THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

G. C. L.
 A pretty deer is dear to me, A hare with downy hair,
 A hart with all his heart,
 Can barely bear a bear.
 'Tis plain that no one takes a pine
 As well as some other things,
 A rake, though it takes a rake,
 And tears away the tare, All raise time, time raises all;
 And though the while, hole wears, It 'write' and 'rite' are neither 'right,'
 And 'don't' and 'rite' are neither 'right,' Beer often brings a beer to man, Coughing a cough brings.
 And too much ale will make us all
 As well as some other things,
 The person lies who says he lies When he is not reciting, And when consumptive folks recline They all decline reclining, A quail don't quail before a storm;
 A bough will bow before it.
 We cannot rein the rain at all;
 No earthly power reign o'er it.
 A dove dies while, then dies;
 To dye-le's always dying, Until on his dying bed
 He thinks no more of dying.
 A son of Mars has many a son;
 All deys must have their days,
 And every knight should pray each night
 'Tis him who weighs his ways.
 'Tis the man who should mete our meat To feed his own should mete our meat.
 The fair should fare on fare alone, Else one cannot be won.
 A last, alas! is sometimes false;
 Of faults a maid is made;
 Her waist is but a barren waste—Though stayed, she is not staid.
 Shout forward, and forth in spring, and shoot Though summer kills the dove, it leaves The leaves to fall in fall.
 I would a story here I deems, it leaves But you might like to state; So let's suppose that we have reached The tail end of our tale.

Dress.

Rose H. James, in Christian Courier.
 "I wish women would dress more plainly when they go to church, instead of wearing such expensive apparel."
 Such were the words I heard from the lips of a man, the other day, whom I consider quite sensible in his views.
 I asked him what he meant. He replied: "I cannot enjoy the services when I have to sit behind a woman in church, with big sleeves and a broad, high hat, who will not sit still, but keeps a person bobbing first one way and then another in order to see the preacher.
 Why can't women leave their high hats and big sleeve dresses for theaters, evening parties and swell occasions, I'd like to know?" This was said mere, which appeared to me to be quite sensible, along this line.
 What this man or anyone else, thinks probably will not change the fashion. Attending church is more of a display of fine clothes, fine hats and sparkling diamonds, than it is of manifesting a meek and quiet spirit.
 If this is not true, why do so many women at certain seasons of the year, remark that they could not attend church because they were disappointed in not getting their new dress completed in time to wear on Sunday?
 Were they destitute of excellent dresses, or was it from fear of being criticised for wearing a dress a little out of style?
 Others have robed themselves in the latest fashion, and we are too proud to appear in a dress a little out of style and season.
 When will we learn that the church is for prayer, devotion, worship, and not for show and dress?
 But society has captured the church, or rather the world has, until we have reached a point that opera chairs must be the seats in a church house, opera hats must be worn to the church service, opo-atic music must be rendered as a part of the worship, and the preacher must deliver his discourses like an actor at a theater.
 A church failing to comply with these requirements will not draw and cannot be called a fashionable church.
 Women, Christian women I mean, why cannot we institute a new order of things, and dress more plainly for church?
 I do not mean that we should adopt any one style, as do the Quakers, Shakers, Salvation Army or Dunkards, but let us dress plainly in hats and clothes, and keep our finery for social gatherings. Let us keep the worship of the Lord, at the Lord's house, separate and distinct from the worship of the world and society.
 By so doing we will prove to the world that we are followers of the meek and lowly Jesus. But where does humility present itself in our Christian lives, pray tell? We could, if we would, but dress plainly, show to the poor, whose hearts are aching to be found in the humble service of the Master, that we are not above them, but on an equality with them in matters that pertain to the soul.

The poor abse at themselves from our church service, or sneak in and take a back seat, because they have no silks, festers, nor diamonds to wear.

Clothes! Clothes! A religion of clothes, a church house of show, a service of display, and all around us are bodies shivering in the cold, and hungering for food, and souls thirsting for the Water of Life.

We are stumbling blocks in their way to the cross, we are hindrances to the poor who want to lead an active Christian life, by our society and worldly ways in and out of the house of God.

Christian woman, we can remedy this, if we only have the courage to do so.
 Let the zealous women in our churches institute a less reform among Christians, and I believe that God will bless us, the poor that thank us, and we will be benefitted in mind and heart.

NO DEM-POP FUSION.

An Irredel Democrat Speaks out Boldly for Straight Goods.
 To the Editor of The Landmark: Great Scott! and can it be possible? I see in the columns of The Landmark that Smith, Peebles and a few others are trying to effect a fusion of the Democratic party with the Pops. Surely the Democrat of North Carolina cannot be thus deluded. O, ye Democrats, have you forgotten so soon their "reflawm" legislative record with Fred Douglass a greater man than the immortal Washington and Lee? and the disrepute thus brought by them upon the good name of North Carolina by thus honoring the name of a miscegenating negro? Have you forgotten their assignment of "no mortgage law" which so crippled business transactions and came near leaving thousands of North Carolina's citizens without provisions? Have you forgotten, when they were getting up that honest election law in the interest of a free ballot and a fair count—one that would be "establishatory to all parties," how they (the fusionists) took to themselves two election judges and gave the Democrats one? What unanimity there was in the reformers rejecting amendments requiring judges of elections to be men of good moral character, &c? How they filled the woods full of justices of the peace (in very many instances incompetent)? With what audacity they legislated good officials who had been honorably elected, out of office before the expiration of their term of office and supplanted them by worse men of their selection, having the same duties under other names? Though they bowled calamity, extravagance of government and high taxes and promised a reduction in taxes, and pictured great retrenchment in the expenses of the government, yet they increased the expenses of the State government more than $100,000.

Have you forgotten how, in Congress, they quibbled over the Wilson tariff bill because it did not give reduction enough on tarriff taxes, and yet the same quibblers vote to increase duties? How they prostrated the public school system in North Carolina and demoralized the county government!
 A legislative body that was dictated to and run by the "big five," ad finitum.

Now where is the consistency?
 Where are the straddling promises? Where are the reformations?
 Oh! consistency, thou art a jewel but not to be found here. Surely with such a record, coupled with all the wild theories of the Pop-party, will suffice to prevent the time-honored Democracy of North Carolina from entering into any such co-operation by which she must sacrifice the grand principles which enabled her to wrest North Carolina from the carpet-baggers and their misrule in the latter sixties and early seventies, and give to her one of the best governments of all the sisterhood of States. Stand by the noble principles of the Democratic party, shoulder to shoulder; put a straight, good ticket in the field upon Democratic principles, fight out your personal differences within the lines of the Democratic party, and if we are defeated at the polls let it be with clean hands. Assuredly if we do so and are defeated "we shall sprout and grow again," and be clear of fusion knots and suckers.

Although a few men shall make a trade of fusion with the Pops shall they deliver us as goods to them. Remember the fate of the Democratic party in South Carolina. See how they have given themselves over to Populism and behold them "grinding (by name only) in the Democratic mill!"

Let our silver fight and anti-silver fight be within our own camp. Let us remember, too, our tariff laws as we go along, and keep it firmly fixed in mind that though we coin money by billions, while we pay high protective tariffs and revenues, thereby making a constant drain upon our purses, which nearly all goes to rich manufacturing establishments, and pay exorbitant pensions (and but little of which comes back to us), money will be scarce with it, while the highly-protected and highly-pensioned States will grow fatter annually at our expense.

Let us have a Democratic ticket that will be STRAIGHT GOODS.
 Feb. 26, 1896.

 Safe, Reliable Companies.
 Office in the Neal building—up stairs.
LOUISBURG
Carriage Shops,
 H. C. TAYLOR, Proprietor.

If your Carriage, Buggy, Wagon or anything in that line needs repairing and you want it done right, bring it to me, and if you want your Carriage or Buggy repainted in a first-class manner, bring it to me also. I have served my time under a first-class painter and wood workman, can therefore guarantee satisfaction in all work entrusted to me.
 I have a first-class black smith in the black smith shop who fully understands everything about his business, from shoeing a horse to ironing a fine buggy.
 It does not pay to have your work botched up, so bring it along to me where it WILL BE DONE RIGHT, my prices are reasonable.
 I make Buggies and Wagons to order. If you want a good Home-Made Buggy or Wagon, give me your orders, and you shall have what you want.
 Thanking my friends for their patronage in the past and soliciting the same in future, I am, Yours very respectfully,
 H. C. TAYLOR.
