

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., DEC. 31, 1942

ISSUED EVERY THURSDAY

J. D. KERNODLE, Editor

$1.00 A YEAR, IN ADVANCE

Entered at the Postoffice at Graham, N. C., as second-class matter.

The Victory 5 per cent tax becomes effective on January 1st. It hits the low income brackets.

Within a few days a new Congress and new State Legislature will assemble. Let us be thankful that the Legislature lasts only sixty days.

Adieu to 1942! None of us will ever see its like again, nor will we have any regrets about it. All of us are looking hopefully to the future, when the war will be over and world peace shall reign once more. It is hoped, too, most devoutly, that it will come before the close of 1943.

During the year closing today American shipyards turned out 750 merchant vessels. President Roosevelt asked for 8 million tons and the request has been met, it is reported from Washington. Of the number launched 53 of them were turned out by the shipyard at Wilmington, this state.

Eleven classes of food products have been permitted to raise prices, under orders of the OPA. In the list are cereals, canned fish, sugar, canned vegetables, coffee, rice and lard. It is expected that grocers and wholesalers will make small increases in prices on food stuffs. It can't be helped.

THE WAR

The Christmas holidays have not slowed down the global war on the several fronts.

On the Russian front the Reds appear to be pushing the Nazis back more vigorously than heretofore, taking many prisoners, killing more and seizing more supplies. Results have been very much in favor of the Reds.

In North Africa Marshal Rommel continues to flee before the Allies, British, American and Fighting French. The French in Africa are lending a big hand.

In the Southwest Pacific the British are helping the Allies more effectively than heretofore. The Japs are being driven from their positions on several of the islands, notwithstanding their determined opposition. As the days pass the situation for the Allies improves.

FOLKS ARE PHONEY

When the rationing of sugar and coffee was first enacted, what happened? People who had purchased sparingly theretofore, rushed in and bought as if their existence depended on them.

There was and is plenty sugar and coffee for all, if used in moderation. The government got jittery—that was enough and it passed down the line.

It is wondered what is going to happen, now that a hundred or so articles are to be rationed. Maybe the job of trying to buy month's supplies of everything will be too big and something will be left on the shopkeepers' shelves for those who prefer to buy as they have need for it. But it won't be that way as long as folks are folks and are phoney about things.

Perhaps it would be better not to agitate or talk about rationing, but go ahead and do it, giving the hoarder no notice. That course would put all on an equal footing and be fair to all.

JOBS FOR THE MILLIONS

The Department of labor has been weak and womanish for the past 10 years; the Wagner Act has wagged but it has not worked; a string of Administration agencies have made a mess out of administration. Finally the War Labor Board appointed by the President recently cracked down on a Chicago mail order house—and according to the company's president, issued an order that "violated the fundamental principles of liberty," inasmuch as the company was not engaged in any war activities covered in the grants of power by Congress.

The President made the order work after the mail order company refuse to obey th WLB.

Three major labor unions and the New Deal formed an alliance several years ago for the control of the nation's working men. John L. Lewis reminded President Roosevelt that CIO had given him its financial support and stuck by him, and expected him to stick by the CIO.

The New Deal has usually guessed wrong in backing labor leaders Green, Lewis and Murray. That famous trio has overplayed its hand too often, and the New Congress is preparing to amend the National Labor Act or pass workable new labor legislation.

Meanwhile, Paul McNutt, the new Manpower Czar, is still working crossword puzzles, searching for 50 million answers on how to control all the jobs in the country.

The competence and ability of Mr. McNutt is not questioned, but Washington shares the universal opinion that "he hasn't a chance."

A judicial review of administration decisions has been suggested by Senator O'Mahoney who directs attention to the issuance of more than 500 Executive orders by the President in 15 months. "To say that Congress intended to make such a surrender of its legislative function would, of course, be the sheerest nonsense," declared the New Deal Senator, who now demands a program that "would reassert the right of the people to make the laws they must obey," which he adds, "would be a reassertion of a fundamental principle of our form of government."

A greater variety of plant life exists in the thermal belt of Polk county, N. C., than in any other section of the United States, it is said.

Betsy

The little girl tugged gently at her mother's sleeve "Now, Mother?" she asked. "Now can't we write my letter?"

"Why, of course, Betsy," Mrs. Carson grinned. "Are you going to write it or am I?"

"Well," Betsy said. "Maybe you'd better kind of say it to me. Only I'd love to write it."

"All right, then, Miss Carson, take a letter," her mother said, walking slowly up and down the room. "Ready? Dear Mr. Morgenthau: The way I save money for War Stamp buying is to steer all the small household jobs toward my daughter, who is eight years old. She is so keen about buying War Stamps that I know all the money I might have paid to someone else for doing the jobs will go toward Victory when paid to her."

"Now make a list, Betsy. 'Windows washed, 60 cents. Apples picked from under the tree, 25 cents. Emptied trash cans, 4 cents. Sold string beans from the garden, 15 cents. Sold strips of spoiled film to children for sun-gazing, at one cent a yard, 20 cents. Total, $1.24. Yours helpfully, I hope,—and then I'll sign it at the bottom.'"

Betsy was puffing like a grampus from her labors. The tall, painstaking letters tottered bravely across the sheet of paper. Gravely Mrs. Carson took the pen to sign. "Mother, would it be the proper etiquette if I signed it too?" "Perfectly proper, I think," Mrs. Carson said without a smile, and handed the pen back to Betsy. (Letter from an actual communication in the files of the Treasury Department.)

C. F. Parrish, poultry extension specialist of N. C. State college, estimates that North Carolina poultry flocks will produce 70,000,000 dozen eggs this year.
