Master Harper Henderson Barnes' Fourth Birthday

Master Harper Henderson Barnes' birthday is July 2nd, but the celebration was deferred till the 4th, so his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harper Barnes, could get off from their duties in Richmond and join in the festivities.

The party was at the home of the honoree's grandparents, Maj. and Mrs. John J. Henderson, on Friday afternoon.

It being Independence Day, tokens and everything possible were made to harmonize—in red, white and blue.

Suitable arrangements were made for entertainment—in play as well as in satisfying the young appetites.

About 30 of America's future citizens were present. They had a good time on a perfect day, and it is hoped they will remember and cherish it as a day of happy childhood on the birthday of their native country.

Dates Set for Tobacco Market Opening

At their recent meeting at Virginia Beach, the Tobacco Association of the United States named the following dates for opening warehouses for the sale of leaf:

Georgia, August 8; South Carolina and border markets, August 12, east North Carolina, August 20; middle belt, September 9; old belt (Virginia) September 16, and Virginia dark markets, December 8.

The convention went on record in unanimous support of the national defense program.

The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: J. W. Dunnington, Farmville, Va., president; W. W. Goodson, Winston-Salem, A. B. Carrington Jr., Danville, Va., and L. L. Gravelly, Rocky Mount, vice presidents; R. T. Hubbard, Farmville, Va., secretary-treasurer.

DEATHS

C. P. (Top) Smith, 82, prominent citizen and business leader in Liberty for many years, died at St. Leo's hospital Sunday night after three weeks' illness. He is survived by his wife, a son and a daughter and three grandchildren.

Mr. Smith was a member of a large and influential family. He was a brother of the late James P. Smith of Graham and has two nieces, Mrs. Mary Purse and Mrs. W. I. Holt, who make their home in Graham, besides other relatives.

The funeral was conducted Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from the Liberty Methodist church of which he was a member. He was also a member of the Masonic order and the Knights of Pythias.

Father of Clarence Ross Passes at Durham

Dr. George High Ross, 78, the father of Clarence Ross, local attorney, and one of North Carolina's oldest practicing physicians, died in a Durham hospital on the morning of July 4th, following a period of declining health. He graduated from Wake Forest College in 1891, from the University of Tennessee medical school in 1898 and had been practicing medicine in Durham for 42 years.

Surviving are four sons, Clarence Ross, of Graham; Dr. Harvey P. Ross, Claiborne C. Ross, and Dr. Thurman J. Ross, Durham; one daughter, Mrs. David L. Strain, Columbia, S. C.; one brother and one sister, both of Durham.

At one time, in the 90's, he was principal of Oakdale school, Patterson Township, this county.

Rev. J. M. Rhodes, 91, Passes in Florida

Rev. J. M. Rhodes, 91, former president of Littleton Female College for many years, and the oldest Methodist minister in the North Carolina conference, died late Wednesday night, July 2nd, at his residence in Bartow, Fla., after a lingering illness.

He was also one of the oldest graduates of old Trinity College, graduating in 1874.

The last rites were held in the Littleton Methodist Church, with interment in Sunset Hill cemetery.
