No Indemnity to Females.

If gentle woman wants to find out something about herself, she should buy some insurance, such as a traveling man buys when he starts out on a trip, and then meet with an accident, and see what comes of it. On the back of the insurance ticket is printed in plain words, "No indemnity to females." So she knows just what to expect; but as there is reason for everything, it naturally sets her to thinking. The other day a woman who jostles elbows with the world more or less in pursuit of the es- sential dollar, set out to discover why her sex was in disrepute as a risk. She consulted three agents. She put the case fairly and squarely. She marked the diagram with her neatly gloved index finger, and showed each agent where she sat in the palace car and where the man sat next to her. She had a $3,000 insurance ticket in her pocket; likewise he. A collision deprived him of an arm and her of two arms. He may collect weekly indemnity, but she gets nothing unless she dies, in which case she gets it—or, that is, her heirs get it. The various insurance men whom she consulted were inclined to refer her to the Mede and Persian nature of the company's rules. But she was of an inquiring mind, and she pursued them for a reason. They had never given the subject much thought but each advanced his own theory. The first one said he believed it was because a woman was not regarded as such a loss to the community as a man. The second one said he presumed it was because women were so flighty and nervous, that in case of an accident she was more apt to fly in the face of danger. On account of lacking the presence of mind she might get under the wheels or into the boiler. The third man allowed that women were most always sick, and if a company began to pay indemnity they would never get well. The women who are leading crusades in the interest of their own sex might do well to consider the points which stand in the way of their being a first-class insurance risk.

About the Alliance.

The Alliance convention which was held at Fort Worth, Texas, a few days since, planted itself squarely against the sub-treasury and land loan schemes, ownership of railroads, telegraphs, &c., by the Government, and passed a resolution denouncing these schemes as a violation of the first principles of good government, paternal in their character and centralizing in their tendencies, the result of which would be if enacted into law to foster such a horde of Government officers and dependents upon the people that the voice of the people could no longer be heard in the control of governmental affairs. The resolution also demands the removal from National and State offices of the order of those men who are not farmers and that their places be filled by men who are identified in interest with the farmers. It appeals to the Alliance men throughout the country to come to the rescue of the order, to save it from ruin and disgrace, and recommends the holding of a national convention to this end at St. Louis, on the third Tuesday of September, 1891. Here is good, level-headed sense, spoken by men who realize the purpose for which the Alliance was organized, and who see the danger to which it is being subjected by the new fangled schemes which have been thrust upon it by men who are not identified with the great agricultural industry. If the Alliance had been under the exclusive control of farmers there would have been no politics and none of this sub-treasury land loan railroad and telegraph owning impossible nonsense in it.—Wilmington Star.

A Washington correspondent says: "The Stanford boom for the Presidency is again obtaining prominence. It looks very much as if he would be the nominee of the People's party for President. He has well-paid agents, and many of them, in every section of the Union working up his boom among the Farmers' Alliance, the Knights of Labor and the 'industrial' organizations. Stanford has $50,000,000, and he is willing to put up handsomely to get the nomination, and it looks very much as if he would succeed in getting it. A man pretty familiar with the inside of the machine stated that Stanford was paying out cash at the rate of $250,000 a year to keep his boom afloat. It is said that he has succeeded in purchasing the Negro Farmers' Alliance in a chunk, and that the vote of that organization will be cast for him solidly in the national convention."

MERIT MEASURED BY SUCCESS.

The wonderful popularity of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) is the natural result of the tests to which the public has put it. The merits of the medicine have remained the same, but the knowledge of the people with respect to its remarkable curative properties has increased until now there is a demand for it wherever the English language is spoken. S. S. S. was first offered as a specific for contagious blood poison. For that it was, and is, truly a specific. But it is now regarded, wherever its virtues are known, as a true specific for all forms of blood disease. Whole columns could be filled with testimonials to this effect.

A soldier who died at Vicksburg in 1863, was drawing a pension of $16 a month ever since, with $1000 as back pension. When the discovery was made a pension official said that it was a "mighty curious case."

A WONDER WORKER.

Mr. Frank Hoffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it and in ten days enjoyed good health. If you have any throat, lung or chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottles free at Louisville drug stores.

Baltimore recently shipped fifteen locomotives to Brazil, and other Southern cities might get a good deal of trade in that direction if they would make a pull for it.

Senator Peffer, of Kansas, says that New York is the home of Mammon and the Babylon of the republic. Its noises, smells, heat and money kings are worse than Kansas grasshoppers.

CRITICISING A YOUNG LADY.

"She would be a pretty girl but for one thing."
 "What's that?" asked Charley.
 "George—Her face is always covered with purple and red blotches."
 "Charley—Oh, that's easily enough disposed of. Used to be the same way myself, but I caught on to the trouble one day, and got rid of it in no time."
 "George—What was it?"
 "Charley—Simply blood eruptions. Took a short course of P. P. P. I tell you, it's the best blood corrector. The governor had rheumatism so bad that you could hear him holler clear across the county every time he moved. He tried it, and you know what an athletic old gent he is now. If somebody would give Miss Daisy a pointer, she would thank them afterwards." For sale by Thomas & Aycocke.

Mrs. Kate Williams, a domestic, of Houston, Texas, has given birth to a boy baby which has a full set of teeth. Medical men are puzzled. The new arrival is a perfect child.
