Houses Being Numbered.

The homes in Graham are being numbered. The Graham Boy Scouts have assumed the task of putting up the numbers, which is sponsored by the Board of Town Commissioners.

If metal numbers are used, the charge is 25 cents to pay for them. If paper or card numbers, there is no charge.

The town is arranging for street-name signs, also, for all streets of the town. When this is done, and with the houses numbered, it will be an easy job to find the home or place of anyone, provided the street and house number are known.

Graham Singer on Radio.

The Raleigh broadcasting station has engaged Rev. John M. Permar to sing over the radio once a week. The hour is 11 a.m. on Tuesday mornings. The first broadcast was last Tuesday morning.

Mr. Permar is pastor of Graham Friends church. Graham people like and appreciate his singing. When he and Mrs. Permar sing together, as they often do, they make a whole choir.

Unlike many vocalists, Mr. Permar sings in his natural voice. He does not camouflage or affect. When he has been heard his radio audience will grow. More Graham people will hear him over the radio than have heretofore heard him.

Washington county farmers have purchased nine pure bred Duroc-Jersey boars and seven bred gilts from a Pitt county breeder in a movement to improve swine production throughout the county.

Local 4-H Club Members For Social Progress Report

Elon College led by Edith Bryant will receive a handsome award for submitting the winning Alamance county report in the 1937 National Social Progress Program. It has the choice of a Victor Book of the Opera illustrated with photos of Metropolitan opera stars and scenes from many of the great operas, or three Victor phonograph records containing eight of the most popular 4-H club songs. The award is made on approval of County Agent Annie B. Priest, and the State Club Leader and is one of many prizes provided by the Radio Corporation of America in aiding the 4-H program.

The local winning club will compete for State honors and the choice of a $100 Victor radio, or portable RRA Victor Record Player or Victrola, and Victor records valued at $100. The national winning club receives a $450 combination phonograph radio and $100 worth of records for community use. The leader and five members receive trips to the National Club Congress in Chicago Nov. 26-Dec. 4.

The club submitting the best radio script will be awarded trips for its adult volunteer leader and one member to Radio City to inspect N.E.C. Studios and tour the city.

Rockingham county farmers report fine yields of corn this season, especially where the corn was planted after a lespedeza sod turned under.

Fat calves exhibited by 4-H club members at the recent Asheville Fat Cattle Show won $130 in prize money and sold for $735.41 at public auction. The Watauga exhibits won many first places among them being the Grand Champion of the show.

F. A. Barnhardt, Concord, Rt. 3, Cabarrus county, reports the finest lot of pigs ever fed for market on his farm. They were full fed on a self-feeder placed in a pasture of soybeans and Sudan grass.

M. H. Tweed held an old fashioned corn shucking on his farm on route 3 from Marshall, Madison county, last week when 25 neighbors helped him to shuck 185 bushels of corn in three hours. The group enjoyed apples and candy as refreshments.

Korean lespedeza seed harvested from 22 acres of land will return a better income to M. L. Parker of Richmond county than will his cotton on an acre basis, he says. He secured 100 bushels of first class seed from eight acres so far harvested.

Home Beautification Contest For 4-H-ers

A 4-H home beautification contest for 1938 has been announced by L. R. Harrill, 4-H club leader at State College.

Although sponsored by 4-H clubs, he said, the contest will be open to all farm boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 20.

"I would like to see every club member enter this contest," he added, "not just for the sake of the contest, but for what they can do to make their homes more attractive."

"Just think what North Carolina's 4-H club members could do to make this a more beautiful State." As a special inducement in the nation-wide contest, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, of Chicago, offers a gold medal to the winner in each county, and a 17-jewel gold watch to the state winner.

A trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago a year from now will be awarded the four sectional winners, and the national winner will receive a $300 college scholarship.

Winners will be selected according to the following scores: General record of club member, 50 points; list of plantings made in 1938, 20 points; list of plantings in previous years, 10 points. Snapshots or photos and scale drawings showing how plantings have been made and will be made to beautify home surroundings, 10 points.

Story giving experience of contestant in home ground beautification and the benefits derived, 10 points.

The contest will close October 1, 1938.

Price Recession Temporary, Says Washington

Opposition To Standard Wages and Hours

By J. E. JONES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23, '37—Washington does not share in fears of a new depression. The recession during the last three months is called temporary by heads of our Government.

There is a lot of talk about what will be done about taxation, and demands from all over the country are flooding the Capital to "let up" on activities or measures that are slowing down business.

Congress apparently reacts to the danger of bringing private business more and more under the control of the Government. While labor organizations are crowding in their views for further advantages in the way of wages and hours some whole States are opposed to measures that would call back conditions of Government control such as existed under the NRA.

Perhaps half the entire United States opposes what is called "standard" wages and hours, because such a system would change economic structures in all parts of the country. The South is a great objector, and at present there is a concerted effort of seven Southern States to entice manufacturers to locate their plants in those States. They hold out the inducements of lower wages and cheaper costs of living. All these factors are important and will be given proper consideration by Congress.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Question—What can I do to stop "pickouts" in my flock of Leghorn hens?

Answer—This condition is undoubtedly related to intensity of production, and as yet no practical method of control has been advanced. If any change in diet is made to slow up production, it is very probable that this would result in a neck moult which is undesirable. The most practical method of approach is to observe the birds frequently and immediately remove those showing a prolapse. These birds should be used for table purposes.

Question—How much plant bed space should I seed to plant an acre of tobacco?

Answer—A plant bed that is 7 yards square will normally produce from 10,000 to 15,000 plants which is enough plants to cover two acres. In planning the beds, however, it is well to seed extra space so as to insure an adequate supply of plants. Where a larger acreage is to be planted it is better to have several small beds widely separated on the farm rather than one large bed. This lessens the hazard of blue mold infection and other tobacco diseases.

Question—What do you recommend for curing young calves of indigestion?

Answer—When the first symptoms appear the calf should be isolated and its milk feed reduced at least one-half. If legume hay is being fed this should be replaced with grass hay until the trouble disappears. A dose of one to three tablespoons of castor oil, depending upon the age of the calf, should be given in one pint of fresh milk. Following the action of the oil, a teaspoonful of a mixture composed of one part molasses and two parts each of bismuth and bicarbonate of soda should be given. This can be repeated at intervals of about six hours until the diarrhea is stopped. The trouble is usually caused by improper feeding and this cause should be located and removed before the calf is put back on full feed.

Origination of the libredale Legend says the alreedale originated in the valleys (diales) of the Ayr river, Scotland. Hence the name. Actually, English poachers, seeking to evade forest wardens, created the breed. They crossed the otterhound with various terriers to obtain a courageous hunting dog that seldom barked.

One For Ripley

A curious and perhaps unprecedented situation has arisen in San Francisco where two great publicly owned bridges spanning the Bay have recently been built. Before the day of the bridges, San Francisco commuters were served for two generations by a picturesque ferry system which carried passengers and automobiles from the city to all other Bay points. The ferry system, privately owned and publicly regulated, represents private investment, and must pay its own way in addition to heavy taxes. The new competition of the tax-free bridges caused the ferries to lose the great bulk of their passengers. Finally they sought and obtained permission to reduce their fares from 50c to 30c a trip.

Now the publicly owned and tax-exempt bridges complain that the low ferry rates are cutting into the bridge business and they are asking that the ferries be forced by law to raise their charges.

To quote the San Francisco Chronicle: "We are familiar with instances in which public ownership, by using the public credit; escaping taxation and falling back on taxpayers to pay deficits, has driven private ownership to the wall. In this instance it is argued that private ownership can be compelled to charge rates high enough to drive away business, go into bankruptcy and leave a monopoly to its public ownership competitor."

Here is an entirely new theory of rate making which asks, in effect, that publicly owned businesses, backed by the money of all the taxpayers, be allowed to destroy a private company to escape competition. It demands that where a private business takes patronage from publicly owned businesses, the former should be forced to increase its charges to the point where it loses all its trade. One main argument for the establishment of the publicly owned bridges was to reduce ferry fares for the public—they have succeeded and the public is profiting—what are they kicking about? This is one for Ripley of "Believe It Or Not" fame.

Things One Remembers

Ever so often someone will cuss California for blowing its own horn too loudly. Then they will sit back and admire the state for the way it does things.

Maybe it's the sunshine, maybe it's the romance, maybe it's their dare-devil pioneer spirit. But whatever it is, they do things in a big way down there.

And now they're going to have another World's Fair in 1939, on "Treasure Island." There they go again, getting just the right name for a new island they have actually built to hold the fair.

As I gazed out of one of the most sightly windows in the world in a room in the Mark Hopkins hotel, overlooking the two greatest bridges in the world across San Francisco Bay, "Treasure Island," and an unsurpassed panorama of mountains and water a whole fleet of battleships, I couldn't help but think, "What a bunch of go-getters you Californians are. One has to talk about you in order that the rest of the world may come and enjoy some of the things you have."—R. M. Hofer.
