MAN AND HIS SHOES. How much a man's shoes tell for him...

HER TRIUMPH. BY HELEN WATKINS. 'Tis the crowning success of my life...

Indeed, as a housekeeper, Miss Anselona was worth her weight in gold...

As there is no sweet without its accompanying bitter, however, Miss Anselona had found her 'thorn in the flesh'...

'Poor Lucindy wanted the girls to learn music, and she set a heap of store by Susan, who was all she would say on the matter...

'I never did believe in them red-haired women,' she grumbled persistently to her self...

But it was not until the New-Year that the determined schemer found a chance to complete his plans.

wondered, trembling inwardly. And her agitation was by no means lessened when Miss Anselona condescended to speak.

'I shall like to know, Miss Slack,' she demanded, 'how much longer this sort of thing is to go on to continue on?'

'Scales, please!' retorted her enemy, mercilessly. 'Who said anything about scales? Since I must speak out, I mean pretending to give music lessons so you can have a chance to trim after my brother-in-law...

'Do you give up your situation then?' demanded the housekeeper, resentfully.

'I do,' returned Susan, as she tied the strings of her shabby straw hat with trembling fingers and hastily departed.

'Why, Susan Slack, so you did come, after all! O that blessed treat-er,' cried the plump lady, falling upon Susan's neck...

And Susan, made her way to the second floor with her head in a whirl.

And Susan a degree above the usual, drew away, as she blushing replied that she had come to live with Cousin Chloe and help wait on the boarders.

'And what are we going to do without that?' demanded Miss Anselona, gazing persistently in her shyly averted face.

'But you must have the wedding here, my dear, in my house, since I am your nearest relative.'

'The turkey's overlooked now, keep it in the oven so long, and the mince-pies'll be as soggy as lead...'

'Now they're all of 'em! Crude Petroleum is a remedy for consumption, a better remedy than Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup...'

'There's everything to discourage a man who sells medicines. His best article is pretty sure to be a drug on the market...'

THE WONDERFUL HEALING PROPERTIES OF DABBY'S PROPHEATIC FLUID IN CASE OF ACQUIDENTS, FOR BRUISES, SCALDS, CUTS, WOUNDS, ETC.

SOME EMBARRASSED PEOPLE. 'You, who will be going out, did you say?' quizzed a small girl...

'Well, that woman used to be my wife. We were divorced about a year ago, and she is now married to a man and she is the bride's sister's sister...'

'What were the grounds for the divorce?' 'We got too much of each other, and she was too much for me...'

'Not in this case. See how proud and proud she sits up there! She does that to brag over me...'

'Well, don't raise any row. I'll be glad to take care of you. I'll be glad to take care of you...'

'Kind of a bridal too-eh?' 'Yes, I'm going to be married Saturday...'

'That's more of it! Seems almost as if we were living together again, as I was doing the broomstick...'
