CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought MRS. REBECCA P. DAVIS.

Before this country was through with its contest with the mother country there was born, on January 23rd, 1812, near Ridgeway, Warren county, N. C., an infant girl whose maiden name was Pitchford, whose life was destined to remind her sex that they too could make their lives sublime, and leave behind them foot-prints on the sands of time. After having almost comprehended a century within the scope of her life this person, sister Rebecca P. Davis, reached the mortal end of a most eventful life, in Louis-

When about 16 years old, on December 23rd, 1829, she was led to the marital altar by Edward Davis, one of Warren county's noblemen, who a few years ago preceded her to the world of immortal spirits. Of this happy marriage were born eight children, five of whom, one daughter and four sons, still remain to bless and honor their family name. Four of their sons volunteered their services in the bloody conflict of 1861-65, two of whom, Capt. Weldon E. and Thomas

E. Were martyrs to "the lost cause." While quite young sister Davis identified herself with the Methodist Epis. copal church, South, which she loved dearly and of which she remained a faithful member until she was summoned, by God's messenger, to cross the flood and join the numberless throng of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, whose honor it shall be to stand before the throne of God and before the Lamb clothed in white robes and palms in their honor and the glory of their salvation unto our God who sitteth upon the throne and unto the Lamb forever. She must be so very happy there with the great and the good of all nations and ages forever blest; "where the wicked cease from troubling, and the

In a quiet and unassuming manner she followed in the foot-steps of her Lord in expressing her sympathies for the poor and unfortunate. Her leters of sympathy will be cherished as precious heirlooms by many to whom she has thus gone as an angel of love and mercy in their distress. I have heard reference to the uniquely precious and appropriate letters which she had written to those whom she knew to be passing through the deep waters and under the dark shadows of some be-
