TAR DROPS.

The first snow of the season fell here yesterday morning. Where are you going to move? Is the question of the day in these parts. The kitchen and all its contents, of Mrs. Follen, who had been living in Harris' town, was burned one morning this week. The entertainment at the College on the night of the 20th and 21st, promises to be an elegant affair. Everybody should go. A Drummer in one day this week that Louisville showed more signs of business than any other town of its size in the State.

Every one who has not paid the taxes due for 1888, should read Sheriff Kearney's notice in this paper. He is compelled by law to collect the taxes at once.

An editor of a Louisville paper has asked, "Do you pay?" says the good many do not; that they take the paper for several years and then have the postmaster and it is marked "refused," "gone West," etc.

As the winter season sets in it might be well for the benevolent minded to look around them and see if there are not some worthy poor whom they could benefit in the way of aliment or food, and remember that God loves the cheerful giver.

Has your thought of it? Christmas is almost upon us, and already the bustle and rush for goodies for the little folks, which generally sets in about two weeks before the holidays, is seen in Louisville. All the stores are putting on a holiday appearance, and if you will read the advertising columns of the Times you will see where you can get the best and cheapest.

The new schedule of the R. & G. R. R. does not seem to suit the people along the line. The Henderson Gold Neck says:

Our people don't like the new order of things with the trains. The main line is irregular, no connection is made with any of the trains at Weldon, going or coming, and Richmond and Wilmington papers do not get here until the day after publication. No, we don't like the new schedule, but what are we going to do about it?

Louisburg people, while they are not grumbling a great deal, are not pleased with the new schedule either, but the Times is of the opinion that if the present schedule is to be kept up, that right much of the inconvenience might be avoided if the Louisville train would meet the last freight from Raleigh at night. What says the excellent Superintendent, Capt. Wm. Smith?

A First-Class Hotel.

We are delighted to hear talk of the formation of a first-class hotel in Louisville. A good idea—less more at once gentlemen. Every man interested in Louisville take hold and work it up.

Old Burned

The gin house of W. A. Moore, Esq. was burned, together with 6 or 7 bales of cotton, in Cypress creek township, this county on Tuesday night last. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary and one or two persons are suspected of the crime.

Personal.

Mr. Chas. D. Malone, of Durham, is spending a short time with his brother Dr. J. E. Malone.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Hill are visiting relatives in and near Louisville, and will take charge of the Music Department of the College.

Substantial.

It is very gratifying to the editor to get such as the following: Mr. E. W. Timberlake—Be prepared to receive a fine turkey for your Christmas dinner. Now does any one suppose that we will be unprepared? We think our friend has advanced aid by way of parenthesis will say that editor's like to eat such things at dinner any time. We make this explanation for fear that some kind friend might come to the conclusion that editors eat only once a year.

Rev. A. McCullen.

This most excellent gentleman and minister, who has been pastor of the Methodist church in Louisville for the past three years, preached his last sermon here on Sunday last to a large congregation. At the conclusion of his sermon, which was a most excellent one, he, in a very feeling and touching manner, referred to the many kindnesses shown him and his excellent wife during their stay in Louisville, and said that he would never forget Louisville and the dear people. He has certainly been faithful to his post, and carries with him to his new field of labor, the love and esteem, of not only his flock, but of the community generally. He left for Belleville on yesterday, and his wife and child will follow in a few days. We congratulate the people of Louisville in securing such an excellent gentleman to preach for them.

Entertainment.

We are requested to announce that on Tuesday evening, December 18th, a service of Song, with consecutive readings entitled "Poor Mike" will be rendered by a select choir at Cooke's Chapel, about three miles from Louisville. Reader—Mr. Thos. Makin. Doors open at 6 o'clock, to commence at 6:30. Price of admission, adults, 25 cents; children under 12, 10 cents. Proceeds to go towards purchasing an organ. The entertainment is for a good cause, and the Times would be glad for a large number from Louisville to attend.

If the weather should be unfavorable to-day night the entertainment will take place the following night.

The entire community sympathized with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hale in the loss of their little son NORMAN, whose death occurred on Friday last. He was a bright little boy of about 5 years of age. The funeral services took place in the Baptist church on Saturday, conducted by Rev. A. McCullen, the pastor, Rev. B. Cade, being absent.

New Pastor.

From a private source we learn that Rev. J. B. Hurley, the new pastor of the Methodist church here, will arrive in time to preach the 5th Sunday in this month.

A Good House.

Among the most reliable shoe houses in Baltimore is that of Young, Creighton & Diggs, which is represented in this section by Mr. W. B. Green, a Louisville boy. The writer has had occasion to look over the samples which Mr. Green has been displaying here this week, and he can truly say that he never saw a finer line of shoes anywhere or a line more suited to the trade in this section. Mr. Green is an energetic and hard-working young man, and if perseverance, good goods and a determination to please will supply the trade with shoes he will certainly succeed.

I suffered very severely from rheumatism during winter. After using Salvation Oil two days the pain entirely subsided, and now I am a well man. W. E. KURTZ, Baltimore, Md. Go where you will, you will find people using Dr. Bull's Ointment with unqualified praise.
