A FARMERS' IMPRESSIONS
—THE ATLANTA CONVENTION.

Temperance-loving, wide-awake enterprising advertising Atlanta!
You are the queen of Southern cities; but the question kept coming up in one's mind, "why is Baltimore, Charlotte, or Wilmington equal to Atlanta?" We must have not spotty and municipalities retarded our growth

THE CONVENTION. was organized by electing one of in person of Mr. Newman of Atlanta. He was very successful in his ability, impatience and dispatch did not exert those indispensable qualities as possessed by our Mr. McCallum, pastor, who is a man of much more influence than any man in the South. We had hoped for a good delegation, and perhaps would have had several hundred had not the Southern states been so badly represented.

Agents in time to sell delegates tickets for the round trip for one fair.
I suppose there were a hundred and fifty, or seventy-five in attendance, for the most part, earnest farmers, anxious to give and receive light and encouragement by coming together. We sat in council three days, including two night sessions, and our discussion touched upon but without disagreeing, a variety of subjects of vital interest to the husbandman. As in all deliberations, there were a few who were men who loved to talk, and when limited to five minutes, assumed an air of injured innocence, if not allowed to go on ad libitum. There are always some who will try to put them off, and thus a few generally do not speak while more modest men, who are often the most practical—that is, succeed at home —take a back seat and listen. Notwithstanding an oucropping of this tendency, we had some pertinent and valuable essays on the topics in the programme. If there had been more after-talks of five or ten minutes each, it would have been better. But we brought back much good for thoughts, and since I am asked for my impressions, as far as possible, I will do so.
