The Question

of Life Assurance is not "Can you afford it?" but "Can you afford to do without it?"

WOODWARDS, S. C., July 3, 1893. Mr. W. J. RODDEY, Rock Hill, S. C. Dear Sir:—I have before me a statement of the various options offered in settlement of my maturing Tontine policy in the Equitable Life Assurance Society. The results are highly satisfactory and I heartily commend the Equitable Society and the Tontine system insurance as practiced by it, to persons desiring safe and profitable life insurance.

A Daughter's Part at Home.

One of the sweetest things a girl can do is to receive friends graciously, particularly at home. In one's own house a cordial manner is particularly fitting. Do not stand off in the middle of the room and bow coldly and formally to the friend who has called. Walk over to meet her, give her your hand and say pleasantly that you are very glad to see her again. Stiff, cold and formal ways of greeting acquaintances are not proper in a girl welcoming guests to her father's house. A daughter's part is to assist her mother on every social occasion. The girl pours the tea in her mother's drawing room when friends drop in at 5 o'clock. Quite often, when no maid is present, she helps the guests to the sandwiches and the cakes which are served at 5 o'clock tea, and herself hands the cups and takes them from the guests who would like to be relieved.

Apart from and more important even than her manner to a guest who happens in for an hour or a day is the manner of a daughter to her father and mother. The father returns to his home after a wearying day at business. He is tired in body and mind. Coming back, as his latchkey turns in the home door, he throws off care; he is joyous at the thought of the dear ones he will meet after hours of absence. His young daughter, in a pretty gown, with the bloom and freshness only girlhood wears, should be ready to give him the attention he loves—the kiss, the cherry word—to her mother and the rest in letting her father see how much he is loved at home. Men give up a great deal for their families—their time, their strength, their knowledge they have gained in life's experiences—they spend everything freely for their home's sake, and the home should pay its debt in much outspoken love. Harper's Round Table.

Sparks.

Below are some chips from the workshop of Dr Broadus. They were caught on the fly in the lecture room and have never before been published:

Lift the world to religion.
 No one knows exactly how to pronounce everything except a country school marm.
 New bearers will be constantly needing old truths.
 The basis of our preaching cannot be new; we have the same gospel, human nature and human life.
 If we and our bearers are thinking mainly of art then let us get something new.
 The pulpit often makes the mistake of giving common thoughts about deep things instead of deep thoughts about common things.
 If you preach an old sermon study well your notes.
 A sermon that will suit all occasions does not suit any of them.
 Within the limit of Christianity are two foes—Broad Churchism and High Churchism.
 Expository preaching is highly acceptable to cultivated audiences. Practice it.
 The greatest lesson we have to learn is freedom in preaching.
 A man born to speak will impress you that there is more in him than comes to the surface.
 Rise above defects and be useful in spite of them.
 Let us urge upon you the great importance of conversation.

When Lynching Will Cease.

Hickory Press and Carolinian.
 Speedy and certain justice is the solution of the lynching problem. When the people become satisfied that dangerous criminals of this type will be tried, convicted and punished without unnecessary delay they will leave them to the courts. Our penal code should be overhauled and we should get rid of the delays and appeals which now make it possible for criminals to postpone their punishment several years and perhaps finally escape.
 In England a murderer is sometimes tried, convicted and hanged within a month after the commission of his crime, and we can be just as prompt here. The importance of this matter cannot be over-estimated. We must get rid of the lynching evil or be branded by the civilized world as barbarians. There is no sense in having laws unless we enforce them and the people must be taught that our courts will administer justice and that the lynchers are themselves criminals who must be punished for their lawless outrages.

 Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1895.
 A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.
