RICHMOND TO TAMPA.

CELEBRATION OF THE COMPLE-TION OF THE GREATER S. A. L.

Editor Robinson, of the Durham, Sun Writes interestingly of the Events Attending the First Through Train gars and a box of cigarettes and to Tampa.—Great Enthusiasm Manifested Along the Route.

The greatest event in the history of the revived, re-organized and new Seaboard Air Line system, was the completion of the line from Richmond to Tampa, Fla., and the driving of a gold spike in Richmond Saturday afternoon. This system, now embracing 2,600 miles, and the events attending the first through train awaken new enthusiasm in Southern railroad circles, and means much to every point where this line touches.

The first train, in two sections, containing the officials, directors and invited guests, made the trip from Richmond to Tampa, Fla., in the most highly successful manner. There was not an accident, or anything to mar St. John. the remarkable scheme inaugurated by his associates. The train was made the S. A. and every thing along the entire line _ | Southern development. making the people its guests, instead of accepting hospitality from them.

Raleigh's welcome, Saturday morning, was most cordial, and some 250 sat down to a most sumptuous break fast. Here the most encouraging words were spoken by railroad men and citizens, that gave promise of greater results and a brighter future for the Seaboard Air Line, Raleigh equalled the demonstrations at other places. The party lunched at Petersburg, a few minutes after 2 o'clock, and rep resentative citizens of that city were the guests. Here was also manifested great spirit of enthusiasm for the S. A. L. On the way to Richmond, frequent stops were made by people gathering at wayside stations to see Prisident Williams, and shake hand. He spoke to them for a few minutes, and held informal receptions. When we arrived in Richmond it seemed as if the whole State of Virginia-God bless her!-had turned out to greet the achievements of a cit izen of her city, which is the most brilliant in these closing days of the 19th century. Amid great enthusi asm and in the presence of an immense crowd, and accompanied by the boom of of cannon, firing of salutes by the military, blowing of innumerable whistles, and music of several bands, waiving of handkerchiefs, and hats, huzzahs from thousands of throats, the final act in the completion of the driving of the spike. The spike was of the regulation size and after the ceremony of driving it was over the visitors were driven to the capital square, where speeches were made by Governor Tyler, Z. L. Morris, president of the chamber of commerce; Mayer Taylor, General Joe Wheeler, John Skelton Williams, and FRANKLINTON HOTEL other officials of the road. It may be objected by friends of the administration that this is not specific charge, but if the Presiden should order an inquiry Mr. Jones would probably be able to introduce some interesting-testimony. The New York Tribune states that John R Hazel, whom Mr. McKinley recently nominated to be judge of the United States Court for the Western District of New York, received a fee of $5,000, for his influence in securing the pur chase of the yacht "Enquirer" by the Navy Department. The government paid $80,000 for thiss vessel, spent $5,000 in repairing it, used it for only a few weeks and now offers to, "sell" for $25,000 -less than one-third of the purchase price.

Greater Seaboard system took place. When the train came to a standstill Master John Skelton Williams, Jr., the three-year-old son of the President dressed in a white duck suit, a white cap, and a pair of white kid gloves with the letters S. A. L. on his cap and jacket, looking as sweet as a newblown Marshal Neil rose, and as beautiful as a picture of art, with a silver hammer drove the gold spike into the place prepared for it, which connected with the telegraph wires and signal. ized the opening of the road at every station along the entire system of 2,600 miles. At every station along charges like those made by Mr. Jones the line between Richmond and Tampa the operators hoisted fligs over ferred against any department of his the stations immediately after the
