

TAR DROPS.

The horse-traders had it lively on Tuesday.

The crowd in town on Tuesday was the largest we have seen here in years.

Mr. C. M. Cooke, Jr., killed two hogs this week, the largest of which weighed 450 pounds, the smaller 275.

Although the crowd was very large here this week, the people were generally orderly, and there were very few arrests by the police.

Mr. James S. Battle, one of Warren county's most prominent citizens, was stricken with paralysis a few days ago at Spring Hope.

"Cedar Hill stock" has somewhat improved over that of years back. We saw only three "frames" this week that had to lean against a tree or fence to stand on their feet.

The dinner given by the ladies of the Methodist Parsonage Aid Society in the Opera House on Tuesday was well patronized and the ladies feel very kindly toward those who so liberally aided them.

Jones & Cooper are getting there and no mistake. They know just exactly what their patrons want, and hardly ever fail to satisfy. They will have a new advertisement in the Times next week, too busy to write it up this week.

A special from Raleigh to the Wilmington Messenger says: Today, the heirs of the estate of Mrs. Mary Smith Morehead were paid a $40,000 dividend here. This is after all the legacies are paid. Other dividends will be paid.

The Times welcomes its good friend, W. K. A. Williams to town. He is one of the rising young men of this county. He will be glad to have his friends call to see him at Jones & Cooper's, where he has accepted a position as salesman.

In addition to the local bar the following lawyers were in attendance at Court this week: Shaw and Zollicoffer, Henderson; Batchelor and Busbee, Raleigh; Cooley, of Nashville; Shaw, of Oxford; Galle and Bullock, Franklinton; Paul Jones, Tarboro.

As will be seen elsewhere in the Times B. T. Ayres and Co., have gone into the fish and oyster business in Louisburg, and they are receiving on the days named in their advertisement nice fresh fish and delicious oysters. We have tried some of their fish and oysters and are prepared to say that both are very fine. Mr. Ayres says that if the public will appreciate their efforts to supply the market with nice fresh fish and oysters at the moderate and reasonable prices named, they will make arrangements to receive them often. See their adv.

As an exchange says, there is a sad propensity in human nature; very sad. It is to listen to scandal, and help to spread it, too. Without intention to do our neighbor an injury, a careless remark may be seized by a babbling, and as a snowball grows by rolling it so does a story by telling. It passes through the babbling tribe, growing larger and larger and darker and darker, and by the time it has rolled through Babbletown it has assumed the largeness and blackness of base slander. Curb this propensity as far as possible. The world has much in it that is unpleasant without adding anything more.

There was considerable complaint on the part of those who were anxious to witness the proceeding of selecting the jury in the murder trial on Thursday, but were prevented from so doing because of the fact that Judge Bynum ordered the Court room cleared before the work of selecting the jury began. The Judge said that his reason for clearing the room was that he had been informed that there was danger of the floor giving way, and if such was the case he desired and intended to see to it that no such calamity should take place, if he could prevent it. So the complainers will see that the Judge was looking after their safety, and at the same time protecting the county from loss.

We have often met with people in our experience who may be described as being "more nice than wise." And as an exchange says, they have manifested this in different ways—some in the management and training of their children, and the constant surveillance kept over them in every way. In this connection we would say that there are two very efficacious ways of making children bad—one is by telling them too much about vice for their years, and warning them too frequently against it, and the other is by not telling them enough on the subject, and not advising them enough against the world's temptations. Sensible parents know that the middle ground is and stay in it; fanatical ones go to an extreme always and raise culprits of children when they think they are going to raise pinks of perfection. And "more nice than wise" parents are very apt to be fanatical, observation has taught us.

Fire at Springhope. A destructive fire occurred at Springhope last Monday, burning out the following: T. H. Matthews, A. J. Byrdine, W. H. Freeman, W. C. Bass, W. P. Manning, all merchants. C. B. Brantley's livery stable, the Cotton Seed Oil Co's house, containing 20,000 lbs. seed. Loss between $3,000 and $4,000. Insurance about $1,100.

Franklin Superior Court.

The January term of Franklin Superior Court convened on Monday last, His Honor, J. G. Bynum, Judge presiding. On account of being detained at Pitt Court to a late hour Saturday the Judge was unable to reach Louisburg until 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, consequently Court was not opened until that hour. The only business attended to Monday evening was the selection of the Grand Jury, and the delivery of the Judge's charge. His charge was sound and forcible, and its delivery was clear in every respect—so clear that no man of ordinary intelligence could fail to understand the duties of a grand juror. Solicitor Jno. E. Woodard was promptly on hand, and presented the State's side of the docket with his usual skill and ability. Mr. Moses Neal was made Foreman of the Grand Jury. On Tuesday morning the State docket was taken up and the following cases were tried or otherwise disposed of:

State vs Henry Richards, selling liquor on Sunday; judgment suspended on payment of costs.

State vs E. L. Winston and R. F. Green, continued as to Winston. Green called and failed, judgment nisi; scifa.

State vs Marcellus Dent, carrying concealed weapons; submitted; judgment suspended on payment of costs.

State vs Helen Harris, larceny, not guilty.

State vs James Burwell, larceny, not guilty.

State vs Wesley Whitaker, larceny, comes into court and enters a plea of nolo contendere; judgment suspended on payment of costs.

State vs Rufus Kearney, A. & B.; not guilty.

State vs John Green and Rosanna Jones; E. & A.; not guilty.

State vs T. B. Holden, assault with deadly weapon, guilty.

State vs Geo. Whitfield, larceny, guilty.

The case of State vs. Calvin and Thomas Coley for the murder of Simon Tucker on June 30th 1892, in Gold Mine township, this county, came up for trial at this term of the Superior Court. The grand jury found a true bill on Tuesday, and the prisoners were at once arraigned. The prisoners had no counsel and Judge Bynum assigned Messrs. F. S. Spruill and W. M. Person to defend them. The Sheriff was ordered to summon a special venire of two hundred men, returnable on Thursday morning. The Court House was filled before the hour for the opening of the Court arrived, but when the Judge came into the Court House he ordered the crowd to clear the Court room, as he had been informed by a number of men that there was danger of the floor giving way.

The special venire was called and the selection of the jury began at 11:35 o'clock. Nineteen men were made to stand aside, and it was 12:30 o'clock when the first juror, T. J. Hight, was chosen. Eight more men were made to stand aside and J. E. T. Ayres was chosen as the second juror. After eight others were made to stand aside No. 3 was chosen in the person of L. B. Perry. Twenty-two others were made to stand aside and juror No. 4 was chosen—Levin Phillips. Four others were made to stand aside and M. E. Joyner was selected as juror No. 5. The sixth juror was chosen in the person of J. H. Upperman, after standing six others aside. Five others were made to stand aside and J. M. Brantley was chosen as juror No. 7. After standing aside three others R. F. Brantley was chosen as No. 8. One other was stood aside and J. H. Conyers was chosen as No. 9. Fifty more men were made to stand aside before the 10th juror was chosen when Joel H. Harris was given seat No. 10. Then five others were stood aside and H. K. Richards was chosen as No. 11. Thirty-five others were made to stand aside when B. M. Alford was chosen as the 12th juror. The selection of the jury was completed at 4 o'clock, and the court took a recess until Friday morning.

As we go to press on Thursday night we will not be able to give the result of the trial until next week.

The Solicitor has decided to make State's witnesses out of the two women, Pinky Williams and Lucy Brewer. Several other witnesses have been summoned to give evidence in the case.

Potato Contest.

Some time ago the editor of the Times tendered to a lady member of the Baptist church at Franklinton, two subscriptions to the Times, one for one year and another for six months, to be awarded to the person who delivered the largest and the second largest five sweet potatoes, at the post-office at Franklinton, the same to be sold for the benefit of the new Baptist church. The following were the contestants, and weights of potatoes:

Q. P. Weaver brought five potatoes weighing 24 pounds, raised on N. Y. Gulley's farm, J. R. Jones 23 1/2, Mrs. J. I. Moore 18 pounds, W. H. Mitchell 17 pounds, W. H. Harris 17 pounds, W. C. Duke 16 pounds, Chas. McGhee 14 pounds, R. O. Pernell 12 pounds, J. L. McWhorter 12, C. Duke having no very large potatoes said they would bring more in weight anyway. Mr. Mitchell brought 91 pounds and Mr. Duke 50 pounds. Mr. Q. P. Weaver gets the FRANKLIN TIMES for twelve months. Mr. J. R. Jones gets the same paper for six months. Mr. S. H. Card brought the largest corn. He will get The Franklinton Weekly for twelve months.

It will be seen that Q. P. Weaver gets the Times for one year, and J. R. Jones gets it for six months. Their names have been placed on our list and marked paid for the time specified.

Pluck vs. Luck.

The Newbern Courier never said a truer thing than that the "prosperity of a community depends solely and only on the activity and enterprise of its people." If they are sluggish the community as a whole will be known as sluggish. Bright, active people take advantage of every opportunity for bettering themselves; but the spectacle is presented to the world of one town, Louisburg, which has every advantage and facility for successfully manufacturing cotton—being in the very center of a fine cotton country—stopping still, and instead of utilizing its advantages, is engaged in waiting for "outsiders" to come and take them. Now it will be fine luck if an "outsider" heads the cry, "Too many other towns are grabbing for help. And it is hard to take chances when there is no necessity for trusting to luck in Louisburg. Try a little pluck. Possess yourself in an abundance of this most excellent trait and do yourself what you are asking others to do. Build your own factories and reap the profits yourself." If "outsider" capital enters the field give it a cordial welcome. But don't sit still waiting. The old saying, "the man who hesitates is lost" is often proven. Never ask another to do for you what you can do for yourself. It isn't right and snatches even of dishonesty. Carry your own burden. Be self-reliant and it follows if you have an advantage and manage it properly success will surely be the end.

A Saintry Woman Dead.

A telegram was received here Monday announcing the death in New York on Sunday morning of Sister Cecilia (Mrs. Lawrence), formerly of Louisburg. Mrs. Lawrence was born in Louisburg and resided here until she joined the "Sisterhood of the Good Shepherd," about twenty years ago, when she removed to Wilmington. Her age was about 58 years. An aged mother, two sisters, and a brother survive her.

In speaking of her death the Wilmington Messenger says: Here was a life of sacrifice in doing good deeds, and in this community she has carried light and comfort to many a burdened soul. For twenty years she performed her labor of love and mercy in Wilmington, helping the poor and needy, ministering to the sick and dying, carrying the consolation of Christ's religion to hearts bowed down and souls oppressed. She was a devoted Christian woman and her pure and holy life and exalted, tender character is a shining example to the world.

The remains of the saintly dead will be brought to Wilmington for interment in Oakdale Cemetery.

Charges Against Mr. Simmons.

A late number of the Fayetteville Observer states that charges affecting the honor of Hon. F. M. Simmons had been filed with the finance committee of the United States Senate. Mr. Simmons' attention having been called to this statement, he says: "If any charge affecting my character in any respect has been filed with the committee I have not been informed of it, and Senator Vance, who is a member of the committee, has told me that no such charges had been preferred, and would have notified me if such were the case. Mr. Hale has shown a bitterness toward me which is inexplicable. This statement is simply in keeping with his other statements regarding myself. I am not aware of any charges preferred against me by others than the Republicans the Populists and Mr. Hale. I am willing to rest my case with the people in the face of charges from such sources. I have no fear that my appointment will not be confirmed. I certainly know that Senator Vance will not permit me to be attacked without notifying me of it, and he himself has said that he has no charge to prefer against me."

A Family Medicine and for Teaching Children.

Mrs. S. M. Faires, a former citizen of Charlotte, says: I heartily desire to express my gratitude for the benefit I received by the use of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, having lain in bed three months from jaundice, which I took a few days after the birth of my second child. Other medicines failed me, and I took this Remedy as a last resort, and the medicine (not faith in it) cured me, after the use of a few bottles. My stomach at that time was in such a condition that I had to begin with a few drops of the medicine, instead of the prescribed dose. I have also found it invaluable for teaching children, and any weak deranged stomach both for men, and women in any condition, being entirely harmless and effectual. Hoping this may benefit some others suffering as I did, by stimulating them to give the Remedy a thorough trial. I am very respectfully, MRS. S. M. FAIRES.

MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY WILL CURE CHILLS BY BUILDING UP AND GIVING TONE TO THE SYSTEM.

Davidson, N. C., May 29, 1893. Mrs. JOE PERSON—Dear Madam: About five years ago my two little daughters were in feeble health and were having chills, which continued under the ordinary treatment. I take pleasure in stating that the use of your Remedy broke the chills on them and completely restored them to health. Your respectfully, C. K. BOSS.

If you want to make your mother, wife or sister a Christmas present be sure you get a nice pair of scissors, warranted, by Crenshaw, Hicks & Allen.
