

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., AUG. 25, 1938

Local News

—Not much change in the weather—hot in the day but cooler at night.

—The women of Bethany church, south of Graham, are giving a supper at 5:30 to 9 Saturday evening to aid in the building fund for a new church.

—The Grand Jury last week called attention to the fact that many of the Justices of the Peace had failed to file their reports with the Clerk of the Court.

—Next Wednesday night, Aug. 31st, will be the 52nd anniversary of the Charleston earthquake. It came around 11 o'clock. The older citizens here remember that many were greatly frightened.

—The Oxford Orphanage singing class will give a concert at the Courthouse on Wednesday evening, August 31st. It is hoped it will be well patronized. A worth while entertainment is assured.

—On Wednesday night about 9:50 a woman named Mrs. Mary Frazier of Burlington was hit and fatally injured on No. 100 near Burlington. Harry Carter, 19, the driver claims it was unavoidable, but is held in $1000 bond.

—The five negroes who shot into a negro congregation at Rock Creek in Patterson township Sunday night, were captured by Sheriff Stockard Wednesday and lodged in jail. Fortunately only one person was wounded and not seriously.

—Mrs. Ernest Marshall, south of Graham, who operates a hatchery, was a victim of chicken thieves last Friday night when about 30 of her white leghorns were stolen. Several weeks ago more than 60 of her Plymouth Rocks were stolen.

—The Alamance Historical Association, of recent organization, will meet at the Agricultural Building on Saturday, September 10th, at 2 o'clock p. m. Like many other counties and communities, much of the history of Alamance is traditional. If the Association shall be able to preserve the traditions and dovetail them together and keep passing events in ship-shape, it will perform a service that will be worth while and duly appreciated in the years to come.

Judge D. J. Walker Passes

After an illness which confined him to his home for the past two years, Judge Dan J. Walker, 52, died Tuesday afternoon at his home in Burlington. The funeral service will be conducted at 3:30 this afternoon from the First Presbyterian church in Burlington. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Hurdle Walker, two daughters, Miss Annie Hurdle Walker, and Miss Becky Jane Walker; three sons, Dan J. Jr., Jimmy, and Edwin, of the home; one sister, Mrs. Doris Anderson, of route 1, Burlington; and two brothers, R. R. Walker of Kerr, N. C., and M. S. Walker of Burlington R. F. D.

Judge Walker was born and reared on the home farm in North Alamance, attended school at Oak Ridge, and finished his literary education at the University at Chapel Hill in 1913. Two years later he was licensed to practice law, but taught for four years after his graduation. He then located in Burlington to practice his profession. In 1916 he was nominated and elected Clerk of the Superior Court of Alamance County. He was serving his second term as Clerk when he resigned in 1926 to accept the judgeship of Alamance General County Court, being the first judge of the newly established court. After the expiration of his term he resumed the practice of the law. In 1933 he was the member of the State senate from Alamance.

Judge Walker was a gentleman of pleasing address, and being a ready speaker he was often called upon to address sundry organizations and gatherings. He was possessed of a fund of anecdote and good humor that enhanced his popularity as a public speaker. His illness at other times than his last and his death cut off his career. He had many friends who will hear of his passing with deep regret.

Revisions

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace has announced that revisions will be made in tobacco quotas where the allotment seems inequitable.

Killed at Graham Station

Mangled beyond recognition the body of Joseph Womble, 33, was found at Graham Station early Wednesday morning. The body was identified by finger prints, there being nothing on the torso left to identify. The man was hit about 100 feet east of the station and parts of the body were found scattered around 100 yards away. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Womble of Hillsboro. Other survivors are his wife, two daughters, a son, four sisters, and three brothers. He was born in Graham.

McBride Holt Has Another Birthday

After one passes his three-score-and-ten, a birthday anniversary is an event. The way up there is not crowded. Of one striving for success or eminence in any vocation, we say "there is plenty room at the top." The same is true of the upper brackets in the span of life. Mr. Holt celebrated a birthday Sunday. We saw him Monday. He was cheery. He had risen early and had made a couple trips to his vegetable garden before old Sol began to beam too furiously. By the way, a vegetable garden has been one of Mr. Holt's hobbies for many years. It was a hobby that contributed materially to the pleasure and comfort of the family and often made glad his neighbors who were not so fortunate and successful in truck growing.

Back in the spring Mr. Holt had a rheumatic attack that put him out of commission for locomotion, but from that he has almost entirely recovered. The Gleaner joins his friends in wishing him many returns of the anniversary event.

Dr. E. C. Laird, Former Resident, Dies in Greensboro, Burial Here Monday

Dr. Edward Chambers Laird, one time resident of Alamance county, died at the home of his son, Thomas Holt Laird, in Greensboro at 5 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. He had been in ill health for several months. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cora Holt Laird, a son, Thomas Holt Laird, and three grandchildren, Louise Holt, Mary Chambers and Chambers Goode Laird. The funeral was conducted from Graham Presbyterian church at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon by Rev. J. K. Roberts, assistant pastor of the first Presbyterian church of Greensboro and Rev. W. E. Harrop, pastor the Graham church, and interment followed in Linwood cemetery.

Dr. Laird was born in Boydton, Va., October 9th, 1854, and was a son of Dr. Alexander and Mrs. Virginia Chambers Laird. He was a graduate of Virginia Military Institute and the University of Maryland, taking his medical training from the latter. He was resident physician at a Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va., Battery Park hotel, Asheville, and Mountain Park hotel, Hot Springs, for a number of years.

In June, 1880, he was united in marriage with Miss Cora M. Holt, daughter of Gov. Thos. M. Holt, at Haw River. For a number of years he resided at Haw River and practiced his profession. His uniform kindness and courtesy won for him a place of esteem and affection among his clientele, and he is still pleasantly remembered by the older citizens of this section.

Reunion at Cane Creek Quaker Church Aug. 27th

On Saturday, August 27th, the descendants of the pioneers of South Alamance will hold a reunion at Cane Creek Quaker church. All of them and others are invited.

Long years ago, years before the Revolution, the Quakers had settled up and down Cane Creek and they had their own churches and schools.

After they knew there was a Great West many of the descendants migrated to a newer country.

Heretofore the reunions for a number of years have been held in the name of one or more of the pioneer families. It is to be different this year—it's for the descendants of the pioneers.

In former years the reunions have brought back from the North and West descendants of the pioneers. Again this year the promoters of the annual gathering are expecting to have visitors from among those who have made their homes elsewhere.

E. P. Dixon of Graham, Route 2, himself a pioneer descendant, from the start of the reunions has always taken an active interest in getting the kith and kin together, and for the coming event he hopes to have a large gathering of those far and near. Some one will be able to tell the assembly of how well and worthily many of the descendants have wrought in the various walks of life.

County Tax Rate May Be 1.13

The Board of County Commissioners was in session Wednesday. A budget for 1938-'39 was submitted to be finally passed on at a meeting later. It calls for $400,991.47—last year it was $401,190.96. The tax rate last year was $1.18; for this year it is hoped to reduce it to $1.13. There have been some material savings through financing, taking over the operation of the jail and in tax listing, which enables the Board to be more liberal to the school system. The all-time health department is an item of expense that the county has not heretofore had, but no one should seriously object to that.

The Board finds around a million in new buildings, principally dwellings, added to the county's taxable property. Jurors were drawn for the two weeks term of the Superior Court which will begin on September 12th.

—Among those here Monday attending the funeral of Dr. E. C. Laird, besides Mrs. Laird, the son and grandchildren, were Lynn B. Williamson and Mrs. M. B. Wyatt of Greensboro, T. Holt Haywood of Winston-Salem, a nephew, and Mrs. Bruce Wright, of Raleigh, a sister of Mrs. Laird.

Went to See "Lost Colony"

Mr. and Mrs. Allen D. Tate, Mrs. R. L. Walker, Jr., and Mrs. N. E. Sykes and daughter, Mary Ellen, went to Manteo for the week-end, and saw the "Lost Colony" pageant and enjoyed it.

Grass In Peanuts

Many peanut fields in Virginia and North Carolina have been reported as abandoned after heavy rains brought on an extreme grassy condition, says E. Y. Floyd, of State College.

"WE KNOW FINER TOBACCO— WE SMOKE CAMELS"

JOHN T. BONE (left) Answer tobacco because he grows it. He says: "From experience, I know Camel buys finer tobacco. Camel bought my best lots last season. I smoke Camels because I know I'm getting finer tobacco. Most smokers I know smoke Camels for the same reason."

THE "THOUSAND CIGARETTE TEST." Before it comes to you, every Camel cigarette goes through eight tests to make sure that it is a perfect cigarette—flavor, firm, full weight—and that each Camel gives you the same matchless blend of fine, out-of-door tobacco—Turkish and Domestic. Try Camels. You'll find them better for steady smoking.
