

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., OCT. 27, 1932.

Local News.

—Summer is gone and the leaves are turning.

—James Johnston is building a new residence on East Harden Street, next to Cland D. Moore's.

—The Baptist congregation here has commenced the building of a hut on their church lot south of the church.

—A heavy rainfall came near 12 o'clock last night, and after, winding up the fogs and drizzles of the 3 or 4 days before.

—Mrs. C. Dewey May gave her little daughter, Dorothy Dean, a birthday party last Thursday afternoon, celebrating her 5th anniversary.

—The mail and passenger train from the west, beginning last Monday, now arrives here at 7:23 in the morning, about an hour earlier than formerly.

—The election is less than two weeks off, and Saturday is the last day for registration. See that your name is properly on the books, if you want to vote on Nov. 8th.

—Supt. W. A. Young and the Graham School faculty attended the Teachers' Convention in Greensboro last Friday and Saturday. The school dismissed at Friday noon.

—Good delegations from here attended the football games of Duke-Wake Forest at Durham Friday afternoon and the Carolina-Georgia Tech at Chapel Hill Saturday afternoon.

—Judge Thomas' court has been in session since Monday. Owing to an accumulation of cases in which a jury was demanded the court has been prolonged. Usually one day is sufficient to dispose of the docket.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Moore moved into their handsome new home a few days ago. It is out on No. 62 about three-fourths of a mile west of the courthouse, and is one of the most attractive homes in this community.

—Rev. Paul Cook, who was pastor of the Graham M. E. church six years ago, now at Culman, Ala., will be united in marriage with Miss Zola Sadie Bench of Glencoe, Okla., at Birmingham, Ala., on the evening of November 1st.

—The body of M. A. Rochelle of Greensboro was found under the railroad trestle at Haw River Monday afternoon. He left his home Saturday night. He was 47 years old. The body was badly broken. There was no evidence of foul play. The distance from the track to the point where the body was found is about 75 feet.

—The recent rains have set the small streams going again. They almost dried up during the long drought, and the community grist mills had to shut down. As an evidence that they are going again our good friend J. W. Apple (Billy), who lives just over the line in Orange, brought us some water-grown meal this morning, made as good as corn meal can be made.

Griffin McClure, N. E. Sykes and Mesdames James Johnston, T. J. Roach, J. D. Albright, Halie Moore, E. E. McAdams and John M. Crawford attended the furniture show in High Point last Friday.

Christian Endeavorers Will Hold Quarterly Meeting.

The Alamance County Christian Endeavor Union will convene in their regular quarterly meeting, at 7:30 in the evening, on Friday, October 28, at the Graham Methodist Protestant church. The Christian Endeavor society of this church is expecting an attendance of approximately three hundred Endeavorers and is planning a very interesting and entertaining program for the evening.

The main speaker for the meeting will be Rev. Talton J. Whitehead. Rev. Whitehead is a young Methodist Protestant minister and a very able speaker.

Each society in the county has been asked to be prepared to put on a stunt, and other interesting features will be on the program. The business meeting will be presided over by the president, Miss Tula Paul of Burlington, after which a social hour will be enjoyed under the direction of Miss Myrtle Foushee, president of the entertaining society. Each society is urged to have a one hundred percent representation at this meeting.
