MAKE FRIENDS.

[Christian at Work.] Life is very critical. Any word may be our last. Any farewell even amid glee and merriment may be forever.

MOTHER'S LAST LESSON.

A mother lay dying. Her little son not knowing of the sorrow coming to him, went, as was his custom, to her chamber, saying: "Please do teach me my verse, mama, and then kiss me, and bid me good night! I am very sleepy, but no one has heard me say my prayers."

Roger began to sob as if his heart would break. "I cannot go to bed without saying my prayers—indeed, I cannot!"

"My son," she whispered, "repeat this verse after me, and never forget it: 'When my father and mother forsake me, the Lord will take me up.'"

He had never told his love, their acquaintance had been a very short one, and when suddenly he had placed her arms around his neck and imprinted a hug and a kiss upon her rosy lips, she was naturally startled.

"Forgive me!" he cried, "I was mad to act thus. I beseech you, pardon me!" "No, I can never forgive you—never. You have forfeited my friendship. You must leave me at once forever." Vainly he pleaded; she was obstinate. So glaring an offence could not be condoned.

PLAIN FACTS FOR FARMERS.

ONE REASON WHY SOME FARMERS WILL REMAIN WITHOUT MONEY.

Charles News-Courier. If Secretary Lamar is correct in his diagnosis of the ailment affecting the South, then we are bad off indeed, and growing worse. If the people consume more than they produce for several years they will certainly reach bankruptcy.

RENEWS HER YOUTH.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, and have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years."

NOT AN EXACTING LOVER.

He had never told his love, their acquaintance had been a very short one, and when suddenly he had placed her arms around his neck and imprinted a hug and a kiss upon her rosy lips, she was naturally startled.

A SECOND BLIND TOM.

The greatest wonder of the nineteenth century can be found in Greensboro, N. C., in the person of a little child named Henry Graves Easley. The little fellow is just three years old and blind, and is a natural musician.

WILL AGAIN LOSE THE MUGWUMPS.

Wichita Beacon. The Republican party is getting very little satisfaction from the mugwumps these days. The mugwumps who voted for Cleveland three years ago, have since had no occasion to regret their action, and intimate pretty strongly that Mr. Cleveland is their choice for next year.

A GIFT FOR ALL.

In order to give all a chance to test it, and thus be convinced of its wonderful curative powers, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds, will be, for a limited time, given away.

HE THAT HAS NO CHARACTER IS NOT A MAN; HE IS ONLY A THING.

Gout, a painful disease affecting principally the joints, has various names, according to the parts affected, as podagra, when in the feet; chivalras, when in the hands, &c.; but whether the attack is first felt in the feet, the hands, or some other part, rub with Salvation Oil at once. It annihilates pain. Price 25 cents.

HON. CHARLES M. COOKE.

HIS COLLEGIATE, MILITARY AND POLITICAL LIFE.

A SELF-MADE MAN WHO LEFT THE SCHOOL ROOM TO PLUNGE INTO THE FIELD OF BATTLE—A BRIEF SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

There are many useful men in North Carolina who attained their manhood during the late war between the States, whose educations in the schools of learning were interrupted, but who, in the camp, and field, and storm of battle were admirably trained and fitted for public service by the knowledge of men which they required in the army.

THE BIGGEST MAN IN THE STATE.

Raleigh Chronicle. The biggest man in the State is the most useful man. He may not be the best scholar, he may not be the eloquent speaker, he may not be the richest man.

BREATHING THROUGH THE MOUTH.

Tight dressing, though the most serious hindrance to the habit of good breathing is not the only cause.

It may be noted that an anemic, or low, condition of the blood is seldom found where there is an established habit of full deep breathing with the mouth closed.

In 1874 he made a thorough and successful canvass of the counties of Wilson, Nash, and Franklin, and was elected to the Senate from the District composed of those counties.

In 1877, upon the registration of J. C. L. Harris, he was appointed solicitor by Governor Vance and made an admirable prosecuting officer.

In 1878 he was elected to the House from Franklin, and was one of the leaders of that body. He was chairman of the judiciary committee and a member of the special committee for the settlement of the debt, and the passage of that wise measure, which he supported

Second—To erect and aid the erection of churches, educating young men for the ministry, and sending the gospel to the heathen.

Third—To give honor to this State, reputation to his town, success to every object that works for the betterment of mankind—this man is the most useful citizen of a State and therefore its greatest honor.

BREATHING THROUGH THE MOUTH.

Tight dressing, though the most serious hindrance to the habit of good breathing is not the only cause.

There are three causes of sitting and standing that draw the shoulders forward and cramp the chest; and it is as hard for the lungs to do good work when the chest is narrow and constricted as it is for a closed bandaged hand to set a copy of clear, graceful penmanship.

Then there are lazy ways of breathing, and one-sided ways of breathing, and the particularly bad habit of breathing through the mouth. Now the nose was meant to breathe through, and it is marvelously arranged for filtering the impurities of the air, and for changing it to a suitable temperature of entering the lungs.

The mouth has no such apparatus, and when air is swallowed through the mouth instead of breathed through the nose, it has injurious effects upon the lungs. A story is told of an Indian who had a personal encounter with a white man, much his superior in size and strength, and who was asked afterwards if he was not afraid.

"No, never afraid of man who keeps mouth open," was the immediate reply. Indeed, breathing through the mouth gives a foolish and weak expression to the face, as you may see by watching any one sleep with their mouth open.

It may be noted that an anemic, or low, condition of the blood is seldom found where there is an established habit of full deep breathing with the mouth closed.
