POLITICS.

Gathered From Here, There and Everywhere.

The prices of tinware will now go up, since the Republicans have passed the McKinley tariff bill. When you go to buy tinware and the price is more than you expected just console yourself with the idea that the tariff is 105 per cent. and that the Republican party is responsible for this fearful tax on a prime necessity. Just say to yourself Ewart, Brower and Cheatham helped to do this.

When the farmer is forced to pay a heavy price for the bagging that wraps his cotton, remember that is the Republican party that refuses to put it on the free list, but increases the tax on it. Every Democrat in the Senate voted for it to go on the free list; every Republican (save one) voted to tax it. Yet the Republicans have the effrontery to profess to be the friend of the farmer.

The people of this country will know of a certainty that the tariff bill passed by the Republicans is not in their interest when it is known that Andrew Carnegie, the Pennsylvania iron king, is happy over the passage of the bill. Of course he favors whatever will oppress "the poor workingman and the horny handed sons of toil." The bill will put millions in his pocket, all of which will come out of the people.

Let not the teachings of an unhealthy ambition lead us away from our Democratic mooring, for there can be no safe anchorage ground elsewhere for white men in North Carolina. The struggle is upon us. The Democratic and Republican parties have sent their chiefs to the field. Their respective flags have been planted. One means white supremacy, the other means the rule of the negro. And the white men of North Carolina must see that they are not defeated, for their defeat involves the defeat of the high aims of the Alliance, and no one will remain longer on the front lines of the contest for success, or bear his part with greater cheerfulness and courage, than Senator Vance.—N. C. Intelligencer.

The Alliance candidate for Governor of Tennessee, Mr. Buchanan, is being received at his appointments by large and enthusiastic audiences. Judging from his speeches he is a very business-like man, and has the good sense to know that there can be no third party in the South without endangering the success of every demand the Alliance is making, that these demands can only succeed through the instrumentality of the Democratic party, and that the highest duty of every white man in the South is to vote for the nominees of the Democratic party.

The New York Times thinks that the Democrats in the last House of Representatives were, to some extent, wanting in courage, and were too easily suppressed by the arrogant majority, but that they have the opportunity of appealing to the people to rebuke the most unjust and oppressive legislation that was ever enacted in the face of the American voter. If ratified at the polls in November the people will have themselves to blame for the business disasters which are sure to follow, and the embarrassed condition of the agricultural classes will be increased. Can there be a stronger appeal to the American voter to go to the polls and vote against the Republican party? It is no time for apathy among Democrats, for they should be alert and vigorous in the effort to defeat the enemy of our business safety—the Republican party.

FROM CEDAR ROCK.

MR. EDITOR:—

I have been silent for a long time, as other matters have claimed my attention, and have not allowed me much time for correspondence.

Our farmers are busy with the ingathering of their crops, and from the present outlook a bountiful harvest awaits them. I think the indebtedness of our people is much smaller than for many years, and I hope their financial condition will be above par.

If the same course is pursued in the future, success will crown their efforts. All the secret orders on earth can never help a people who will not help themselves. It matters not how cheap corn and meat may be, he who tills the soil, and fails to raise his supplies at home, will have an empty larder and no money. The years past ought to be sufficient to teach our people this.

Trusts, combines, and all other machinations of the "devil" cannot do the farmer much harm when he has a sufficiency at home. We have strong hopes of the future.

Our people have been quietly sleeping, allowing others to do their thinking. This will be the case no longer. The laboring people are aroused, as I have never seen them, and they are determined to find out the cause of their depressed condition; to know who are responsible for the terrible wrongs that have been heaped upon them, and Mr. Editor, retribution will come.

Cedar Rock Alliance held an informal educational meeting Sept. 24. Our Bro Fred Ashton, Esq., entertained the audience for some time with words of wisdom and truth, which ought to be heeded by our people. Rev. G. W. Newell followed in a few timely remarks that were full of the sound logic for which he is so noted. It was certainly an enjoyable evening to us. Be ours come again.

Mr. Editor, I am no politician, have no political aspirations, have always been a Democrat, and intend to vote the square ticket if spared to see November, but I want to talk a little. There is a very great interest with our people, they are watching public matters very closely, and weighing our public men very carefully. The Alliance views the actions of our public men scrupulously, while the Alliance is accused on the other hand, of being the cause of so much dissension in the Democratic ranks.

I see the Alliance is accused of being opposed to whatever party is in the ascendancy. In some sections we are splitting the Democratic party, in others the Republican.

In Kansas the fight seems to be over Mr. Ingalls as U. S. Senator, and if our papers are to be believed Democrats and Republicans have joined hands in order to beat a probable Alliancemen. This seems to me to be a peculiar arrangement. It looks like politicians against the people.

In Georgia we find Gen. Gordon, a man we all delight to honor, making a fight for the Senate, and using language against the Alliance leaders that show a very bad spirit on his part. What a surprise to his people! What a sad plight a man must be in to have to resort to such means to carry his point.

Then in our own State, Gov. Vance is a candidate for the same high office. I am truly glad I have never seen anything of the kind coming from him; but a great deal has been said by other parties, much that ought never to have been said. A great many have considered a large part of the Alliance arrayed against him, and have pitched into our leaders "with goes off." Such a course must only weaken Vance, at least will do him no good.

Is all this intended to divide our order, and make shipwreck of this grand organization. If the Alliance fails, our laboring people will drift into slavery more terrible than ante bellum days.

Then our county, how is that? With one single exception every candidate is an Alliancemen. I was present during the sitting of the Democratic Convention, and thought the body composed of Democrats, I know every Alliancemen was a Democrat, and yet I hear very slighting remarks of the ticket, I hear it is the weakest ticket Franklin has ever had. I hear this constantly. Such remarks coming from white men will surely operate against the ticket, or any man on the ticket.

I remember one of our candidates for the Legislature begged the convention not to run his name. He is a Democrat, and being an Alliancemen, has latterly become a weak man.

Now, Mr. Editor, there is no need of all this cross firing. Every member of the Alliance is a white man, a very large majority of them are Democrats, they believe in a pure administration of government, they believe in a white man's government, they believe in "equal rights to all, special privileges to none," they believe in public officers being voted for purity, honesty and capability, they believe in standing by their leaders tho' the heavens fall, all they find them to be men entirely bent on their own aggrandizement, I tell you none such need apply.

Mr Editor, you need not fear the Alliance of Franklin county. The Alliance is for the upbuilding of our country, for the elevation of our people, and if a few old politicians get left, it will go on in its grand work, always true to the best interests of our people. Let every white man do his duty, stop his grumbling, and if he cannot aid us, then let him go to the other side and we will know how to fight him.

Yours truly,

DAN.

LOUISBURG BOOMIG.

Its Business Moving With Accelerated Velocity—How That Business is Frequently Demoralized by Pretty Girls.

[Special Cor. State Chronicle.]

LOUISBURG, N. C., Oct. 7.—The boom which struck our town last year has been resumed with accelerated velocity. The immense amount of fine tobacco brought into our market, the very excellent crops of cotton, &c., the building of new and larger tobacco warehouses, stores, &c., the number of new residences in process of erection, and last but not least, the increased patronage of the Louisburg Female College, have all had the effect to render the boom larger, wider and more enduring. The establishment of that institution upon its present basis had a great deal to do with increasing the business prospects of the town. Its President, Prof. S. D. Bagley, and his excellent and efficient corps of teachers have had all the effect that could be asked upon the business of the town—and the constant increase and growth of the school give us strong faith in the perpetuity of our unexcelled educational facilities. Added to this our farmers have discovered that there is no land like Franklin county land for the growth of tobacco and the very best quality. We have now three large warehouses for the sale of the "weed." One of these, a three-story brick building, is 180 by 90 feet; another, frame house, 170 by 60 feet; another 60 by 150 feet, and all these houses were so crowded last week that a number could not be accommodated the first day of arrival. There were wagons of tobacco from all the adjacent counties.

Our people are also agitating the question of building a large male academy on a more modern and improved plan, the present one being too small to accommodate the patronage.

Every day strangers are seen on our streets and arriving on the trains looking for lands, and many have already made purchases. A lot in town which could have been bought last year for $400 was sold recently for $750 to an old citizen who had known it from boyhood, and he is erecting a nice residence on it. I learn that application will be made to the next Legislature to extend the corporate limits of the town. We have magnificent water power here, sufficient to run a number of factories. The erection of a cotton factory is talked about.

Bill Fife, the evangelist, will hold a series of meetings here, beginning on the 9th of November. Our people are making arrangements to have more restaurants and sleeping places to accommodate the crowd expected. Special rates on the railroads will be asked, and no doubt given to all who wish to attend.

We have now two trains a day, morning and afternoon. The efficient Superintendent, Capt. Smith, spent a day and night in our town last week, and he says the road is in first rate condition.

We all feel good over our prospects but the prettiest sight of all is the throng of beautiful girls, all in attractive and becoming uniform, from the Female College. When passing through our streets in charge of their teachers, there is a general suspension of business. Clerks, employers, all, leave their business to get A look at this entrancing sight. The Chronicle is the people's paper.

None of His Business

For cool self-possession on a remarkable display of indifference in trying circumstances, the descendent of Dan, when he was called to be hung to discount. This fact was forcibly illustrated in an incident connected with the recent trial of the Chambers case at Lumberton. One of the principal witnesses for the defence was Frank Jenkins, a negro, and eye witness of the tragedy. Frank was whiling away a chicken coop on a few feet away when the shooting occurred. On the direct examination he told his story in a plain, straightforward way, and his evidence was very natural. The cross examination propounded several questions, in the strenuous effort to people the witness in giving his testimony. Coming to the facts immediately preceding, and at the time of the shooting, a question would be asked Frank and he gave an unprejudiced, and then the answer, would make:

"And what did you do then?"

"I just went on whitewashing the chicken coop."

"But when the defendant appeared with the gun, and it seemed as if some one was going to be hurt, what did you do then?"

"I just went on whitewashing the chicken coop. It was none of my business, and where I came from, in Woodward county, Kentucky, I long ago learned not to interfere with two white gentlemen engaged in settling a question of honor. I turned up one end of the coop and kept right on with my whitewashing."

"When the shot was fired, what did you do?"

"Kept right on whitewashing."

"Did you do anything when they removed the body?"

Yes; kept right on whitewashing."

The judge smiled, the spectators tittered, and the whole courtroom applauded this wonderful display of disposition to attend strictly to one's own affairs.

The Preacher and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shook, Pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kansas, says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my physicians thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 26 lbs in weight."

A. Hoover, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest business I can do my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it." Free trial bottles at Clifton's drug store. Regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

A Behrends, Agent for William Radam's Microbe Killer:

Dear Sir—I have been suffering for years with a complication of diseases which originated from a diseased liver. I had dysentery, bloody flux and internal tumors. I consulted some of the most eminent physicians in the city and used their medicines for a long time without getting any relief. I was finally given up to die, when a friend advised me to try the Microbe Killer. As the last resort I gave it a trial, and the relief it gave me was wonderful. When I commenced to take the Microbe Killer I only weighed eighty six pounds; my present weight is one hundred and forty-six pounds, and I am restored to my usual good health.
