Don't Reprove at Bedtime.
 To send the children happy to bed should be one of the mother's most ordinary tasks. No little one should dread the bedtime hour, nor fear the dark, nor be allowed to go to rest under a sense of disgrace or alienation from household love. Whatever the child's daytime naughtiness may have been, at night he should be forgiven and go to rest with his mother's kiss on his lips, and her tender voice in his ears.

Hardly anything can be worse for a young child than to be scolded or punished at bedtime. The mother does well to be a little blind at some things, remembering that a good deal of childish culpability is superficial only, and washes off almost as easily as does the dirt which the evening bath removes from the skin.

The main thing with children is to have them well started with good principles, which they will carry through life. Obedience, truth, unselfishness, purity, are essentials, and these can all be lovingly cultivated, and will flourish in the right home atmosphere.
 When the nursery brood is un-dressed and in bed, the lights turned low, the room quiet for the night, the mother, or nurse, or elder sister, or the kind auntie, who is still found in some fortunate houses, should have a little fund of stories on which to draw for the small listeners' pleasure before they embark on the train for dreamland.

Imagination is very active in little children, and occasionally one meets a mother who does not understand the child's world, having forgotten her own early days and their illusions, or who is afraid that fancies and its image-ries will lead her child into deceit. While the most exact and rigid truthfulness should be practiced in our dealings with children, and they themselves should be taught to shun equivocal and every form of lying still we need not fear to let imagination give them pleasure.

They early learn to discriminate between the false and the true—or perhaps it would be better to say they learn to find the truth wrapped in the husk of the story. The same stories with variations, have in all ages and climes, been taught to children, and they have their origin in the needs and heart of the race.
 Children thrive on stories, and are the better able to grasp other literature if early fed on these.

The Ideal Sleeping Room.

A bedroom may be luxurious in its appointments and furnishings and not be the most insular room in the dwelling. A heavy carpet upon the floor, trailing portiers and unwashable curtains, covers and cushions are not the ideal of daintiness for a room so important as a sleeping room.
 And, needless to say, the bed should occupy the most prominent position in the room, just where the air would seem to be the freshest, not pushed into a corner to better preserve the symmetry of appearance.

To sleep with the bed in a corner or the face against the wall neutralizes any beneficial effects to be derived from a night's rest. A sound, refreshing sleep, perfect rest, bright eyes and an improved complexion will accrue when the conditions are favorable, and, on the contrary, dull eyes, pale complexion and great lassitude will be the natural outcome of repose in an overheated, ill ventilated room or sleeping with the face close to a wall.

Most bedrooms are overfurnished.
 They are crowded not alone with furniture, but bric-a-brac and fancy articles that catch and hold particles of dust, in which disease germs often lurk.

The walls of a sleeping room should be smooth and clean, unincumbered with many pictures, for they also accumulate dust unless constantly removed and cleaned.

The floor should be painted or oiled, a rug for the center and several small ones for necessary places being the most desirable covering. Curtains of a certain should be washable, the dainty sash curtains against the glass being one of the prettiest as well as cleanest of arrangements, as they can be so easily removed and replaced.

Table covers, cushion covers, bureau and toilet stand covers should be of washable material that can be laundered and replaced, thereby keeping always an appearance of crisp daintiness.

If portiers are a necessity, there are many washable goods that make up charmingly and have the added merits of cheapness and durability.—Exchange.

Too Much Politics of Its Kind.

The Fayetteville North Carolina Baptist says: "We verily believe that North Carolina has more politics and worse politics than any State in the Union. And this spending of so much time and money on politics rather than on business, may have much to do with the condition of our State.
 After all, most of the politics amongst us is the whipping of voters into a ravine that the candidate may pass over on their bodies to enjoy the fruits beyond.
 North Carolina cannot prosper so long as the chief concern of the people is politics. All our industries suffer and sister States reap the benefits of our folly."

To which the Raleigh Post adds: Our contemporary is correct. Not since the dark days of Reconstruction has the politics of this State been on so low a plane as at present. Bad politics obtained power in 1896, since which time strife, contention, scandal in high places, ignorance if not worse, directed by personal and partisan malice, have been the rule. Interest and rights, however sacred, have been assaulted with a vengeance well calculated to alarm good people, and of course "all industries suffer and sister States reap the benefits of our folly." There is but one remedy, Bro. Baptist. Let all good citizens unite to redeem the State from the bad politics and worse politicians of the Russell Butler persuasion. Until that is accomplished no change for the well-being of the State need be expected; low prices for products of the farm, or the factory, will continue and business generally will simply hang upon uncertainty. Other matters may and should be considered, but the redemption of the State is of prime importance to the prosperity and contentment of the people.

From all over the country, come words of praise for Chamberlain's cough remedy. Here is a sample letter from Mrs. C. Shep. of Little Rock, Ark.: "I was suffering from a very severe cold, when I read of the cures that had been effected by Chamberlain's cough remedy. I concluded to give it a trial and accordingly procured a bottle. It gave me prompt relief, and I have the best reason for recommending it very highly, which I do with pleasure." For sale by W. G.
 Thomas, druggist, Louisburg, N. C.

Inquiry unsettles error and establishes truth.

For some time, I have suffered with rheumatism and tried every medicinal remedy, without effect. Mr. F. G. S.
 Wells advised me to try Chamberlain's pain balm, and I have the best reason for recommending it very highly, which I do with pleasure. For sale by W. G.
 Thomas, druggist, Louisburg, N. C.

A spiritual mind dwells much on spiritual things.

The past is the schoolmaster of the future.

"I can say one thing for Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy, and that is that it excels any proprietary medicine I have seen on the market, and I have been in the practice of medicine and the drug business for the past forty years," writes J. M. Jackson, M. D., Bronson, Fla. Physicians like Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy because it is a scientific preparation, and because it always gives quick relief. Get a bottle at W. G. Thomas' drug store, Louisburg, N. C.

How Does this State of Affairs Strike You?

Warrenton Record.
 Last Saturday at the mass meeting of the Republicans of this county, the crowd composed almost exclusively of colored people, Mr. C. A. Cook in making a red hot Republican speech made this remark: "My friends, when you go to make up your ticket to be voted for this year, be sure and fill every place with a Republican.
 If you find that you have any position that you haven't a Republican competent to fill it, then nominate a Populist for that place, if he is all right, but under no circumstances nominate a Democrat for any position. Leave the place open if you haven't a Republican or Populist to fill the place." Mr.
 Cook said this with great emphasis and enforced this idea with all the vehemence in him. We could but shudder as we thought what this white man's words meant to the white men, women and children of this county.

Think a minute. What does this mean for Warren county and every other county in the black district? The picture is horrible to contemplate. It means no more white officers, from township constable up to District Solicitorship, Superior Court Judge, and Congressman. It means for Warren county, not a single white constable in the county; not a single white magistrate in the county; not a single white man on the Board of Commissioners. It means that our next Clerk of the Superior Court, Sheriff, Treasurer and Supervisor of Schools will not be white men.

What a terrible state of affairs this would be, if Mr. Cook's advice is followed! It would inevitably lead to just such a state of affairs, because there are not a half dozen white men in Warren county who are pronounced Republicans, so far as we know, and we think we are posted along this line.

White men of Warren county and of the State, how does this strike you? Who is responsible for this state of affairs? Who made it possible for Warren county and the entire black district of the State to thus have the Anglo-Saxon race ruled and humiliated? Let every white man's conscience answer.

We sincerely hope that the good colored men of the county will not follow Mr. Cook's advice entirely, and thus humiliate the Anglo-Saxon race.

May the spirit of 1876 take hold of the white men of the State, and may the shades of the immortal Vance protect us.
