

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., AUG. 3, 1933.

Local News.

Report comes from Mebane that a fine rain fell there Tuesday night, and that there was some wind.

Regular meeting of the County Commissioners next Monday. The Board held a brief session Tuesday.

The heaviest rainfall here last Thursday afternoon in more than two months. Something of a windstorm accompanied the rain.

Work on Graham Drug Co.'s new building is progressing well. Barring mishaps the walls will be about finished inside another week.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stratford carried their young son, Jack, to Dr. McPherson's hospital in Durham this morning for a tonsil and adenoid operation.

A scarcity of corn is reported in this section. This crop was cut short last year by a long drought. Some corn has been brought to this county from the eastern part of the State.

Graham Theatre has fixed its opening time at 12:30 p. m. This to conform in a way to the order of things. It gives a chance to most people to see a full show without interfering with work hours.

The temperature hovered around 100 here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. With a little sprinkle of rain yesterday afternoon and last night and a slight cloudiness, it is hot quite so hot today.

Been seeing and hearing about folks having vacations lately—that's put us to wondering how one of the things would fit in this organization, and if we could use it to advantage, and whether the cost would be prohibitive.

Next week advertisement will start for sale of property of those who have not paid their 1932 taxes. Sale will be made on first Monday in September. If you owe 1932 taxes and can pay before the advertisement appears next week, you will save that cost.

Mayor J. S. Holt has called a meeting of the merchants and those engaged in the retail trade in Graham for 8 o'clock at the courthouse tonight, for the purpose of working out a code in which all may work in cooperation with the government in recovery plans. All interested are earnestly requested to attend.

On last Sunday Rev. J. W. Woody, who has been pastor of Graham Friends church for the past two years, tendered his resignation and preached his farewell sermon. He has accepted the pastorate of Centre Friends church, Guilford county, where he is going to take up his work at once. During his stay here he made a fine impression on those with whom he came in contact. Rev. John M. Permar, former pastor for a number of years, will return to the Graham church.

Two automobiles, going in opposite directions, met on the court house square Tuesday afternoon. One did not observe the regulation of turning to the right. There is no sign to that effect, but, perhaps, there ought to be. Running on a curve, neither car was going at high speed, but they collided. The damage was small and the left turn man assumed the repair cost. No one was much hurt. One of the car owners, a Mr. Marshall, was from Chatham. The name of the other was not learned.

Dr. P. H. Fleming's host of friends throughout the county will regret to learn of the serious injury his son Henry suffered last Sunday night. Henry, who is connected with a bank in Henderson, and a companion were on their way home from the annual encampment of the 105th medical regiment of the N. C. N. G. at Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C. Near Cheraw, rounding a curve, the car turned over. Henry suffered a concussion of the brain but no fracture. He is in a hospital in Bennettsville and his condition is reported hopeful. His companion was less seriously injured. Dr. Fleming and his daughter returned to Burlington yesterday from a visit to the son and brother. Henry was born and spent his childhood in Graham when the family lived here.

Mrs. Tom Zachary has returned from a visit to her husband in Philadelphia.

Dr. Will S. Long, Jr., Vice-President North Carolina Fireman's Association.

At the annual meeting of the North Carolina Fireman's Association held in Salisbury last week, on Wednesday afternoon Dr. Will S. Long, Jr., was elected vice-president by acclamation.

For around 25 years Dr. Long has been chief of Graham's fire department and for the same time has been a regular attendant at the annual meetings of the State Association. Not only that, but when special meetings for instruction to firemen have been held, he has rarely failed to attend. Thus he has made himself proficient in fire fighting and fire-prevention. Then, too, Dr. Long enjoys the distinction of living in a town whose fire losses are the lowest among other thousands. This fact is highly creditable to him and the organization of which he is the head.

By reason of being elected vice-president last week, next year Dr. Long will succeed to the presidency of the Association. Sincere congratulations.

J. M. Story Celebrated 94th Birthday Anniversary Tuesday.

Only one in many thousands attains the advanced age of that of Mr. J. M. Story. He celebrated his 94th anniversary Tuesday, August 1st.

He is a Confederate Veteran and was nearly 26 when he returned home from the battlefield. Since those days he has been actively engaged in farming. And he is still wonderfully active and can do a man's day's work.

He lives on his farm in Morton Township where the celebration was held. More than 400 people attended the unusual occasion—neighbors, invited guests and kindred.

There were several speeches made, Dr. W. T. Whitsett being the principal speaker.

A few, less than half a dozen, confederate veterans were present. Graham Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy was represented by the following: Mesdames S. S. Holt, G. S. Attmore, M. R. Rives, McBride Holt, W. H. Anderson, W. R. Harden, L. B. Hardesty, H. W. Scott, L. C. Allen, Ernest Thompson, W. H. Holt, Ralph York, Z. V. McClure, E. P. McClure, Miss Mamie Parker, Mrs. N. E. Sykes and little daughter, Mary Ellen.

A great feast of good things to eat had been prepared for the guests which they enjoyed to the limit. The day will long be remembered. It was a happy day for Mr. Story and all.

A. Ross Henderson, Graham's New Postmaster.

A day or so before August 1st John M. Crawford, postmaster for Graham, was notified to vacate and turn the office over to A. Ross Henderson. This, no doubt, was as much a surprise to the two gentlemen directly concerned as it was to the rest of the community, because it had been the custom since Graham had been advanced to the third class to allow the incumbent, regardless of his political affiliations, to serve out his term without molestation. Mr. Crawford had been in two years.

The candidates, it seems, expected the custom to prevail as no very great effort, so far as known, was being made by any of them, except to get their applications in presentable shape.

Three weeks ago Congressman Umstead and Democratic County Chairman Rhodes appeared in Graham on the same afternoon. A meeting was called and held in the jury room in the courthouse. In that meeting were the following: Louis C. Allen, Clarence Ross, J. H. Eason, H. J. Stockard, Ed Hanford, J. S. Cook, Charlie Bain, J. H. Moser, E. P. McClure and Dr. W. S. Long.

It is understood that the last five were phoned to come to the jury room, not knowing what it was about. Three or more others were called, but were not found at their places of business.

Mr. Rhodes presided over the meeting and Mr. Umstead stated the object of the meeting was to recommend a candidate for postmaster of Graham, and is also reported to have requested that nothing be said about the meeting. But if that request was made it did not stick.

The names of the following for the place were mentioned and discussed: A. Ross Henderson, Ben M. Rogers, J. DeWitt Foust, E. E. McAdams, C. L. Bradshaw and Everett Braxton. A vote was taken and stood Henderson 7, Rogers 1, Foust 1.

It is understood Mr. Umstead would endorse the one named in the meeting; that there were other patrons of the office in the courthouse to whom the meeting was not made known; that a number of letters by prominent citizens were written to Mr. Umstead, protesting that so few should get together and decide a matter of general interest to the community without an opportunity for the friends of all the candidates to be heard.

All that has been heard is stated above. Some spoke rashly and said things that they themselves would not repeat or have repeated.

Campaigns often wax warm, but all cool off in time. If the appointee is approved by Congress in due course, it is hoped he will make a record that will be an honor to him and a credit to the town.
