Another birthday in the family. There are are ten children and nineteen grand-children and somehow everyone of them has a birthday about once a year.

My wife remembers them all just like she knows the alphabet, but the alphabet kepes lengthening out as the years roll on and she says her memory is weaken-

There is but one orphan in all the lot-a little black-eyed girl who lives with us, and so it was agreed that she should have a birthday party. It was a mighty big thing for a little girl and will last her as long as she lives, I reckon, and she will never have a happier one. She goes to school and all her little friends had to be invited. Forty little notes had to be written and forty little envelopes had to be backed and put in the postoffice and this afternoon at 4 o'clock forty little boys and girls came up the winding way through the grove and in course of time were playing on the lawn as happy and as noisy as a flock of black birds. They played everything except baseball and football and other college curriculums and wound up with "many many stars are in the sky." broke into the ring myself in that game and kissed a pretty little girl and got kissed by another. Age has its privileges and these are of them. By and by the piano announced that the party was prepared, the feast was ready and so all these little folks were soon circled around the long table, and on the side tables were the ice cream and the strawberries and the cake and the flowers were nestled in luxuriant abundance. Eight little red wax candles were burning in the center and eight vases filled with flowers significant of hope that the little girl might have a light to her

My observation was that all these children behaved well and have good training at home. Of course the boys are always bungrier than the girls and it takes more to do them. It is said that one time the queen of Sheba had 40 boys and girls all dressed alike and brought in before King Solomon to see if his great wisdom could pick out the boys from the girls. And so the King called for bowls of water and towels and had them passed around for each one to wash their hands in. The girls carefully turned up their cuffs, but the boys just sloshed their hands in the water regardless of spattering their sleeves. But I would have sent ice cream around in saucers, for I know that the girls would be satisfied with two, while the boys, as a general rule, could be persuaded to take one more. I don't blame them. Good strawberry ice cream surely is a good thing and harmless and three moderate saucers have never hurt me yet. My wife will have another birthday in two weeks and I shall insist on more ice

Well, we have had an evolution at our house that has astonished the natives. We have five acres of grove in front of our house and it has long been enclosed with 700 feet of fence along the two streets that bound two sides of our domicile. That fence was getting old, and had been often repaired, but recently the city fathers passed the cow ordinance for good, and forthwith in a day I had removed every vestige of that fence. It looks very odd; in fact, it looks like South Carolina. My wife does not know whether she likes it or not; says the place looks undressed and she feels like taking cold, but bowels, adding strength and giving tone less be as good as his word. it will save me about $50, and that to the organs, thereby aiding nature in and she feels like taking cold, but J P Massenburg Propr is a big thing with us now.
