ELECTRIC TOWER AT THE PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

Copyright, 1900, by the Pan-American Exposition Co.
 The dignified and stately beauty of the great Electric Tower, which will form the conspicuous centerpiece of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo May 1 to Nov. 1, 1901, will command the rapid admiration of every visitor. The entire exterior of the 300 foot high tower will be studded with electric lights.

SERVICE BUILDING AT THE PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

Copyright, 1900, by the Pan-American Exposition Co.
 The large Service building at the Pan-American Exposition, to be held in Buffalo from May 1 to Nov. 1, 1901, was completed in 32 working days and was the first building erected on the grounds. It is the present home of a large corps of officers and employees having immediate charge of the constructive work of the Exposition. This handsome building is 95 by 145 feet, two stories high. In it are the offices of the director of works, the landscape architect, superintendent of building construction, purchasing agent, chief engineer, mechanical and electrical engineer, with their numerous assistants.

ETHNOLOGY BUILDING, PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

Copyright, 1900, by the Pan-American Exposition Co.
 One of the handsome structures at the great Pan-American Exposition, which is to be held in Buffalo from May 1 to Nov. 1, 1901, will be the Ethnology building. It will contain an exhibit of unusual interest to all Americans. Ethnology is the science which treats of the division of mankind into races, their origin, distribution and relations and the peculiarities which characterize them. At Buffalo the Ethnology building will be a veritable mine of information concerning the countries of North and South America. This will be peculiarly appropriate for the reason that the Exposition is a Pan-American, or All-American, event, and everything of interest concerning the various nations inhabiting the new world discovered by Columbus will be represented by an interesting exhibit in Buffalo when the Exposition's gates open on May 1, 1901. Strange to relate, the most interesting exhibits concerning several countries in South America are already in this country. Peru, for example, will send many interesting exhibits to the Pan-American Exposition and will use her influence to have exhibited in her section the remarkable collection of Peruvian antiquities now owned by various American museums.

It Happened in a Drug Store.
 "One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by W. G. Thomas.

LETTER FROM GOV. JARVIS

Announcing his Candidacy for the Senate.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Sept. 19, 1900
TO THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS AND PEOPLE:

I have so long enjoyed the courtesy and kindness of the Democratic Press of the State that I confidently ask the use of its columns for a word with the Democratic voters. I shall publish this letter in my home paper and I respectfully and earnestly request all Democratic papers to give it to their readers. I am so confident they will do me this favor, no matter whom they prefer, that I beg to thank them in advance.

On the 4th of March, 1901, some Democrat will take his seat as the Senator from North Carolina, in the greatest deliberative body on earth. Who that man shall be is for you to say. It is the first time in the history of our party, in this State; when you have had the opportunity of determining such a question by a direct vote, at a primary election, held for that purpose. For one I believe in this method of indicating our party's choice for Senator; and I trust this Primary, in all its phases from start to finish, will be conducted in a manner so fair and honorable as to be free from complaint and above criticism; and that the system will commend itself to all fair minded Democrats who believe in the rule of the people. I feel a special interest in the success of this system because I believe I was the first man in the State to publicly advocate it. Since then it has grown in popular favor, till at the last State Convention of our party, it was adopted and ordered to be held. I therefore beg modestly to say that I would be glad to be the first Senator chosen by this method and I hereby announce myself a candidate for that high honor.

In making this announcement I am aware that I am aspiring to a high and responsible position. A Senator is not only charged with the duty of taking part in the discussions and determination of great questions of national importance, but he is a part of the treaty making power, and upon his action may depend important events in our foreign relations. There are but few fields which open up so great opportunities for labor, usefulness and honor as the Senate of the United States. I trust I properly appreciate the dignity and the importance of the position I am seeking.

I am also aware that it has been the policy of our State to choose her most experienced and best equipped men for this high position and these grave duties. The fact that these men had already held high offices was not a hindrance but a help to their selection. From this class of her distinguished citizens our State has chosen men who became great Senators and whose services are a part of our country's history. While I cannot hope to reach the eminence held by them I shall constantly endeavor, if chosen, to attain a position creditable to myself and honorable to my State. And may I not point to my brief service in the Senate as an earnest of my constant effort to serve my State and her people faithfully and well.

I sometimes hear it said that I have already had the party's support, and the people's honors to a remarkable degree, and that I ought to retire to private life. I acknowledge with feelings of the profoundest gratitude that I have been greatly honored, but I affirm that I have tried to be true and faithful to the public interests in every trust that has been confided to me. While the fact that I have held these positions is being urged as a reason why I have had all I deserve, may it not be said in my behalf that the training and experience I gained in them have only the better qualified me to discharge the grave duties which devolve upon a Senator.

I also hear it said that this is the day of the young Democracy. I do not understand by this that the day has come, in the history of our party, when the door of honorable reward is to be closed to those who have been faithful and true in storm and in sunshine and who have fought its battles in the days of its adversity and defeat as well as in the days of its prosperity and victory. While the Democratic party always has and always will fittingly reward its young men, it never has and never will, in my judgment, close its doors to its faithful veterans. The young worker of to-day will be the veteran of to-morrow and the party will, in the plenitude of its opportunities, do justice to both and fittingly reward each. If therefore, I have ceased to belong to the young Democracy and have become one of the party's veterans, I do not believe that a generous and just people will allow me to be cast aside on that account.

If this coveted prize is to be the reward of party service then I may, I believe, ask to be allowed to enter the race. For more than a third of a century, I have been in the thickest of our party's battles, and the several campaigns from 1865 to 1900 will testify to the fact that I have worked as hard for party success when I was not a candidate as when I was. Indeed I have only twice been the nominee of the party in the State at large for office, once in '76 when I was a candidate for Lieutenant Governor and in '80 I was a candidate for Governor, but there has not been a State campaign since '65 in which I did not take an active part, and do my full share of the work, except the campaigns of '86 and '88 when I was out of the country. But, if the consideration of party service is to be limited to the last two campaigns then I believe I can make a respectable showing without detracting from the services of others. In these two campaigns all did their duty, as it was given to them, from our able and faithful Chairman down to the township worker—from the great dailies to the teeming weeklies—and no one man has a monopoly of the victory, our party won in its heroic and determined effort to establish and maintain good government in North Carolina.

I have not and shall not have one word to say against the worthy gentlemen who are contesting for this high honor. They have wrought well for their party and their State; and they deserve well of both. They have a right to be candidates if they desire, and I have no right to complain of them for it. We all have a common enemy whose policies tend to undermine and endanger the very foundation of this Republic, and which if not checked will in time convert it into an oligarchy, if not an empire. I shall reserve all my criticisms and denunciations for this common enemy—the Republican party.

This is the only and last word I shall have to say for myself. All the time I can spare from the duties upon which my daily support depends, will be given to speaking for Bryan and Stevenson and our candidates for the House of Representatives. While I would be glad to be chosen Senator, it is not the only thing that gives me concern. I believe that the triumph of our party in November is essential to the welfare of our country, and that the election of Bryan and Stevenson will mean the breaking of the tightening grip of the Trusts and the setting free of industries and individuals now endangered by them; and the bringing back the administration of our government to the safe moorings pointed out by Washington and Jackson.

I have no organization and I shall not try to affect one. I shall send printed tickets to our county Chairmen and request them to cause these tickets to be placed, through their various committees, as other tickets are at the various precincts convenient to the voters on the day of the Primary. This I am sure our county Chairmen and county and township Committees will cheerfully do, without any regard to their personal preferences; and I beg to tender them my thanks for this service. Having done this the matter so far as I am concerned is with the Democratic voters. It is for them to say who shall be Senator. While I shall hold in grateful remembrance those who may say a kind word for me or take any interest in any way, in my candidacy, I shall cherish no ill will towards those who may prefer another.

I am sincerely your obedient servant.
THOS. J. JARVIS.

 Does It Pay to Buy Cheap?
 A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Bosche's German Syrup." It not only soothes and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by W. G. Thomas, Druggist.
