Perfection in Cake-Making.

Housekeepers frequently wonder why it is that they cannot make biscuit and cake that are light and palatable and that taste as delicious as the biscuit and cake made by their mothers and grandmothers, the delightful memory of which even to this day creates a sensation of pleasure to the palate. The trouble arises from the highly adulterated state of the materials they have to work with, particularly the cream-of-tartar and soda used to raise or leaven the food. Cream-of-tartar and soda that are now procurable for domestic purposes contain large quantities of lime, earth, alum and other adulterants, frequently from five to twenty-five per cent. and consequently vary so much in strength that no person can tell the exact quantity to use, or properly combine them, to insure perfect results. From using too much or too little, or because of the adul- that he owes much of his prosperity terants in them, bitter, salt, yel- to a lesson taught him by his emlow, or heavy biscuits or cakes are ployer. Why They Fail.

Some men fail to appreciate the value of advertising because they do not understand the principles that underlie it. Their experience may have been unfavorable through their ignorance of the art. Business men who put a card in the newspapers, and leave it there week after week and month after month without giving it fur. ther attention do not reap the benefits they would if they handled it with the same care they ordinarily give their show windows. A successful merchant does not fill up his display window with goods and leave them without a change month, and yet we sometimes find obtuse advertisers who do that with the space they occupy in the newspapers. - Newspaperdom.
