

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., APRIL 1, 1937

Local News

—All Fools' Day—this, April 1st.

—Not much fishing Monday—too cool.

—The weatherman is promising warmer weather.

—Graham Garden Club will give a bridge benefit on Wednesday, next week.

—The County Commissioners will meet in regular monthly session next Monday.

—Petitions for an election on the liquor question, provided by the late Legislature, are being circulated.

—Since the weather cleared up gardening fever has "broke out." Planting has been held back on account of weather conditions.

—The store room just vacated by the Penders store is being re-nodded on the inside for occupancy by Moon's Fashion Shop.

—One day last week County Agent N. C. Shiver received 52 government checks aggregating $2936.22, to be turned over to farmers on account of the conservation program.

—Monday was only partially observed as a holiday. Easter Monday is not a legal holiday, but a large percent of the population by custom look upon it as a holiday and suspend work.

—County Manager Wade H. Huffman spent last Friday and Saturday in Raleigh attending a meeting of the State Association of Tax Supervisors. The purpose of the meeting was to study the new legislation in regard to taxes.

—Town politics is simmering. The Republicans have been in the saddle for several terms. Present Mayor, John M. Crawford, may not be a candidate again. The Democrats are perking up and feel they have at least an even chance.

—The divorce mill in the Superior Court this week didn't run smoothly. Two plaintiffs—Barney A. Smith vs. Joy Bell Smith and Maibell P. Hopper vs. J. W. Hopper—were granted decrees on two years separation; and non-suits were entered in five others. Perhaps the unsuccessful ones will try to mend their differences and start life anew.

—Mrs. W. C. Cooke, at the home on N. Main street, fell from the porch Monday afternoon and was painfully hurt. At first it was thought a hip was broken, which appears not to be the case. Mrs. Cooke is blind and well advanced in years. She had been sitting on the porch, and getting up to go inside, she missed her way and stepped off.

—Sunday was a day of disappointment for those who wanted to "show off" their new "Easter bonnets" and other accessories of the Easter season—those who wanted to see what the other fellow had, maybe, were just as keenly disappointed. The cold snap called for heavy wear and eliminated the gay attire associated with the Easter time.

—White Front Market is "fixing up" and invites the public to drop in this evening between the hours of 7 and 9 and have a cup of coffee and a sandwich, and, incidentally, if a lady, and fall in line on time you will pull down a gift. Some valuable and substantial prizes, other than the gifts mentioned above, will be waiting for those who are possessed of the charm of "good luck."

—Walter Fred Perrin, 53, colored barber here, is dead. He died at Rainey hospital Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from pneumonia. Had been sick since February 6th. He was a member of the City Barber Shop staff. Originally he was from South Carolina, and an active member of the colored Baptist church. Funeral Friday afternoon, burial in town cemetery. He is survived by his wife, a daughter and two brothers.

—"Crack and Joe," under the management of Joseph S. Holt, are preparing to open a branch store in Haw River. This store will be in a new building now in course of building, and located close to the centre of the business district. Kuhl Holt will have charge of the new store. This firm has had a long and successful experience in merchandising, and those who shall patronize the Haw River store will find the same sort of accommodations and polite attention obtaining in the parent store in Graham.

PERSONAL

Miss Ivy Larsen of Greensboro is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Larsen.

Chas. A. Thompson and Ed Roach spent Tuesday in Charlotte on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jarosz spent the week-end with relatives in Philadelphia.

Miss Fannie Jones spent the week-end with Mrs. Lloyd Allen in Roanoke Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Barnes visited the former's parents at Lillington Tuesday.

Miss Catherine Thompson, at Duke University, is at home for the Spring holidays.

Lewis Williams of Greensboro is here on a visit to his brother, Joseph P. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Willard attended the Moravian Easter service in Winston-Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Amick have returned from a stay of several months in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Wilson of Danville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. McBride Holt Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wernecke of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., spent Sunday with Mrs. John Woods.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson and daughter, Martha Ellen spent Monday with his mother at Apex.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Wooten of Lynchburg, Va., spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Griffin McClure.

Mrs. C. C. Burke, with her mother, Mrs. Limer, visited the brother and son in Greenwood, S. C., Easter.

Carroll Ellington, at Campbell College, Buie's Creek, spent the week-end with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. P. Ellington.

Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Goode and children of Richmond and Miss Vera Goode of Chapel Hill spent Tuesday here with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Saunders.

Miss Jean Gray Scott, at Sweet Briar College, Va., spent the Easter holiday at home. She has just returned from Bermuda where she went with a party.

Mrs. Albert J. Thompson and daughter, Miss Alberta, of Baden spent last Saturday here with Mrs. C. C. Thompson, also visited relatives in the Mount Hermon community. The Albert Thompsons made their home here for a number of years. Mr. Thompson is a druggist at Baden. At one time he was druggist in Graham and served several terms as Treasurer of Alamance county.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Holleman of High Point and daughter, Mrs. C. C. Robbins of Spruce Pine, and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Coulter and their two daughters and son of Burlington were Sunday dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Will S. Long. Mrs. Holleman and Mrs. Coulter are sister and daughter, respectively of the Dr. Longs. Other local members of the family and in-laws were present as dinner guests.

—Superior Court opened Tuesday with Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids presiding. No court Monday on account of the Easter holiday.

—The Jr. Order oyster supper at the lodge room Saturday night was a very pleasant get-together social affair. The membership aggregates about 175, not half of whom were present. The Council was organized nearly forty years ago and has been the means of doing great good in the community and among its membership, taking care of orphans, and paying sick and death benefits, besides carrying insurance for a stated sum on each member of the Council. The lodge has been in a healthy condition ever since it was instituted.

The broiler demonstrations using 1100 baby chicks have been started by F. W. Pollock, B. O. Grey and A. N. Mills of Jones county. Two of the men are using home-made brick brooders and the other has an oil burner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey White Return from Trip to Mexico.

After an absence of about three weeks, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey White are home from a trip to the southwest, which extended as far as Mexico City.

Of course they crossed the Lone Star empire, where they could have spent the whole time and more and not seen the half.

In Arkansas they looked up relatives whose forebears went there to make their homes many years ago. These were Holts and Carrigans and were early settlers in the trans-Mississippi country.

Perhaps the most interesting part of the trip was the visit to Mexico City. There at the hotel where they stopped they found an Alamance man, C. L. Somers, as manager who showed them special courtesy in looking out for their comfort. This Mr. Somers is a descendent of the Somers who pioneered to this section of North Carolina in Colonial days and figured conspicuously in the Revolution. His father's name was R. L. Somers. (Some of the same family spell it Summers).

In Mexico City Mr. and Mrs. White had another pleasant experience. Hon. Josephus Daniels, Ambassador from the United States, a son of North Carolina, resides there. Mr. and Mrs. White called to pay their respect and received the glad hand. While there a state function was held at which they were guests.

Mr. White's observation is that Mr. Daniels is well liked in Mexico and is doing much to cement the friendship between the two Republics.

Gas Station, Vicinity Long's Chapel, Robbed

Monday night thieves entered and robbed Best Service Station on highway 62, near Long's Chapel. The owner usually slept in a room at the station, but Monday he failed to do so, so the robbers took advantage of his absence.

It was a clean-up robbery, or nearly so, flour, canned goods, cigarettes, tobacco, candy, etc., constituted the loot. Sheriff Stockard made an investigation of the robbery. In the get away a bottle of ale, some cigarettes and other things marked the trail for a short distance, but no definite clue was obtainable at the time.

In times past there have been a number of filling station robberies in that section.

Town Election May 4th, Registrars and Judges.

On Tuesday after the first Monday in May an election will be held in the Town of Graham for Mayor and five Commissioners.

The Board of Elections has named the following registrars and judges: For West Graham—Chas. N. Jones, registrar, and J. C. Walker and W. M. Eulias, judges; for East Graham—B. M. Rogers, registrar, and J. M. Buckner and Will Dixon judges.

The registration books will be opened and kept open for the time provided by law, of which the registrars will give notice.

For the election the polling place for West Graham will be at the Town Hall, and for East Graham the W. J. Nicks building.

Former Alamance Citizen Dies in Raleigh.

Kenneth Gant died in a Raleigh hospital last Thursday morning following an operation. He was a native of Alamance and a son of the late John Q. Gant. For more than 25 years he had operated a textile plant at Neuse, Wake county. The funeral was held in Raleigh last Friday morning.

Mr. Gant is survived by his wife and three children; also by six brothers and two sisters. The two sisters are now on a European and Far East tour.

Social.

Mrs. W. H. Stratford was hostess at a bridge luncheon Tuesday.

Miss Mary Worsley Rives, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Rives, now in Raleigh, was one of the four leaders in the Easter Pinks ball at State College. Her partner was Harry McDowell of Scotland Neck.

Timely Farm Questions Answered at State College

Question—How can I protect my baby chicks from intestinal worms?

Answer—When brooding chicks, the area under the brooder canopy should be thoroughly cleaned every day and replaced with clean litter. Beginning the second week, the entire house should be cleaned every four days. The chicks should also be kept off ground that has been inhabited by fowls within at least two years. If the house cannot be moved to clean ground, a wire-bottomed platform should be built on the south side of the house and enclosed on the sides with half inch square mesh wire. This will keep the chicks off the ground and, at the same time, give them access to sunshine and fresh air.

Question—What spacing should be allowed in planting sweet potatoes in a garden?

Answer—Plants should be spaced 12 inches apart in rows from 3 to three and one-half feet apart. Close planting reduces the number of "jumboes" and also checks the losses from stem rot. Where extra early potatoes are desired, the plants should be spaced at least eighteen inches apart in three foot rows. Better stands will be secured if the plants are set on high ridges. A 3-3-3 fertilizer mixture, applied at the rate of 600 to 800 pounds an acre is also recommended.

Question—How can I get rid of the grubs and snails that are damaging my tobacco plants?

Answer—A mixture made with 25 pounds of wheat bran, one pound of Paris Green and enough water to moisten will control these insects. The bait should be broadcast at the rate of 10 to 12 pounds to each 100 square yards of bed. Spread the bait evenly. Do not allow the bait to fall on plants any more than possible. This same mixture will also control the slugs sometimes found in the beds. Several applications of the mixture may be necessary for complete control.

Hog Outlook Is Good For Carolina Farmer

Better prices for hogs this summer are forecast by H. W. Taylor, extension swine specialist at State College.

Although large stocks of pork and lard are now in cold storage, the number of hogs being slaughtered is diminishing, while the demand is holding up well.

Most of the Nation's market hogs are produced in the western corn belt and in the north central States.

The supply of corn in the western corn belt is approximately 40 percent less than it was two years ago, and the number of hogs there on January 1 was estimated at 14,525,000 head; the lowest in years. The 26,473,000 head of hogs in the north central States is about the same number produced in 1935, according to a report from the federal bureau of agricultural economics.

Any increase in hog production in these regions will depend upon a return of corn production to something like a normal level, and that cannot affect hog prices this spring and early summer, Taylor pointed out.

The outlook is that there will be a good market for North Carolina hogs. Prices are expected to hold up well through the spring, and rise in the summer.

However, the question of whether an individual farmer should hold his hogs for summer marketing will depend upon the condition of his hogs and the amount and type of feed he has on hand.
