James A. Trowbridge, Editor & Prop't.
FRIDAY DECEMBER 1887.

The Advantages of Early Marriages.

Judge.

You don't run the risk of dying an old maid.

It is better to be a young fool than an old one.

The unmarried girl feels she is growing old too quick.

If you make a bad match you can blame it to inexperience.

When you are getting old no one will take you but a widow.

It prevents your married friends from sympathizing with you.

If you wait till you are thirty it is hard to get a young husband.

The man who marries an old woman always wants something thrown in.

You are apt to get shop-worn if you remain long on the matrimonial market.

You have a better chance to catch a second husband if you happen to lose your first.

If you catch a millionaire son you will have him before he has blown in his fortune.

You avoid the pleasure of having all your girlfriends tell you how happy they are with their husbands.

It is well to remember.

That happiness is not perfection unless it is shared.

What great possessions may bring great misfortunes.

That a foolish man is more likely to be a wise enemy.

That the hardest thing to empty out of the heart is conceit.

That it is not necessary to be mean because he is a man of means.

That good temper, like a sunny day, she's its brightness over everything.

That one of the causes that leads us to misfortune is that we live according to the example of others.

HOW DO WE DIG OUR GRAVES?

We must eat or we cannot live. This we all know. But do we all know that we die by eating? It is said we dig our graves with our teeth. How foolish this sounds. Yet it is fearfully true. We are terrified at the approach of the cholera and yellow fever, yet there is a disease constantly at our doors and in our houses far more dangerous and destructive. Most people have in their own stomachs a poison, more slow, but quite as fatal as the germs of those maladies which sweep men into eternity by thousands without warning in the times of great epidemics. But it is a mercy that, if we are watchful, we can tell when we are threatened. The following are among the symptoms, yet they do not always necessarily appear in the same order, nor are they always the same in different cases. There is a dull and sleepy feeling; a bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning; the appetite is changeable, sometimes poor and again it seems as though the patient could not eat enough, and occasionally no appetite at all; dullness and sluggishness of the mind; no ambition to study or work; more or less headache and heaviness in the head; dizziness on rising to the feet or moving suddenly; furred and coated tongue; a sense of a load on the stomach that nothing removes; hot and dry skin; thin, yellow tinge in the eyes; scanty and high-colored urines; sour taste in the mouth, frequently attended by palpitation of the heart; impaired vision, with spots that seem to be swimming in the air before the eyes; a cough, with a greenish-colored expectoration; poor night's rest; a sticky sliminess about the teeth and gums; hands and feet cold and clammy; irritable temper and bowels bound up and inactive. This disease has puzzled the physicians and still puzzles them. It is the commonest of ailments, and yet the most complicated and mysterious. Sometimes it is treated as consumption, sometimes as liver complaint, and then again as malaria and even heart disease. But its real nature is that of constipation and dyspepsia. It arises in the digestive organs and soon affects all the others through the corrupted and poisoned blood. Often the whole body, including the nervous system—is literally starved, even when there is no emaciation to tell the sad story. Experience has shown that there is put one remedy that can certainly cure this disease in all its stages, namely, Shaker Extract of Roots or Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. It never fails, nevertheless, no time should be lost in trying other so-called remedies, for they will do no good. Get this great vegetable preparation (discovered by a venerable nurse whose name is a household word in Germany) and be sure to get the genuine article.

Given by several doctors.

Shaker Extract of Roots or Seigel's Syrup has raised me to good health after seven doctors had given me up to die with consumption—So writes R. F. Grace, Kirkmanville, Todd Co., Ky.

I have been about given up to die with dyspepsia when I first saw the advertisement of Shaker Extract of Roots or Seigel's Syrup. After using four bottles I was able to attend to my business as well as ever. I know of several cases of chills and fever that have been cured by it! So writes Mr. Thos. Pullum, of Taylor, George Co., Ala.

Mr. Thomas P. Evans, of the firm of Evans & Bro., Merchants, Hometown, Accomack Co., Va., writes that he had been sick with digestive disorders for many years and had tried many physicians and medicines without benefit. He began to use Shaker Extract of Roots or Seigel's Syrup about the 1st of Jan. 1887, and was so much better in three weeks that he considered himself practically a well man. He adds: "I have at this time one bottle on hand, and if I could not get any more I would not take a ten dollar bill for it."
