost of running the county government under Democratic rule and under Republican rule. Comparisons are said to be odious, but they often furnish the only means of arriving at proper conclusions.

That the cost of county government is too high under present economic conditions is not a debatable question, but the experience of the past six years does not favor the Republicans for the accomplishment of what is needed.

National administration leaders are telling the people that it would be a dangerous thing now to change, seeing that there is a prospect of business improving. But the depression has been on for more than three full years, and the people do not seem to think a change could make things worse and they are willing to take the risk. And there seems to be every evidence that a change is going to be made. A new leader often inspires hope and determination and wrests victory from defeat.

The power companies are trying to convince the Corporation Commission that they are operating and serving the public on the narrowest margin possible. But experts have gathered data from many other sections of the country which show that charges in this State are far in excess of the average, and these have impressed the Commission that there should be a change in rates. It is a fact that, during the depression, the power companies have maintained the prices charged in flush times.

Senator Bronson Cutting, Progressive Republican of New Mexico, in a speech at Denver, Colorado, said yesterday as "betw een demonstrated incapacity and justified hope" he was going to vote for Governor Roosevelt. Perhaps a million Republicans or more are taking the same view of the situation and will vote the same way.

Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate for president, passed through the county last Saturday evening. He spoke at Burlington during a short stop there. A couple hundred heard him. He promised better things by a new order of things and rapped the old parties. According to reports, the Socialist will poll more than two million votes in the coming election.

Democrats Spend Less Money Than Republicans In County Government.

The Republicans have recently distributed a pamphlet in which they promise to reduce expenses. They promised that in 1928. Did they do it? But here is what they did:

Take the total cost of identical officers and employees listed on the Republican promise - pamphlet, which includes the officers and employees other than those connected with the schools and roads, the records show:

Democrats 1926-1928,	$53,523.57
Republican 1928-1930,	62,350.15
Elected in 1928 on promise to DECREASE expense—
Republicans increase,	$8,826.58

The Democrats were elected in 1930 on strict economy program. Did they give it to us? Here is what they did:

Take the total cost of same items mentioned on said Republican promise-pamphlet and here is what the records show:

Republicans 1928-1930,	$62,350.15
Democrats 1930-1932,	49,867.70
Reduction by Democrats,	12,482.45

Compare the cost of all departments of county government for fiscal year 1930-31, a year in which the same identical work was carried on by Republicans the first five months of said year and by Democrats the last seven months of said year, when the county had charge of the roads. The records show:

Republican expenses per month,	$21,032.44
Democrat expenses per month,	12,379.90
Saving each month by Democrats,	8,652.54

Total savings by Democrats first seven months in office, $60,567.78

Some concrete examples of differences in salaries and allowances which made possible the reduction made by the Democrats:

Democrats paid Sheriff per year,	$3,000.00
Republicans paid Sheriff per year,	3,600.00
Democrats paid janitor per month,	65.00
Republicans paid janitor per month,	142.50
Democrats paid Auditors for two years,	3,389.16
Republicans paid Auditors for two years,	10,287.02

Democrats operate County Manager and County Accountant's office for $670.00 per year less than Republicans.

Compare records in decreasing county debt:

Democrats during two years from 1930 to 1932
decreased county debt,	$153,825.00
Republicans during two years from 1928 to 1930
decreased county debt only,	70,107.74

Difference in reduction of county debt in favor of Democrats, $83,717.26

The Republicans, having little or no knowledge of the work required in the various departments of county government, make promises which they are not in position to know can be carried out. The Democrats, some of whose candidates have first-hand information of the work required in these departments and some of whom are new men, promise strict economy and point to the comparison of the record of each party when in office as evidence of what can be expected of them.

The facts and figures set out in the foregoing statement have been compiled by Leo Carr, County Attorney, from information furnished him by John Eek, County Auditor, and F. L. Williamson, County Accountant, and these gentlemen have stated that said figures are true and correct as shown by the books of the County.

Respectfully submitted,
 H. J. RHODES, Chairman Democratic Executive Committee of Alamance County.

GOV. ROOSEVELT AT RALEIGH

On Tuesday of last week Gov. Roosevelt started on a campaigning tour, going by Pittsburgh and as far South as Atlanta. Returning, his train made a 15 minutes stop at the Fair Grounds at Raleigh at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

When his train arrived there was a crowd estimated at 12,000 to 15,000 to greet him. He spoke from the rear platform of the train. He spoke pleasantly and the crowd was glad to see and hear him. He is hopeful that times will improve after the 4th of next March.

We had the pleasure of seeing and hearing him. Alamance had quite a good delegation present.

Mr. Hoover, it appears, has become thoroughly aroused. He has really put on the war paint and gone out to try to save the day. But to all appearances he has waited all too long. It is no credit to his insight that he did not, months ago, see the drift of affairs. He feigned to believe that good times were just around the corner—a coming back; but instead they had passed and gone on while he waited with his back turned on the situation. Whatever he may do at this late hour, it is, it seems, an impossible task to stay the avalanche of opposition that will engulf him.
