AN ADDRESS.

To the Farmer and Former Members of the Farmers' Alliance in North Carolina.

Feeling that the time has come for general revival and reorganization of the Alliance in this State, the undersigned were, at the recent session of the North Carolina State Alliance, appointed a committee to draft an address to the farmers of the State:

This is an epoch of organization remains unorganized is at the mercy of those united in organization. Eleven year ago the farm ers of North Carolina, realized this fact, joined hands in an effort to promote their interests "mentally, morally, socially and financially." When the jute bagging trust attempted to oppress us, the farmers defeated it and it was glad to sell its product at the old price or for less. We could deal with any trust now existing as we did with the jute bagging trust, if we had the same united co-operation of the farmers of the country.

The social condition of the farmers and the period of neighborly good feeling for and association with each other which then existed has never been equaled in the history of the State. Families that had lived near each other for years became acquainted, unfavorable opinions of neighbors were found on acquaintance to be unfounded and their worth learn. ed and appreciated. The people by associating together and exchange of ideas were benefitted in economical relations of the country. their business in all departments. But the farmer, while an import-By co-operation the 108 per cent ant class, is not the only useful for a few months' credit was destroyed and needed supplies bought at reasonable prices for cash or good security.

by difference of opinion on political questions. The merchants, bankers, railroaders, mill men, lawyers, etc., have organizations to promote the interests of their respective line of business. When their assemblies convene no one is made to feel uncomfortable on account of a difference of political views, but their consideration is directed to the advancement of the business in which they have common interest. Why should it not be so with the farmers? Is there anything beneficial gained by the wild horses on the Western plains, which when attacked, turn their heads together and use their heels upon their enemies, and in imitating the conduct of an animal details in farm work, etc., and the ish. And financially, the Alliance is in a healthy state. Although some mistakes have been made. our Executive Committee and Business Agency have straightened out business and we now have over $9,000 in North Carolina 4 per cent. bonds and cash, besides our property at Headquarters near Hillsboro. The N. C. F. S. Alliance has, for the present, severed its connection with the National Order, and is governed only by its own constitution and regulations. Should it ever become desirable to resume connection with the National Alliance it can be done,

In some sections of the State there is a contention for a new farmers' organization. Under the liberal charter granted us by the State, the Ailiance can be made to accomplish anything desirable we may wish. There is certainly no need for a new organization. It will be far better to re-organize the Alliance, avoid the mistakes of the past and live up to its prin ciples in a spirit of fraternity and and French. Paul Kruger, called
