NORTH CAROLINA'S NEEDS. North Carolina stands before the world as one of the poorest States that have ever existed. She has been denoted for the past century and a half for the most part by her poverty. When our minds wander down the shadowy vistas of the past, we naturally pause and view with pardonable pride the deeds of such noble patriots as those who have defined the history of the State at Rockingham, when one fourth of the globe was crouching at his feet. Who does not love to boast of his revolutionary ancestors who fought by the side of Washington? or who with Greene's brave Cornwalls held back the onrushing British? Who does not long to tell of the exploits of a father, brother or a kinsman who fought under the glorious blue flag of the Confederacy and who "probably" gave his life for the cause of his country? The pine trees decorated by the blood of invading armies who when he hears his name are proud to tell of his exploits? Who does not long to tell of the exploits of a father, brother or a kinsman who fought under the glorious blue flag of the Confederacy and who "probably" gave his life for the cause of his country?

A WATER TROUGH FOR THE ROAD. Good roads not only save horse and wagon, but they also save the lives of the poor. It is a well known fact that a horse will not work on a road that is not watered. The water trough is a simple and effective device for watering the road. It is made of iron and is mounted on a wooden frame. It is filled with water and is placed on the side of the road. The water is drawn from the trough by a pump and is sprayed onto the road. This keeps the road moist and prevents the horses from becoming thirsty. It is a very simple and effective device for watering the road.

STUCK WITH BLINDNESS. A Kalamazoo (Mich.) Telegraph Reporter gives the following statement of Dr. C. Francois, the well known veterinary surgeon of that city, in reference to a case of blindness. "Four years ago last spring little Willie, the four year old son of Mr. De Witt, a retail store, reading as that time in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, was taken with the measles. The disease struck in one eye, and the poor child was blind in that eye. Dr. Francois was consulted, and said that nothing could be done for him, and that the child would have to be blind for the rest of his life. Willie's father, Mr. De Witt, who was a farmer, was very anxious to get his child cured. He had heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and he bought a box. He gave Willie a few pills, and to his surprise the child's eyes began to see. He gave Willie a few more pills, and the child's eyes were completely cured. He is now as good as the other children of the family. This is a very simple and effective medicine for the cure of all diseases of the blood. CATS IN HIGH ALTITUDES. The effects of high altitudes on cats is a provoking local discussion. A real estate agent writes as follows: "A group of high altitudes on animals, it may be stated that there are numerous deaths among the felines in Montana during the '60's, when there were no smelters to account for it. A cat, without warning, would stagger around and fall like an elder under the influence of the hydrated oxide of iron, and lying dormant for a time it would get up apparently a little worse for the wear and tear, and after describing a few geometrical figures on the floor, shoot out of the door like a shot out of a gun. Next day you would find her in the brush not far from the cabin dead. Such deaths there were almost universally attributed to the altitude, but they may have been caused, however, by eating the white-bellied (held) mice that were abundant. - Salt Lake Tribune.

A PECULIAR CUSTOM. A peculiar custom of the California Indians is the Annual "burning." The Indians surround the graves of the dead with clothing and then set fire to it, thinking that in this way it goes to the departed spirit. - Chicago Times.

HUGGINS. Do not make a barrel hog of yourself, and try to break every slave in the girl you love, and you will not have cause to sorrow the poor young man in Iowa has, who meant to marry, but had a governor to organize his power. - Hussey says "if you had that patient will stand here, and then you can apply the proper measure. Sometimes we think there ought to be a profession in our female schools for testing the capacity of scholars for the trying ordeal which they must pass through. If there was such a profession, and girls wore a ticket or a certificate showing just how much hogging would be good for them, it might save many valuable lives.
