

WILL STAND FIRM THIS YEAR

The result of the last election in Franklin County showed plainly that a number of white men in the county either voted against the Democratic ticket or failed to go to the polls. It being an off-year in politics, and being only a short time after the adoption of the stock law, which aroused the feelings of a number of our best citizens, the Republican candidates took advantage of the surroundings, and made their whole fight upon this one question, thereby hoping to revert the minds of the people from the more important issues of the hour. By their promises to repeal this and that law, and that if elected they would make things better and money plentiful (some of their biggest hobbies) they managed to cause some of the white men to become somewhat careless, and by the skin of their teeth slipped in and by a very small majority became members of the Legislative body in North Carolina. And what did they do? How many laws of any kind did they repeal, and how many more dollars did they cause to come into Franklin County? Echo answer, But they did do something, and at the proper time, if it becomes necessary, everything will be unfolded to the people of the county through these columns. This year's election is to be one of the most, if not the most important ones held since the war, and we have strong reasons to believe and predict that the result of the coming election this fall will be quite different in the county than that of the last. Many who either voted for the opposition or who remained away from the polls, have already realized how narrowly the white people of eastern North Carolina escaped being again placed under the control of ignorant negroes (who were fools for rascally white men) and will this year stand firm, and vote the Democratic ticket from top to bottom. They will not be again led off, either by prejudices or false promises, and in this they will act right, and feel better for doing their duty to their state, county, family and future generations.

The Milton Advertiser in a recent issue says:

Last year, owing to the extreme scarcity of money in this section our farmers used a greatly reduced amount of commercial fertilizers, planted smaller crops of tobacco, but paid more attention than usual to raising supplies for home consumption. Hence, corn is abundant and cheap; we see no hay being hauled from our depot by our farmers, and a larger quantity of pork has been slaughtered than for several winters in this section. One year of severe pinching has done much good and given our people a valuable lesson. Will they profit by it? We sincerely hope so; for should they continue for a few years to act as they have in the year just ended we would see an amazing change in the condition of our farming classes, and it would be a very much improved condition in every sense. But let them go back to their former plan, overcrop themselves with tobacco, buy guano equal in cost, in many cases to the value of the crop they grow, make their smoke houses and corn cribs beyond the Ohio river, and employ the thrifty New Englanders to grow their hay, and the Minnesota miller to grind their flour, and you may confidently count on a speedy return of just such a time as they have recently passed through. Experience is a dear school, too's learn to do better.

This Goldsboro Argus says:

A lesson that was impressed with peculiar force upon almost every one last year was that land that is well drained and manured does not suffer much from drought seasons. A well known gentleman a resident of our city says that he made last year 75,000 pounds of cotton on 60 acres. This should teach our people everywhere to plant only so much land as they can manure and drain. Let the rent lie out of plant in rows, or peas. To say that we know nothing about farming does you no good. We wish you well and as we are entirely disinterested we are in a position to give you good advice.

Several of our best exchanges have recently begun new volumes, among them the Eastern Belknap. It is one of the best newspapers in Eastern Carolina.
The Charlotte Herald mentions B. B. Alexander as the next Governor of North Carolina.

It is pretty generally agreed that Congress will pass a bill modifying both the tariff taxes and the internal revenue laws. It is said by the knowing ones that the tobacco tax will be repealed, the bounty tax reduced to 10 cents per gallon, and many articles taxed under the tariff, put on the free list. This will help wonderfully, and will be more than we expected.

The Radical sheets and Radical politicians may continue their cries for protection, and their accusation of free trade against the Democratic party, but the hand-writing is upon the wall, and it says that the working people of this country; the farmer, the mechanic, and every class of laborers demand that the high war taxes shall be reduced, and woe to the politician who shall oppose this demand.

New York Star: The best opinion about the place of the National Democratic Convention is that the choice lies between New York and Chicago. As Chicago had the honor of last time, which New York has not received in twenty years, and the retention of the Empire State is vastly more important to the Democracy than the shadowy hope of carrying Illinois, the National Committee should not have much difficulty in making the selection.

After all the most important thing for the white people of North Carolina to do, is to see to it, and that by their votes, that the State remains in control of its white citizens. This is no "race prejudice" but a sensible reminder that there are so called white men in North Carolina who, in order to feather their own nest, will drag the State down to the very lowest depths by again remanding the State and county governments to the negro rule. God forbid that they shall ever be successful.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM.

Major R. S. White of Barnesville, Maryland, had suffered from rheumatism in the right shoulder for sixteen years. The disease was complicated with indigestion and dyspepsia. He consulted several physicians without permanent relief. He was finally persuaded to try a course of S. S. S. As to the result he writes as follows: "After using six large bottles I was entirely well. The medicine got at the root of the disease and eradicated it. With the disappearance of the rheumatism also went the indigestion and dyspepsia. I have gladly recommended your S. S. S. to my acquaintances and countrymen, because I am convinced of its efficiency. It having cured me in spite of all previous remedies, I can truly say that it is a most valuable medicine. I frequently recommend it to my friends." Rev. O. W. Winkler of Union Point, Ga., suffered severely for twelve years from rheumatism and sciatic rheumatism, tried all sorts of medicine, but without success. He finally he began taking the Swift-Specific and in a few days he was entirely cured. He writes: "I feel like a new man. I cannot attribute my miraculous cure to anything but the Swift-Specific. I know that it has cured me, for nothing else had done so. I am good for twelve years. I owe my restoration to strength for labor and religious duties to this grand remedy, and gladly make this statement for the benefit of all sufferers from this most tormenting disease—rheumatism." Mc W. P. Daley, Advertising Agent of the Brooklyn Standard, writes: "Inflammatory rheumatism, sciatic, sciatic and arms to twice their natural size, I suffered excruciating pain. Your wonderful medicine made a complete cure." Major Sidney Stewart, editor of the Southern Cultivator and Director of the Southern Agricultural Experiment Station, Ala., writes: "I have fully tested the virtues of Swift's Specific, both as a rheumatic cure and a tonic. It has done even more than its proprietors claim for it." Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. The Swift-Specific Co., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

An Experiment Farm for Every County

Commissioner of Agriculture Robinson, with the aid of State Chemist Battle, is now at work on a plan for establishing in every county a model experiment farm. This work is properly a sequel to the organization of farmers' institutes, in which the commissioner did some extensive and valuable work last year. The purpose of these farms is to show and exemplify the best method of work in every department of agriculture, and as far as practicable to provide for the examination and analysis of seeds, etc. It is proposed to have the best farming implements suited to the locality in which each farm may be located, with all information as to how they may be procured, prices, etc., and other general information valuable to the farmer. The plan, etc., will be given generally in the early future.

The Atlanta License Law.

The new license law of Atlanta is certainly a remarkable production. In all it may be regarded as a unique regulation. Its provisions constitute most interesting reading. It was, no doubt prepared by students of human nature and close observers of the peculiar temptations of city life. The new law fixes the fee for a license to sell liquor at $1,500, and conditions the granting of the license by a strictly stringent requirement. No person shall be granted a license until he has been a resident of the city for at least one year, and each one must have a sign over his door defining his business. The Mayor of the city is given the privilege of forbidding the opening of saloons in alleys and out-of-the-way places. The purpose of the law is to transfer drinking saloons to the most conspicuous portions of the city. Inside screens and blinds and outside painted windows are forbidden, so that drinkers may be seen. Billiards, cards, ten-pins and pool, whether for gambling or not, are forbidden wherever liquor is sold. The saloonkeeper must not keep open on Sunday or Christmas, or after eleven o'clock at night on other days. The retailer who has his license revoked if a drunken man is found in his saloon. Every petitioner for a license must prove he is a man of good character, discretion and sobriety. These are some of the stringent requirements of the law which we can recall: it is certainly the most stringent law of the kind ever published. Very many are saying, if it is honestly enforced, Atlanta will have a practical prohibition notwithstanding the result of the recent election.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Congestive chills would be impossible if a full dose of Shallenberger's antifebrile formula had been taken once a week during the summer and autumn. Malaria often accumulates in the system until enough is gathered to overwhelm the vital powers. Shallenberger's antifebrile destroys its power for evil. The medicine is entirely harmless, and could be taken daily as safely as bread. Sold by druggists.
