TAR DROPS.

The meeting at the Baptist church here is still going on with much interest. Rev. Mr. Vandevanter, of Henderson, is assisting.

Both the male and female schools here have opened up well, and we are glad to state that pupils from a distance have entered both.

In this world of push-and-get-all-you-can, no young man must neglect the cardinal virtues of manhood, society, honesty, industry and courtesy.

An exchange says that a man who sits down and waits to be appreciated will find himself among un-called-for baggage.

The recent rains have done much damage to corn along the streams, and much fodder has been lost to the farmers.

The 4th and last quarterly meeting for this (Louisburg) station of the Methodist church will be held next Sunday.

We have received a complimentary ticket from the secretary J. H. Williamson, to the colored Fair, which begins the 24th of this month.

Mr. J. F. Bell, Sutton, N. C., county secretary of the Farmers' Alliance, desires us to request secretaries of sub-alliances to report in time to allow him to make out his report to the State Alliance by October 1st.

Miss Julia, the blind daughter of Mr. H. L. McGhee, left one day last week for the D. D. and B. Institution at Raleigh. She desires us to return thanks to the friends of Mt. Olive church, who so generously presented her a number of nice presents.

Our "amateurs" are preparing to give a very interesting theatrical, the date of which will be published in a future issue. We learn that among the plays selected, they have decided upon "Hidden Hand" which is a very fine drama.

The candidate of the Third party for Governor, Mr. Walker, is advertised to speak in Louisburg on the 22nd of this month. If his speaking at other points, benefit him and his party as little as it will here, his vote will not be large enough to count.

In this issue the Louisburg Mill Company advertises buggies, wagons, harness, collars and caskets, &c. They buy directly from the factory, and are prepared to sell as cheap as any firm in the country.

According to appointment Col. D. Worthington spoke in the Court House on last Tuesday night. His speech was one of the best we have heard during this campaign, and we would have been glad if every man in this section could have heard him.

Those of our readers who desire to become informed upon the great issue of the National campaign—the tariff taxes—should read the articles on the first page of this paper. Read them, you men, who are thinking of voting for the Republicans, and see for yourselves, what terrible things this party has put upon you, and is endeavoring to heap upon still higher.

The State Fair will be held this year October 16th to the 19th, and promises to be very successful. The people of Raleigh seem determined to do more to make the Fair a success than they have ever done before.

What inducement can the Republican party throw out to any young or old man to join it when it throws out—or sells out—such capable men as Maj. Ballock? Everybody—both Democrats and Republicans—admit that he has made a good officer.

Personal.

Mr. F. N. Egerton left one day this week for the North to purchase his fall stock of goods. He says that he will buy a large and select stock.

Mrs. E. C. Jones, proprietress of the Racket Store, is in the northern cities purchasing her fall stock. She will have a great variety of everything to please her customers.

Col. J. F. Jones, of Laurel, passed through town one day this week, on his way to the North to buy his fall stock.

Messrs. R. Y. Yarboro and E. H. Smith returned last Friday from the Northern cities.

Miss Flora Creech, of Raleigh, is among the visitors to Louisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Henson returned yesterday from a visit to their daughter at Aberdeen.

Farmers Alliance. The County Farmers' Alliance met in Louisburg on last Friday, and attended to their regular routine business. Among other subjects of importance discussed was the cotton bagging trust, and the Alliance unanimously resolved not to use any Jute bagging at present prices, and proposed to take immediate steps to find a good substitute.

Lawlessness. The Times regrets that it is called upon to severely condemn the wanton acts of certain persons (we know not who) that have recently taken the law into their own hands, and are nightly violating the town ordinances by shooting pistols, baby-walkers, &c. Those who engage in such proceedings may consider it as fun and of but little consequence, but it is a serious matter. Our people are frightened and strangers that may be in the town are made to think that such a thing as order here is unknown to us all.

A Substitute. The farmers of the county need not have any more fears as to getting in covering for their cotton, as we see that the enterprising firm of J. S. Barrow & Son who are always abreast with the times have succeeded in getting a first class substitute, a sample of which we have seen. They offer 5000 yards of Burlaps which is as wide as bagging and will make a nicer covering for cotton than jute bagging.

I take this opportunity of informing my friends and the public generally that I have accepted a position in the Dress Goods and Millinery departments of Messrs. J. S. Barrow & Son of this place, and would be pleased to have them call when in need of Millinery or Dress Goods. Having a larger stock to select from than heretofore, I feel confident that I can please one and all. Thanking you for past patronage and soliciting a continuance of the same, I remain Very Respectfully ALMA T. HUFF.

A large number of the more respectable colored Republicans of this county are very much dissatisfied because Maj. Bullock was not re-nominated for Registrar of Deeds. They say that he is the only good officer they have had in the county since the war, and that the party leaders have acted shamefully in throwing the Mayor overboard. These sayings are not made up by this editor, but are the sentiments of a large number of respectable colored voters who will not uphold or support the actions of a few who fix up things, not for the good of the party, but for the purpose of feathering their own nest at a putting money in their pockets.

Clover and rye seed at Crenshaw, Hicks & Allen's.

Mushroom crackers, the best soda crackers and the best American cheese that can be bought at Crenshaw, Hicks & Allen's.

This weed-in-the-street question may appear as a matter of very little importance to the town authorities, but we are informed from a reliable source, that a family in search of a place of residence was driven from their town on account of the wilderness of weeds in certain portions of the town. A little thing, you say, to drive you out of town, but you will look at it from a different standpoint, you will see that it is not all the streets of a town should be kept in as good order as possible. It not only adds looks and beauty to the town, but at the same time, enhances the value of the real estate. If such is not the case, why even fix up sidewalks? Why not walk in the middle of the streets? To have that we are right suppose you had a sidewalk—one with good sidewalks to and about it, and the other just the reverse—which can be rented or sold first? It is useless to comment further.

New mackerel expected to arrive to-day at Crenshaw, Hicks & Allen's.

One of the finest stocks of Royster's french candy ever brought to this town to-day at Crenshaw, Hicks & Allen's.

New Tailor. Mr. T. G. Evans, of New York, the new tailor, has arrived, and opened an establishment over the store of J. S. Barrow & Son. He comes highly recommended as a first class tailor, and is bespeak for him a liberal support. It being through the efforts of the Messrs. Barrow that this acquisition to our town has been secured, this firm deserves, and will do doubt, receive the thanks of the community. Mr. Evans is a man of a family and comes to stay, and if the support given will justify he may be considered a fixture here.

We are receiving every day our large stock of ladies, men's, youths and children's shoes for fall and winter use. Crenshaw Hicks & Allen.

A large lot of nice cotton burlaps and baskets for handling seed at Crenshaw Hicks & Allen's.

Picture frames, window shades, wall paper, house ornaments of any kind, or Artist's materials? If you can be accommodated by calling on F. A. Watson when you go to Raleigh. Orders from a distance will be promptly filled.

For Misses and children's fine shoes, go to Green & Yarboro's.

A CARD FROM MRS. A. M. HALL. TO MY PATRONS, FRIENDS AND THE PUBLIC. I have taken charge of the Dress Goods and Millinery Departments of F. N. Egerton's Emporium of Fashion, and with a large stock to select from, and full privilege of buying whatever I think will please my customers, I think I can better serve them than ever before. I thank my friends for their past favors and ask a continuance of the same. Come to see me, make yourselves at home, and you will always be received with a hearty welcome. Respectfully, MRS. A. M. HALL.
