

THE Republican Congressmen who are seeking to tickle the public ear with a notion that a people may tax themselves into prosperity are not very enthusiastic over their task. The public at large, indeed, appears to have been suddenly struck by a cold wave.

OUR STATE CONTEMPORARIES.

THE writing of a journal is the smallest work about a paper; it is not half the work to be done by a respectable editor. But then nearly everybody thinks they can do it.

There are many papers and but few good editors. Editing a paper is an art and a science. It is not a matter of mere words and figures, but of the selection of material, the arrangement of it, and the presentation of it to the public.

There are almost unanimous in the selection of the best of the state. The names of the best of the state are: White, the Democrat; and the names of the best of the state are: White, the Democrat; and the names of the best of the state are: White, the Democrat.

Encourage Your Home Paper. We clip the following from the Gold Star and give it to our readers to show them what a live, wide-awake, energetic newspaper can do to build up a town.

The paper of a newspaper is a very great but when it is aided by the active, constant and generous support of the people of a town, its powers of accomplishment are incalculable. A western journal prints a good story in point, and editor who, settling into the chair of "Daily" started a paper, made his own town a better place to live in.
