

This is the last issue of THE TIMES before the election, and we propose to make a prediction that Franklin County will go Democratic, the same way as the other counties believe that Cleveland will be the next President of the United States. But every Democrat must work until the setting of the sun all the same.

JOHN NICHOLS

The speech of John Nichols in the Court House here on last Friday night was full of inaccuracies from beginning to end. We heard one man say if Nichols told three truths he'd be a millionaire. Now this is a fine thing for a representative in Congress to make. He failed to say what he was politically, but took particular pains to abuse the white people of the district, all he could, and never one time mentioned the fact that he had appointed his son to West Point, and that he had since failed to stand the examination. He further said that he had no apologies to make for any of his actions in Congress, but would take back what he had given. He certainly did not make any such promise, but we know that he is now getting clear of many new $5- and $10 bills before the voters. They could be seen, occasionally, for several days after the election.

DID YOU VOTE?

For discrimination, greed, and many other like things, too numerous to mention, committed to the Republicans and Independents in this county. What have they done now? Just listen. They have applied for supervisors of election, and who do you suppose they recommended? The application, so we are informed by a gentleman who saw it, was signed by N. H. Mason, J. L. Moore, W. B. Conway, F. H. Williamson and others. Among the names were H. Williamson, (a candidate), J. L. Moore, (a candidate), recommending themselves for the position. Was there ever anything like it before? If they were in power what would they do? It was such a plain case that the appointing power (a Republican) threw these names aside, and appointed others in their stead. They also had the check No. 10 recommendation of the Democrats, and in this case their recommendations were that of those above.

GUILTY ON NICHOLS

From some of those who heard the discussion at Frankfort last Saturday between Gulley and Nichols, we learn that one of the "trappers" gave Nichols a regular old-time castigation. In the course of his remarks Mr. Gulley got off the following little rhyme:

Pushy cut, pushy cut, what have you been over to England to see the Queen? Pushy cut, what did you do in A. S. Mason's suit? What did you do in the House? What did you do in the Senate? Mr. Gulley, after repeating the above said that he would change the wording, and apply it to Nichols as follows:

Pushy cut, pushy cut, what have you been over to Washington training a machine. Pushy cut, pushy cut, what did you do in the House? Pushy cut, what did you do in the Senate? At this last the house was to think from bottom to top, and it will be remembered that Nichols appointed his own son to West Point, without giving the boys of the District any chance, whatever it was. After mentioning the jobs of the workingman of Durham to have a competitive examination, New York is the kind of man this person is the friend of the workmen.

Do you workingmen want to be in a better system which is mis-called protection? All right. Open your eyes and see what you are getting for a dollar.

In the city of Pittsburg, it is reported that over seventy millionaires, made each by a protective tariff, now stand no more than they did when well enough, as far as it goes. We are not sorry that seventy gentlemen have all the money they want and to spare, and only wish that the number might be multiplied by ten or a hundred.

It is something like thirty thousand wage earners, with muscle, brains, good health, and all the apparatus necessary to getting a livelihood, who are idle.

Now, the Republicans tell us that protection is a blessing, and we admit it so far as these millionaires are concerned. But won't you kindly tell us what share of protection has fallen to the lot of these thirty thousand idle men and their families?

You remember when a key and a buzzard were divided equally between an Indian and a white man, the white man said, "Now, then, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard." The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

NO.
A correspondent asks us, "Will not the election of Cleveland and the subsequent passing of the Mills bill allow our state of business and cause more commotion than the election of Harrison?"

We answer, No. The election of Mr. Cleveland means the sustenance of the conservative policy under which the country has prospered since 1855. The passage of the Mills bill would mean a complete change of business and a complete impetus to the people. Furniture and many other important branches of manufacturing, which would be very dear to the people of this country, would be completely destroyed. We advise our correspondent to vote for Cleveland. The Republican tariff bill would mean a complete destruction of the business of the country, and the effort to pass the Mills bill would mean a complete destruction of the business of the country.

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

Now, you can have the key and I will take the turkey and you can have the buzzard. The Indian replied, "But you don't say turkey to me once, always buzzard."

WINTER ANNOUNCEMENT

WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE; WITH LOUISBURG, N. C. NOV. 12, 1909.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Mark this Do

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our stock is not confined to any one class of goods. We have a complete line of goods for sale, including hardware, groceries, and household goods.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

Our goods were bought for CASH and THEY MUST BE SOLD.

THIS SPACE BELONGS TO GREEN

GREEN

AND

VARBORO

They will occupy it next week.

270 923,269 01

Articles in the Racket.

The Racket

Is that the best you can do?

John Jones and the Racket.