TAR DROPS

—Read the new advertisements.

—Dr. R. E. King was elected Mayor of Warrenton.

—Lime your premises. It is much cheaper than quinine and doctor's bills.

—Mr. Owen Davis, a native of Franklin, was elected Mayor of Henderson.

—A number of our citizens are attending the cattle show, at Raleigh, this week.

—Aunt Harriet Harris, a highly respected colored woman, died one day this week.

—The old Harrow & Pleasant stables are being torn down to give place to some kind of improvement.

—Mr. F. N. Egerton has very much improved the front view of his residence by removing the yard fence.

—How shall I start a deer's head? asked a correspondent. Stuff it with taffy and gum-drops, you simpleton.

—The new signs on the windows of the Racket store are very pretty and the one that hangs across the street is very showy.

—Look out, the police will visit the town lots next Monday, and any one found in an unclean condition will be reported to the Mayor. A heavy fine is imposed.

—Mr. Jones is making preparations to open an ice cream saloon in rear of the Racket Store. Boys save your dimes. It will be very nice to take them around and eat cream.

—The entire community sympathizes with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Furman, Jr., in the loss of their infant son, Archie Clifton, who died on Saturday last of pneumonia. Aged 2 1/2 months.

—A brother editor says that whiskey is a potent factor in politics. It will carry a man the way you want him to go, when every other argument fails. The question is, how did our brother find it out?

—A good quantity of fertilizer has been sold in this county this year, but it is very gratifying to us to state that more home-made manures are being used by the farmers than has been used in any one year in a long while.

—The characteristic knots of New York society and the Knickerbocker families, which Edgar Fawcett is giving in the story of "African Delphinium," is continued and brought down to very recent years in the June number of The American Magazine.

—All who wish any carpenter work done should remember that Sam Green, a first-rate carpenter, has a shop in Louisville. He is a good workman and endeavors to give his patrons satisfaction. Give your work to Sam and thereby patronize home industry.

—Gov. Scales has appointed the following named Trustees of the University to constitute the Committee of Visitation for the current college year: N. H. D. Wilson, Greensboro, Chairman; Messrs. J. L. Stewart, Clinton; J. S. Gatt, Durham; C. M. Cooke, Louisville; W. H. S. Burgwyn, Henderson; C. B. Thomas, New Bern; W. H. Chadborn, Wilmington.

—In his last issue the editor of the Franklin News says:

While the Louisville court week a good many favored us by subscribing to this paper. In some way, the blank on which we enrolled their names was lost. We think we have recalled nearly all, but those not recalled in the News, will kindly favor us by dropping us a postal to that effect. We very much regret the accident, but they will happen even in well regulated families.

—The Gold Leaf is advocating the erection of a first-class hotel at Henderson—built in modern style, equipped and kept on a par with the best with its pretensions and appointments. Henderson should have such a hotel. Let a place get up the reputation of having a first-class hotel and let that reputation be real, and you will always see visitors in that town.

—The Biblical Recorder has the following to say of a gentleman, who is well and probably known in this section:

Rev. G. M. Duke, one of our most gifted and useful pastors, has been in feeble health for some months, and has had to resign some of his churches. This must be a great trial to one who so loved to preach, and who found his chief joy in proclaiming the word of life. We hope to hear soon that he is restored to health, and is preaching as well as ever.

The Henderson Gold Leaf very truly says:

Patronize home institutions in every case when it is possible. On this depends the prosperity of a community. No man should spend his money among strangers for the sake of a few cents saved to him as an individual; it is the essence of selfishness to do so and shows a lack of gratitude to the place and people who give you support. Build up your own city's industries and help those who help you.

—Principal W. J. Young, of the Deaf Dumb and Blind Institute, of Raleigh, brought the teachers and pupils of the above institute down to Louisville last Friday on a picnic excursion. We, of course, were glad to welcome them, and did what we could to make their visit to us pleasant. They came down on two special coaches, but on regular schedule time, and spent about four hours in the beautiful college grove, where the dinner (which was elegant) was served to them. From the observation which we were very particular to make, it must be one of the best managed and regulated institutions in the South, and great credit is due to that excellent christian gentleman, Mr. Young, and his able assistants. We never saw a picnic crowd enjoy themselves any more than these afflicted but happy pupils. The institution is a credit to the State. The pupils play on the piano and sing well and they gave us some splendid music, vocal and instrumental. Their quartette of male voices are certainly of an extraordinary and for a good long time. Come again.

Boon Your Town

Upon this subject the Charlotte Chronicle speaks words of truth Read:

There is not a good deed for people who want their town to prosper—sit around and wait for somebody to come along and boom it. The citizens of a town must do their own booming, and if they are not disposed to do that much for themselves, they are not likely to enjoy much of the boom. The home newspaper is an important factor in the prosperity of a town.

Personal

Our friend N. G. Whitfield, who is still with Julius Lewis & Co., of Raleigh, was in the burg this week.

Miss Julia Person, who left this county about 1836, and now a resident of Arkansas, is on a visit to his people in this county.

Mrs. A. F. Page and daughter, Miss Mary, of Blue Crossing, are among the visitors to Louisville, guest of Mr. W. H. Pleasant.

Miss Irene Pinnell, is among the visitors to the burg this week, guest of Mr. B. D. Pinnell.

Wedding Bells

Only last week we chronicled the happy marriage of two of Franklin's young people, and this week it is our pleasure to note the nuptial ties of another as equally happy couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Ryan, in the Methodist church, at Franklin, on Wednesday night. The church was tastily and beautifully decorated, and a large crowd assembled to witness the marriage, the contracting parties being Mr. Chas. K. Cooke, one of Franklin's handsome druggists, and Miss Rosa L. Kearney, the accomplished daughter of Sheriff H. C. Kearney. The bride and groom were handsomely attired. The following were the attendants:

Wm. B. Cooke, Miss Minnie Kearney, L. H. Kearney, Miss Annie Cooke; J. J. Barrow, Miss Anna Uzzell; T. B. Horton, Miss Mittie Western; H. J. Pearce, Miss Sue Chatham; J. C. Blackley, Miss Lula Uzzell; J. S. Morris, Miss Lena Williams; C. G. Moore, Miss Bertha Morris.

USHERS:

W. V. Hahn and John Vann.

A long and happy life is the wish of the Times.

A Large Eagle

Mr. S. H. Bailey, who lives about 3 miles from Louisville, killed a large Eagle, one day last week, which measured 6 feet and 4 inches from tip to tip. He exhibited the head and claw in our office, and they were seen by several persons.

Children's Day

As before announced, next Sunday will be observed in the Methodist churches throughout the State as "children's day," therefore the 11 o'clock services in the church here, will be devoted to the children, when they will be addressed by the pastor, Rev. A. M. Outten.

The superintendents and teachers have been drilling the children, and the services promise to be very interesting. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a Sunday School mass meeting, when the school will be addressed by Dr. J. E. Malone. The children will also entertain the audience with songs, recitations, etc. Public cordially invited to be present at both services.

Town Matters.

As seen from our last week's issue, all of the old board of town commissioners, Thos. White, F. N. Egerton, J. J. Barrow and J. A. Thomas, was re-elected for another year, with Dr. O. L. Ellis as Mayor. The Mayor took the oath of office before Justice W. N. Fuller, on Monday last, and the commissioners took the oath before the Mayor.

The first business done into was the salaries, which were made the same as before. The election of officers then took place as follows:

Clerk—W. H. Farnham, Sr.

Treasurer—Thos. White.

Constable and Street Commissioner—R. D. Pinnell.

Keeper of Scales—J. J. Person, and Attorney—C. M. Cooke.

Lamp Lighter—John Sullivan.

Mayor Pro Tem—A. A. Thomas.

Policeman—J. W. Belcher.

The Mayor with Messrs. White and Egerton were appointed as Street Committee.

The Mayor and F. N. Egerton were appointed to make settlement with all town officers.

Board adjourned to meet at next regular meeting, on Friday before next Monday in June.

A Very Pleasant Affair.

The writer had the pleasure of attending the closing exercises of Miss Lucy Marshall's school, which was held at the residence of Mr. W. H. Battle, a out 2 1/2 miles from this place, on the night of the 7th inst.

In spite of the inclement weather, quite a crowd assembled to witness the exercises. The performance consisted of songs, recitations, dialogues, and speeches, all of which were rendered well, especially one song, (No. body's Darling) by little Clara Marshall, a sweet little girl who looked to be 6 or 7 years old. It was astonishing to see her comport herself before an audience and how distinctly she accented each syllable while her rendition of music was perfect. It will require too much space to give the programme in full. It is only left to be said that all the scholars deserve much credit for the ease and orderly manner in which they rendered their pieces. Much honor is due the principal of the school, for to get up such a lengthy programme and carry it all through in such an orderly manner as it was, required much time and skill in training. After the exercises were over, the principal returned thanks to those who furnished music for the occasion; also to Mr. and Mrs. Battle for the many kindnesses they had shown the school, after which the audience joined with the scholars to another room where they enjoyed themselves till a late hour. The writer wishes the school much success in the future and hopes that he may be able to attend many of its annual performances by the school.

Raleigh Heims.

The prohibition banner was flung to the breeze yesterday morning across Fayetteville street, and shows where to find prohibition head quarters.

Miss Mary Davis, daughter of Associate Justice J. J. Davis, is visiting her parents in this city, who have rooms at the residence of Capt. J. J. Thomas.

Work was resumed yesterday on the Supreme Court and Library building by a small force of convicts—too small a force to make much headway on such a large structure.

Married—At the residence of the bride's father, on Monday, the 9th inst., by J. S. Joyner Esq., Mr. L. G. Staunton to the beautiful and accomplished Miss Lolla, daughter of Mr. Norman Long, of Franklin, N. C.

Died.

Near Louisville, on the 10th inst., Mrs. J. A. Perry, aged about 47 years. She was the mother of Mrs. W. G. Munford, and has a number of relatives and friends to mourn her death. Her death was not unexpected as she has been a sufferer from cancer for several months. She was a member of the Episcopal church. Her remains were interred in the Cemetery on yesterday. Dr. R. B. Sutton conducted the services. An obituary will appear in a future issue.
