How to make Money.

BY RAISING COTTON AT THE PRESENT PRICES.

Firstly—The head man should own a "yaller dog." By having a dog of that color, he will take up more wild meats, such as coons, possums, squirrels, rabbits, &c., than any other kind of dog; and that is the way he will have to get his meat.

Secondly—The head man should be cross eyed, and if not already so, he should get an oculist to cut a small cord on the inner side of the eyes, so as to turn them out an angle of about forty-five degrees. He should also be a good gunner and trapper—that whilst he is shooting a squirrel, he could be looking for a rabbit or bird at the same time.

Thirdly—The proprietor of the cotton farm should own mules that are erect-eared, thin in both eyes and dot-tailed. The object in having mules of that kind is this: he can buy them for two dollars and sell them for three dollars and the money he can put in mules.

Fourthly—The cotton planter should have his own force and never let his children get on their birthday rolls around move up the dates. The boys should be freckle-faced and red-headed, and should wear chip hats, with the tops out, so as to see the "stars," also copper pants, cut so as to come about half way between the knee and ankle, and should go bare-footed with one suspender, and that fastened on with a wooden peg.

Fifthly—The head man should consider it a part of his religious duty to keep his children in ignorance and work them 10 to 16 hours per day, and never visit the towns or cities except to sell produce, then keep in the middle of the streets to prevent being tempted to buy anything from the "band shirkers," and if a grain agent should mention fertilizer to him, stretch him out at full length with a club that he should carry along with him. Sell his coon skins to pay his taxes, live at home and board at the same place. Follow out these instructions to the letter and there is money in cotton at the present prices.

Should the foregoing instructions catch the eyes of tobacco planters, don't feel stuck up, for the same rules and regulations will apply with equal force to them, only I think a little more so, for whilst he is catching one "worm" he could be looking for another at the same time.—Jacob Never Sweat, Jr., in Progressive Farmer.

Farming with pay.
A careful survey of the agricultural interest of a certain town in New England with whose farmers we have had a personal acquaintance for a term of years, disclose some facts that apply to farming in general. The men who have stuck to farming and who have worked faithfully, no harder than any successful business man works, are out of debt, or nearly so, and have an air of reputation and thrift. The men who have been continually trading cows and changing from one thing to another in their farm management, with no evident plan or system, are at best as they were ten years ago, if not worse off. A good many of this class are men who have not put much real labor into their business. Some of them have been shiftless; others have been actually lazy, while others have worked well in the summer but have loafed much of the time in winter, evidently making no plans for the season's work. It is no wonder that this class complain that farming doesn't pay, they won't make any business pay. The trouble is in the man, not in the business.—Homestead, Sept 25th.

How the Twelve Died.

A BRIEF HISTORY WHICH MAY BE WORTH A FEW THOUGHTS.

(From the Evangelist.)
The following brief history of the fate of the Apostles may be read to those whose reading has not been evangelical.

St. Matthew is supposed to have suffered martyrdom, or was slain with the sword at the city of Ethiopea, in Egypt.

St. Luke was hanged upon an olive tree, in Greece.

St. John was put in a caldron of boiling oil at Rome, and escaped death. He afterward died a natural death at Ephesus, in Asia.

St. James the Great was beheaded at Jerusalem.

St. James the Less was thrown from a pinnacle of the temple, and then beaten to death with a fuller's club.

St. Phillip was hanged up against a pillar at Hierapolis, a city of Phrygia.

St. Bartholomew was flayed alive by the command of a barbarous King.

St. Andrew was bound to a cross, whence he preached unto the people till he expired.

St. Thomas was run through the body with a lance, at Caromandel in the East Indies.

St. Jude was shot to death with arrows.

St. Simon Zealot was crucified in Persia.

St. Matthias was first stoned and then beheaded.

St. Barnas was stoned to death by the Jews at Salunia.

St Paul was beheaded at Rome by the tyrant Nero.

Beautiful women must be healthy and to remain healthy and beautiful should take Dr. J. H. McLeans Strengthening and Blood Purifier. It imparts tone and flush to the skin, strength, vigor and pure blood, is equally adapted for all ages, from the babe to the aged, of either sex.

The True Gospel.

The Wilmington Star speaks words of wisdom and soberness when it says:
The Star will not allow any national question to override and control it in dealing with home affairs.
With the Star the first question is to prevent the party that robbed, rained and bankrupted North Carolina from again getting control. It would not for a Dukedom permit the tremendous curse of Radical supremacy to return upon the people of North Carolina if it could prevent it. Both the Democratic and Republican parties in North Carolina will no doubt favor the total abolition of the revenue laws.
In that event the question is not debatable so far as the Star is concerned. The republican party is the author of the present system of collecting. If odium or wrong attaches to it in any way it belongs to the Republican party.
Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases Dr. J. H. McLeans Volcanic Oil Liniment has for many years been the constant favorite family remedy.
Professor—What is your opinion concerning Cesar's plans just before his death? Student—Oh, I entirely agree with your views, Professor.

POSTMASTER AT LADY LAKE, FLA.
When a man has been snatched as it were, from the very jaws of death, and given a new lease of healthy life by means of a simple remedy, it is natural for him to be enthusiastic in the praise of the means which delivered him from deadly peril, and in his gladness of heart, he is anxious to let the world participate in his joy, and he will spread the "good news" far and wide, so that others, who may be in similar peril, may be restored to life and enjoy new health by employing the same means which gave him the victory. The same spirit actuated the writer of the letter which the Swift Specific Co. have received from Mr. B. H. Byrd, who is the postmaster at Lady Lake, Sumter county, Florida, place. Under date of May 4, 1887, he writes:
Gentlemen—All we me to congratulate and return thanks for the wonderful success your S. S. has proved in my case. You remember about a year ago I wrote you in reference to my case. I was treated by three physicians but with no relief. I suffered a great deal of "indigestion," besides a great deal of pain. I must say that the contents of one dozen bottles of S. S. has almost removed a cancer from my face, which no doubt would have hurried me to my grave.
I shall always keep a good supply in my store, and I urge the sale of the same. I do think it is wonderful and has no equal.
I am yours truly,
B. H. BYRD.

New York Election.
The "Herald" speaks of the result in the State as a "victory all along the line." It says: The elections are a complete triumph for the administration. The victory is along the whole line. The National, State, municipal administrations were alike on trial, and the verdict as regards President Cleveland, Governor Hill and Mayor Hewitt is, "Well done, good and faithful servants."
"We cannot overestimate the significance of this verdict in its effect upon National politics. The "Herald" has maintained with emphasis the conviction that the prosperity of the country depended upon the maintenance of the Democratic party in power."

Although many remedies are pushed into the market by spicy advertisements, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup takes the lead and druggists sell more than ever before. Price only 25 cents.
Mrs. Crow: "Oh, buy a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup cure your rheumatism." 25 cents.
Young wife—I took "great pains with the salad we had for dinner. Robert (trabbling his embonpoint cheerfully)—and so did I, my dear.

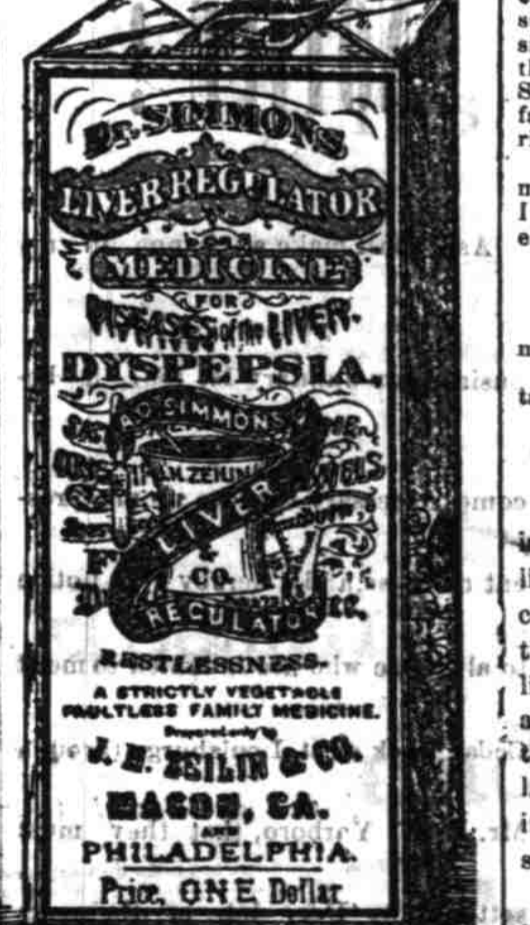

Do not walk the floor all night, to the ceaseless music of a colic-suffering baby. Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup will relieve the little sufferer at once.
Every one who has expressed his opinion, praises the virtue of Laxador, the golden specific for all liver and stomach disorders. Price twenty-five cents.

To Tan Fur Skins.

"Stretch the hides tightly with the flesh side out, clean off all the meat and let them dry in the shade. When dry put in soft water twenty-four hours until quite soaked, then squeeze them as dry as possible. Prepare a solution of vitriol, salt and water in an earthen vessel in the proportion of one ounce of pure vitriol, one-half pint each of three quarts of soft water. Prepare a sufficient quantity of the liquor to cover the skins, then immerse them and let them steep forty minutes, or more, if large dog skins, stir them with a stick. After steeping for forty to sixty minutes take the skins out, and hang them in the shade without wringing, until they are dry, when no further treatment will be required."
Malaria does not always reveal its presence by chills or regular shakings. Your system may be full of it, and some of these symptoms be present. You will feel miserable, think you are bilious, take purgatives, and only feel weaker and worse, because the malarious poison is still operative. A dose of Sallerberger's Pills, at bed-time, will show you next morning that you have hit the real enemy, and in three or two more will remove every vestige of the poison. They never sicken the stomach, do not act on the bowels, but simply destroy malarious matter.

"Pa, what is a good neighbor?"
"One who never gives an advice, my son, and who takes all the advice we give to him."

LOOK OUT!

As you value health, perhaps life, examine each bottle and be sure you get the Genuine. See the red Trade-Mark and the full size in front of wrapper, and on the side the seal and signature of J. C. Wells & Co., as in the above picture. Remember that the greatest benefit is derived from the use of the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Mamma (to Dickey, who has been at the show)—What struck you most at the menagerie, my son? Dickey—The elephant, ma. He knocked me down with his biggest tail.

Unsuspected borders of the sinners are responsible for many of the ordinary plagues of humanity, which neglected, develop into serious and perhaps fatal maladies. Experience would suggest the use of Dr. J. H. McLeans Liver and Kidney Balm.

A home stretch—a nap on the lounge.
Unless exposure to cold winds, rain, bright light or malaria, may bring an inflammation and soreness of the eyes, Dr. J. H. McLeans' Strengthening Eye Salve will subdue the inflammation, cool and soothe the nerves, and strengthen weak and failing eye sight. 25 cents a box.
