NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.

The partnership heretofore subsisting un der the firm name of Lancaster & Co., between M. V. Lancaster and J S Lancaster. has this day by mutual consent been dissolved. The stock of goods, wares and merchandise, store fixtures, accounts, evidences of debt and the good will of the firm of Lancaster & Co., has been sold to Mrs. Mary Λ. Lancaster, who will, under the same firm name, continue to conduct a heavy and fancy grocery business at the same stand. We thank our many patrons for their past liberal patronage, and bespeak for our successor a continuance of the same. This March 26th, 1897

M. V. LANCASTER, J. I. LANCASTER.

Having bought out the stock of goods, wares and merchandise, store fixtures accounts, &c., of the former firm of Lancaster & Co., as well as the good will, I beg to announce to the public that I will, under the same firm name and at the same stand, continue to do a heavy and fancy grocery business, keeping in stock a complete line of choicest and freshest goods, and selling them for cash at the closest prices. I ask for a continuance of the patronage so liberally given my predecessors.

MRS. MARY A. LANCASTER, Trading as Lancaster & Co. March 26th, 1897.

The arbitrary action of State Treasurer Worth in refusing to obey the law and to pay out money appropriated by the legislature is creating a public sentiment against him that may wind up in the election of a legislature that will impeach him and other State officers, who think they are above the law. Gov. Russell does not hesitate to pay out money to lawyers to fight the lease, in the face of the refusal of the legislature to pass a bill to allow him to make war in the courts against the Southern Railway. The latest is a payment to W. H. Day, a paid attorney of the Seaboard Air Line, of $350 to appear in the lease matter-this is too thin. Governor Russell is daft. The people will not stand idiosyncratic disregard of their rights. There has been too much of this foolishness already. The few kneecrooking Republicans who hang around him and the few populist pie hunters he has attracted to bim will not save him from the hands of an outraged people. They will send a Democratic legis'ature to Raleigh next time that will redeem the State from the disgraceful condition in which it now is, and put in some State officers who will obey the laws.

Gov. Holden's experience in suspending the laws ought to be lesson enough for any set of State officers. What do they elect an room in the house is large enough

Turn About.

While McKinley is pledged to civil service, he expresses the idea that "turn about is fair play" in reference to the distribution of pie not on the civil service menu. This is brought out in his refusal to appoint Bruce, of Mississippi Register of the Treasury, a position which he held under a former administration. The President is quoted as having said to Bruce:

"You have had your share. realize the strength of the colored Republican votes in this country and I recognize you as a leader of your race, but I have adopted a line of policy which chall pursue to the end. The men who have held office must wait for the men who have never been favored, but who deserve Federal recognition.

Commenting upon this, the Charlotte Observer remarks "that this will be a particularly bard blow to North Carolina Republicans, for there is hardly one in the State who has not heretofore been 'favored.' McKinley evidently means what he says, and there are squalls
