TAXATION IN NORTH CAROLINA.

In our efforts to Induce the investment of capital, the enlistment of energy and to invite people to inaugurate new industrial enterprises, we should never fail to make prominent the fact that laxes are low in North Carolin and also, that on account of a constitutional limitation, and of the feature of equation between the poll and property, in our organiclaw, taxes can never be high or burdensome in this State.

It should also go out with every statement of our resources, that we have a very small State debt, bearing the low rate of four percent, interest; and that it is practically impossible to increase the public debt of our State. And further, that the State's share in the North Carolina railroad over and above the liabilities of its stock, will, at the maturity of the State bonds, be sufficient, almost if not quite, to discharge the entire | time the little fellow works his debt of the State.

the State debt ten years ago as the Returning in after years we may st stroke of policy inaugurated since the war; and in that work full credit ought always to attach to the names of Zebulon B. Vance, Governor, and John M. Worth, State Treasurer. The real progress and prosperity of our State began with the adjustment of our public debt, and the consequent restoration of the State credit.

As regards our rate of taxation the State Commissioner of labor has made careful investigation into the matter. He says that the people of this State pay less taxes than those in any State in the Union save Texas. The rate in that State is 65 cents on the $100 valuation. In North Carolina the rate is 663 cents. This is the Constitutional limitation for State and County purposes, and can be exceeded only by a vote of the people of the whole State. In most of the counties this rate is not exceeded, and in many not even reached. If the regular and special taxes for the entire State were put together they would not average 75 cents on the $100 valuation. The average rate of taxation for State and county purposes in the other States is $1.88, or twice what it is here. -Wil. Messenger.

FEMALE SERVANTS.

So many of the colored cooks of Charlotte being entired to California, during the past year or two, has constrained some of the people of that city to consider seriously the proposition of uniting in the effort to induce a supply of white servants to come South in sufficient numbers to make themselves con-

While it is not the province of a newspaper to go into private domestic affairs, it occurs to us that there is already a plentiful supply of poor white girls in North Carolina to meet all the local demands of domestic labor.

Why are not our poor white girls, who have to make their livings not more generally employed in the comfortable homes of the wealthy and well to do? We are sure that such work as housekeeping renders necessary would be more congenial and much preferred to the precarious-if no worse-lives many of our native white women are compelled to lead.

There is a weary, worn, wan distress among poor white girls in the eities and towns in North Carolina; distress that good people move with alacrity to relieve when brought to their attention. But the relief that private alms affords must always be only for the moment. The best relief to afford the needy is provision for some work whereby the poor self dependent can gain a livelihood, If white house-servants are wanted in any community, it might be well to look around for them lo that neighborhood. To be sure we have not been used to this sort of little prepared for it. Neither have we been accustomed to the service of white servants from the North. But if a beginning 1 ss to be made-if lines of new departure are to be run-let us begin in a way that will help those around us, and in helping them, help ourse ves.

We have thought that in every Southern town of any size the laly open schools for the instruction. one or two days in the week at least, where poor white girls would be taken and taught some of the duties of domestic servants. And and in such contact the shyness natural to that class at the South would also learn that there is nothing really degrading, nor absolutely menial in performing the indoor work of a household. It would be really a charity to take many white girls in this city and give them good comfortable homes in the familys of the well to do.

And for the Democracy.

The SUN believes that the campaign for the election of a Democratic Congrass in 1890 and a Democratic President in 1892 should begin on or shout the fourth of next March. The SUN until the end of the most interesting and important political conflict since the war, doing its ho est utmost, as ever, to secure the triumph of the Democratic party and the permanent supremacy of the principles held by Jefferson, Jackson, and Tilden.

The great tact of the year is the return to absolute power of the com-mon enemy of all good Democrats— the political organization for whose over throw the Sun fought at the front for fifteen years, the memorable years of Grant and the Fraud Hayes, and Garffold and Arthur.

It is the same old enemy that Democrats now confront, and he will be entrenched in the same strong position It has been carried once by brave and hopeful fighting. Do you not believe with The sun that the thing can be done again? Wait and see!

The hope of the Democracy is in the loyal efforts of a united press, cherishing no memories of past dif onces in non-essentials, forgetting everything but the lessons of experience, and that victory is a duty.

Probably you know the Sun already as a newspaper which gets all the news and prints it in incomparable interesting shape; which chronicles facts as they occur and tells the truth about men and events with absolute earle-sness, making the completest and most entertaining journal published anywhere on earth; and which sells its opinions only to its subscribers and porchasers at two cents a opy-on Sundays four ceuts.
