

THE FRANKLIN TIMES.

State Library

J. A. THOMAS, Editor and Proprietor.

With Malice toward none; With Charity for all.

150 PER ANNUM, In Advance.

VOL. XX.

LOUISBURG, N. C., FEBRUARY 6, 1891.

NO. 1.

Leavening Power—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

People hate the man who is a constant drain on their sympathy.

By innominate doses, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has won for itself a most enviable reputation.

I've been suffering for the past three weeks with a strained wrist. I tried Salivation Oil, and find myself after having used one bottle entirely cured. Chas. K. Evans, 99 Mulberry St., Baltimore, Md.

Don't put too much trust in Providence. Providence has her fools full of.

THE NEW DISCOVERY.
If you have had your friends and neighbors talking about it, you may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever had it you are one of the staunch friends because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the home. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time or money refunded. Trial bottles free at Louisville drug stores.

The Lord never intended grief to spread; you can cry in secret, but you can't enjoy a joke alone.

THE FIRST STEP.
Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything thing to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning you are talking the first step into nervous prostration. You need a nerve tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great nerve tonic and alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the liver and kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50c. at Louisville drug stores.

A PERSONAL REFLECTION.
"When I look at our honored guest," exclaimed the orator of the evening, "and remember how he rose from a humble position to be the president of this vast corporation, I realize forcibly the truth of the saying that there is always room at the top."

The president of the vast corporation, a gentleman with a large bald spot on the top of his head, made a memorandum in a little note book, and the wages of that young orator have never been raised.—Chicago Tribune.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.
The best active in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box.

For sale by J. B. Clifton.

Watch the hand that pats you on the back. Nine times out of ten it will afterward grope its way into your pockets.

R. TYLER, FANCY ORNAMENTAL HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER.
Calculating, graining, parlor painting a specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Leave orders at Thomas & Aycock's drug store.

NOTICE.
Having this day qualified as Administrator of Bryant Green, all persons owing his estate are notified to make payment at once, and all persons holding claims against the said estate will present them for payment on or before January 10th 1891, or this notice will be pleaded in bar for their recovery. This January 8, 1891.

O. L. ELLIS, Adm'r.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I desire to inform my friends and the public generally that I have opened a first class stock of

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

In Louisville, where I shall be glad to have you call when in town. My place of business is on Main street, opposite the post-office. To say that I will please you only half expresses it, as it has always been my rule to never allow any one to go away without believing that he or she had received their full money's worth. My stock will consist mainly in all of which will be sold at bottom prices. Give me a call.

DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, HATS, SHOES, GROCERIES, &c.,

Very Respectfully,
GEO. H. COOPER.

CLELIA'S FORTUNE.

A Tale of Romance and Adventure in Sunny Italy.

(Translated from the German of A. Kell.)

"Does your Excellency want a guide?" he asked.

"Oh with you, I want none!"

"Your Excellency surely does indeed do so?"

"Will you leave me alone or not? I tell you, I do not want a guide."

"Signora, I know you do it is no easy task to find your way in Genoa. You will want a guide, sir, I assure you."

"I could restrain myself no longer. 'This is too much!' I exclaimed angrily. 'I tell you for the last time, that I do not want you—d'ye hear me—I'll have nothing to do with you.'"

"Your Excellency will please consider, that Genoa is a city, which . . ."

My patience and forbearance were exhausted. I was utterly beside myself and lifted my cane.

"Enough of your insolence—be off or back, as if struck by lightning. I retreated a step or two, my eyes staring at a man before me as at a spectre. He grinned at me and began rubbing his nose."

"What brings you here, man? Beppo Mangini, what are you doing in Genoa?" I muttered, scarcely believing my eyes.

He looked cautiously about him and said in a loud voice:

"Since your Excellency prefers to go to the Hotel de la Croce di Malta, we had better take the nearest way to our right."

And without giving me time to say another word, he took the lead and I followed him through a labyrinth of narrow, dirty streets, with which those of my readers, who have been there, are no doubt familiar, and in which one needs either a guide or the thread of Ariadne. After a while he halted in front of a low gateway and knocked. The door was promptly opened by a very corpulent man dressed in the picturesque costume of a Genoese fisherman.

"Tschao, Geronimo!" he addressed

DREXEL'S COLGONE

Best of all Colgones. The Leading Brand at Druggists.

LAXADOR

Cures Liver Complaint, Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, &c.

D'IBULL'S COUGH SYRUP

CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 30 CENTS.

SALVATION OIL

Price only 25 Cts. Sold by all druggists.

Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Cuts, Scalds, Bores, Wounds, &c.

LANOLIN PLUGS, The Great Tobacco Cure. Cures Coughs, Croup, &c.

50 STORES 100

PIECES OF MUSIC.

Every one reading 10 cents, the Waverley Magazine will be sent for four weeks as a special inducement. The regular price is four dollars per year. Each issue contains from ten to fifteen complete stories, comments on current events, puzzles, jokes, hints for the household, and the best of news—just the thing for long winter evenings. THINK what you get in four copies!

300,000 words comprising over 80 complete stories, and vocal and instrumental music. The latter is worth at least fifty cents, and all for only Ten Cents! Of course you understand this offer is made to get you to give the paper a trial, knowing full well that you will become permanent subscribers.

Address: WAVERLEY MAGAZINE, Box 172, BOSTON, MASS.

Small little fortunes have been made for us, by Anna Topp, Austin, Tex. and John, Toledo, Ohio. See cut. Others awaiting as well. Why not you? Some over $200.00. You can do the work and the money. We show you how. Write for our free literature. We show you how to make money. Can work in spare time and at all the times. Big money for small effort. Failure unknown among them.

R. TYLER, FANCY ORNAMENTAL HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER.

Calculating, graining, parlor painting a specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Leave orders at Thomas & Aycock's drug store.

NOTICE.

Having this day qualified as Administrator of Bryant Green, all persons owing his estate are notified to make payment at once, and all persons holding claims against the said estate will present them for payment on or before January 10th 1891, or this notice will be pleaded in bar for their recovery. This January 8, 1891.

O. L. ELLIS, Adm'r.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I desire to inform my friends and the public generally that I have opened a first class stock of

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

In Louisville, where I shall be glad to have you call when in town. My place of business is on Main street, opposite the post-office. To say that I will please you only half expresses it, as it has always been my rule to never allow any one to go away without believing that he or she had received their full money's worth. My stock will consist mainly in all of which will be sold at bottom prices. Give me a call.

DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, HATS, SHOES, GROCERIES, &c.,

Very Respectfully,
GEO. H. COOPER.

CLELIA'S FORTUNE.

A Tale of Romance and Adventure in Sunny Italy.

(Translated from the German of A. Kell.)

"Does your Excellency want a guide?" he asked.

"Oh with you, I want none!"

"Your Excellency surely does indeed do so?"

"Will you leave me alone or not? I tell you, I do not want a guide."

"Signora, I know you do it is no easy task to find your way in Genoa. You will want a guide, sir, I assure you."

"I could restrain myself no longer. 'This is too much!' I exclaimed angrily. 'I tell you for the last time, that I do not want you—d'ye hear me—I'll have nothing to do with you.'"

"Your Excellency will please consider, that Genoa is a city, which . . ."

My patience and forbearance were exhausted. I was utterly beside myself and lifted my cane.

"Enough of your insolence—be off or back, as if struck by lightning. I retreated a step or two, my eyes staring at a man before me as at a spectre. He grinned at me and began rubbing his nose."

"What brings you here, man? Beppo Mangini, what are you doing in Genoa?" I muttered, scarcely believing my eyes.

He looked cautiously about him and said in a loud voice:

"Since your Excellency prefers to go to the Hotel de la Croce di Malta, we had better take the nearest way to our right."

And without giving me time to say another word, he took the lead and I followed him through a labyrinth of narrow, dirty streets, with which those of my readers, who have been there, are no doubt familiar, and in which one needs either a guide or the thread of Ariadne. After a while he halted in front of a low gateway and knocked. The door was promptly opened by a very corpulent man dressed in the picturesque costume of a Genoese fisherman.

"Tschao, Geronimo!" he addressed

DREXEL'S COLGONE

Best of all Colgones. The Leading Brand at Druggists.

LAXADOR

Cures Liver Complaint, Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, &c.

D'IBULL'S COUGH SYRUP

CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 30 CENTS.

SALVATION OIL

Price only 25 Cts. Sold by all druggists.

Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Cuts, Scalds, Bores, Wounds, &c.

LANOLIN PLUGS, The Great Tobacco Cure. Cures Coughs, Croup, &c.

50 STORES 100

PIECES OF MUSIC.

Every one reading 10 cents, the Waverley Magazine will be sent for four weeks as a special inducement. The regular price is four dollars per year. Each issue contains from ten to fifteen complete stories, comments on current events, puzzles, jokes, hints for the household, and the best of news—just the thing for long winter evenings. THINK what you get in four copies!

300,000 words comprising over 80 complete stories, and vocal and instrumental music. The latter is worth at least fifty cents, and all for only Ten Cents! Of course you understand this offer is made to get you to give the paper a trial, knowing full well that you will become permanent subscribers.

Address: WAVERLEY MAGAZINE, Box 172, BOSTON, MASS.

Small little fortunes have been made for us, by Anna Topp, Austin, Tex. and John, Toledo, Ohio. See cut. Others awaiting as well. Why not you? Some over $200.00. You can do the work and the money. We show you how. Write for our free literature. We show you how to make money. Can work in spare time and at all the times. Big money for small effort. Failure unknown among them.

R. TYLER, FANCY ORNAMENTAL HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER.

Calculating, graining, parlor painting a specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Leave orders at Thomas & Aycock's drug store.

NOTICE.

Having this day qualified as Administrator of Bryant Green, all persons owing his estate are notified to make payment at once, and all persons holding claims against the said estate will present them for payment on or before January 10th 1891, or this notice will be pleaded in bar for their recovery. This January 8, 1891.

O. L. ELLIS, Adm'r.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I desire to inform my friends and the public generally that I have opened a first class stock of

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

In Louisville, where I shall be glad to have you call when in town. My place of business is on Main street, opposite the post-office. To say that I will please you only half expresses it, as it has always been my rule to never allow any one to go away without believing that he or she had received their full money's worth. My stock will consist mainly in all of which will be sold at bottom prices. Give me a call.

DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, HATS, SHOES, GROCERIES, &c.,

Very Respectfully,
GEO. H. COOPER.

would follow them wherever they went.

"Ah, I see through it now," I said, and related to him the singular behavior of the conductor. "But what is to be done now? I have lost sight of them—have you chance to make up for my neglect, and do you know where they have gone?"

"Indeed I have, Signora. I followed them to the bank, which drove them to the Hotel de la Croce di Malta."

"Suppose they have left the hotel?"

"Have no fear, Signora—they leave only this evening."

"Are you sure?"

"Perfectly—eight o'clock is the hour."

"By what train? Where can they be going?"

"Not by train! They are going on board the steamboat Rivista for Civita Vecchia."

"How came you to know all this?"

"It would take some time to tell you my story and . . . here comes Papa Geronimo!"

The corpulent host presented himself with a bottle under his arm.

"Signora!" he said, placing the bottle and two rather dingy glasses on the table. "The wine is good—may you enjoy it?"

"Is that really the very last bottle?" asked Beppo with a grin.

"Him—I sup so."

"And I'm inclined to suppose, it is only the last but one, Geronimo. If you manage to water the gentleman's appetite, I'll wager, he'll call for the last after this."

"You are a droll one! How can I water the gentleman's appetite?"

"Nothing easier than that, Geronimo. Bring us some olives, salt and cheese and I am sure they'll make him thirsty anon."

I saw Beppo's game, and put a five-franc piece on the table.

"Take that, my man," I said, "and bring me what my guide called for."

"In that case I shall have to leave you alone, Signora. My daughter happens to be out."

"Alone?" exclaimed Beppo, and is not that a little pretty good company in itself?"

Geronimo took the money and left.

"Now that he is gone, Signora," said Beppo, "let me tell you how I executed your orders. Allow me however to take a sip of this wine first."

"Santa Madre Maria! That juice is excellent—try it, Signora! Have you ever tasted anything like it?"

I took a glass of the wine. It was indeed most delicious, and I was far too anxious to hear Beppo's story, to appreciate it much.

DREXEL'S COLGONE

Best of all Colgones. The Leading Brand at Druggists.

LAXADOR

Cures Liver Complaint, Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, &c.

D'IBULL'S COUGH SYRUP

CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 30 CENTS.

SALVATION OIL

Price only 25 Cts. Sold by all druggists.

Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Cuts, Scalds, Bores, Wounds, &c.

LANOLIN PLUGS, The Great Tobacco Cure. Cures Coughs, Croup, &c.

50 STORES 100

PIECES OF MUSIC.

Every one reading 10 cents, the Waverley Magazine will be sent for four weeks as a special inducement. The regular price is four dollars per year. Each issue contains from ten to fifteen complete stories, comments on current events, puzzles, jokes, hints for the household, and the best of news—just the thing for long winter evenings. THINK what you get in four copies!

300,000 words comprising over 80 complete stories, and vocal and instrumental music. The latter is worth at least fifty cents, and all for only Ten Cents! Of course you understand this offer is made to get you to give the paper a trial, knowing full well that you will become permanent subscribers.

Address: WAVERLEY MAGAZINE, Box 172, BOSTON, MASS.

Small little fortunes have been made for us, by Anna Topp, Austin, Tex. and John, Toledo, Ohio. See cut. Others awaiting as well. Why not you? Some over $200.00. You can do the work and the money. We show you how. Write for our free literature. We show you how to make money. Can work in spare time and at all the times. Big money for small effort. Failure unknown among them.

R. TYLER, FANCY ORNAMENTAL HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER.

Calculating, graining, parlor painting a specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Leave orders at Thomas & Aycock's drug store.

NOTICE.

Having this day qualified as Administrator of Bryant Green, all persons owing his estate are notified to make payment at once, and all persons holding claims against the said estate will present them for payment on or before January 10th 1891, or this notice will be pleaded in bar for their recovery. This January 8, 1891.

O. L. ELLIS, Adm'r.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I desire to inform my friends and the public generally that I have opened a first class stock of

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

In Louisville, where I shall be glad to have you call when in town. My place of business is on Main street, opposite the post-office. To say that I will please you only half expresses it, as it has always been my rule to never allow any one to go away without believing that he or she had received their full money's worth. My stock will consist mainly in all of which will be sold at bottom prices. Give me a call.

DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, HATS, SHOES, GROCERIES, &c.,

Very Respectfully,
GEO. H. COOPER.

CHAPTER XXXI.

"Come, Beppo—I am waiting."

"Well, Signora," he began, "you'll soon see how simply things can be done, provided one knows one's business. I maintain that if people fall in such matters as this, it is nine times out of ten it is their own fault; for you must know, that before taking up a profession like ours, people are required to go through a long course of preparation, and if they do not, it would be far better for them to do something else, though it were the meanest of trades . . ."

"Ah! that's quite another thing. A man, Signora! I think there is one bottle, the last one, left, and that is very much at your service."

CHAPTER XXX.

We entered and while groping our way along the dark corridor, Beppo whispered to me:

"You can go in here, as good and better than any on the king's own table. This fellow is one of those wine-smugglers, in whom Genoa abounds. If you are a connoisseur, as I suppose you are, I can recommend the firm."

"But what have we come here for, Beppo?"

"Above all else, we can at least chat here in perfect peace and quietness, Signora!"

We walked into a dark, smoky room, took a seat on a low bench and awaited Geronimo's return.

"First of all, Beppo, tell me, how you came here?" I asked, unable to control my curiosity any longer.

"That's easily told, Signora! I arrived in the same way you did, and in the very train with yourself!"

"You mean to say, that you have just arrived?"

"Certainly, we were travelling-companions."

"But why? What have you got to do here? Let me know all."

"You ordered me to go—and I went!"

"I?"

"Most assuredly, Signora! You told me to wait for you at the station, but forbad my addressing you there; if I saw anybody with you, in which case I was to follow you. Well, I did follow you. Have I done wrong?"

"On the contrary! But how did you follow me?"

"That was simple enough! When I saw you pushing Fra Angiolo aside and jumping into an open coupe, I did the same, except that I entered the coupe of the agent who, naturally enough, wanted to put me out just when the train was starting and . . ."

"And . . ."

"I showed him my card, authorizing me to take any train I wanted, and to call upon any official of the road for assistance!"

"You are worth your weight in gold, Beppo. But go on, I am burning with anxiety to hear all."

"The transit was an easy one to me, Signora! Having to watch both you and the passengers in question, I made the agent order the conductor to inform him when and where they left the train, fully persuaded that you would follow them wherever they went.

"Ah, I see through it now," I said, and related to him the singular behavior of the conductor. "But what is to be done now? I have lost sight of them—have you chance to make up for my neglect, and do you know where they have gone?"

"Indeed I have, Signora. I followed them to the bank, which drove them to the Hotel de la Croce di Malta."

"Suppose they have left the hotel?"

"Have no fear, Signora—they leave only this evening."

"Are you sure?"

"Perfectly—eight o'clock is the hour."

"By what train? Where can they be going?"

"Not by train! They are going on board the steamboat Rivista for Civita Vecchia."

"How came you to know all this?"

"It would take some time to tell you my story and . . . here comes Papa Geronimo!"

The corpulent host presented himself with a bottle under his arm.

"Signora!" he said, placing the bottle and two rather dingy glasses on the table. "The wine is good—may you enjoy it?"

"Is that really the very last bottle?" asked Beppo with a grin.

"Him—I sup so."

"And I'm inclined to suppose, it is only the last but one, Geronimo. If you manage to water the gentleman's appetite, I'll wager, he'll call for the last after this."

"You are a droll one! How can I water the gentleman's appetite?"

"Nothing easier than that, Geronimo. Bring us some olives, salt and cheese and I am sure they'll make him thirsty anon."

I saw Beppo's game, and put a five-franc piece on the table.

"Take that, my man," I said, "and bring me what my guide called for."

"In that case I shall have to leave you alone, Signora. My daughter happens to be out."

"Alone?" exclaimed Beppo, and is not that a little pretty good company in itself?"

Geronimo took the money and left.

"Now that he is gone, Signora," said Beppo, "let me tell you how I executed your orders. Allow me however to take a sip of this wine first."

"Santa Madre Maria! That juice is excellent—try it, Signora! Have you ever tasted anything like it?"

I took a glass of the wine. It was indeed most delicious, and I was far too anxious to hear Beppo's story, to appreciate it much.

DREXEL'S COLGONE

Best of all Colgones. The Leading Brand at Druggists.

LAXADOR

Cures Liver Complaint, Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, &c.

D'IBULL'S COUGH SYRUP

CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 30 CENTS.

SALVATION OIL

Price only 25 Cts. Sold by all druggists.

Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Cuts, Scalds, Bores, Wounds, &c.

LANOLIN PLUGS, The Great Tobacco Cure. Cures Coughs, Croup, &c.

50 STORES 100

PIECES OF MUSIC.

Every one reading 10 cents, the Waverley Magazine will be sent for four weeks as a special inducement. The regular price is four dollars per year. Each issue contains from ten to fifteen complete stories, comments on current events, puzzles, jokes, hints for the household, and the best of news—just the thing for long winter evenings. THINK what you get in four copies!

300,000 words comprising over 80 complete stories, and vocal and instrumental music. The latter is worth at least fifty cents, and all for only Ten Cents! Of course you understand this offer is made to get you to give the paper a trial, knowing full well that you will become permanent subscribers.

Address: WAVERLEY MAGAZINE, Box 172, BOSTON, MASS.

Small little fortunes have been made for us, by Anna Topp, Austin, Tex. and John, Toledo, Ohio. See cut. Others awaiting as well. Why not you? Some over $200.00. You can do the work and the money. We show you how. Write for our free literature. We show you how to make money. Can work in spare time and at all the times. Big money for small effort. Failure unknown among them.

R. TYLER, FANCY ORNAMENTAL HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER.

Calculating, graining, parlor painting a specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Leave orders at Thomas & Aycock's drug store.

NOTICE.

Having this day qualified as Administrator of Bryant Green, all persons owing his estate are notified to make payment at once, and all persons holding claims against the said estate will present them for payment on or before January 10th 1891, or this notice will be pleaded in bar for their recovery. This January 8, 1891.

O. L. ELLIS, Adm'r.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I desire to inform my friends and the public generally that I have opened a first class stock of

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

In Louisville, where I shall be glad to have you call when in town. My place of business is on Main street, opposite the post-office. To say that I will please you only half expresses it, as it has always been my rule to never allow any one to go away without believing that he or she had received their full money's worth. My stock will consist mainly in all of which will be sold at bottom prices. Give me a call.

DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, HATS, SHOES, GROCERIES, &c.,

Very Respectfully,
GEO. H. COOPER.

CHAPTER XXXI.

"Come, Beppo—I am waiting."

"Well, Signora," he began, "you'll soon see how simply things can be done, provided one knows one's business. I maintain that if people fall in such matters as this, it is nine times out of ten it is their own fault; for you must know, that before taking up a profession like ours, people are required to go through a long course of preparation, and if they do not, it would be far better for them to do something else, though it were the meanest of trades . . ."

"Ah! that's quite another thing. A man, Signora! I think there is one bottle, the last one, left, and that is very much at your service."

CHAPTER XXX.

We entered and while groping our way along the dark corridor, Beppo whispered to me:

"You can go in here, as good and better than any on the king's own table. This fellow is one of those wine-smugglers, in whom Genoa abounds. If you are a connoisseur, as I suppose you are, I can recommend the firm."

"But what have we come here for, Beppo?"

"Above all else, we can at least chat here in perfect peace and quietness, Signora!"

We walked into a dark, smoky room, took a seat on a low bench and awaited Geronimo's return.

"First of all, Beppo, tell me, how you came here?" I asked, unable to control my curiosity any longer.

"That's easily told, Signora! I arrived in the same way you did, and in the very train with yourself!"

"You mean to say, that you have just arrived?"

"Certainly, we were travelling-companions."

"But why? What have you got to do here? Let me know all."

"You ordered me to go—and I went!"

"I?"

"Most assuredly, Signora! You told me to wait for you at the station, but forbad my addressing you there; if I saw anybody with you, in which case I was to follow you. Well, I did follow you. Have I done wrong?"

"On the contrary! But how did you follow me?"

"That was simple enough! When I saw you pushing Fra Angiolo aside and jumping into an open coupe, I did the same, except that I entered the coupe of the agent who, naturally enough, wanted to put me out just when the train was starting and . . ."

"And . . ."

"I showed him my card, authorizing me to take any train I wanted, and to call upon any official of the road for assistance!"

"You are worth your weight in gold, Beppo. But go on, I am burning with anxiety to hear all."

"The transit was an easy one to me, Signora! Having to watch both you and the passengers in question, I made the agent order the conductor to inform him when and where they left the train, fully persuaded that you